GERMANS RECAPTURE ROROS

HITLER TO HAND WORLD ANOTHER SURPRISE TODAY

Message Drafted in Great Secrecy.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 26.—Fuehrer Adolf Hitler is planning a surprise for tomorrow.

A new German memorandum, prepared with unprecedented secrecy, will be read tomorrow afternoon in the chancellery by Hitler's foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop. The statement will be broadcast. Hitler may also speak at the meeting.

The secrecy which shrouded the preparation of the message was extraordinary, even for Berlin, where the art of staging surprises has reached new heights during the Nazi régime.

Wide Field of Conjecture.

The conjectures about the contents of the memorandum run the gamut from mere new charges about "Britain's war guilt" to the announcement of a new alliance among Germany, Italy, and Russia, accompanied with a last peace compromise offer under terms to be dictated by Germany and her allies.

To prevent any possible leakage, officials of the chancellery have been closeted in that pretentious building and not allowed to go home. Foreign journalists of small southeastern countries who enjoy the special confidence of the German government and other interpreters were summoned to one of the leading hotels in Berlin at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Released for Few Hours.

This evening they were released for a few hours, but they were ordered to return at midnight, when they were to be given texts of the memorandum to translate into their various languages. They were not to be allowed to leave until the conference starts tomorrow. Special Schutzstaffel guards were on duty at the hotel to see that nobody got close to the men who were to do the translating.

German diplomatic circles have felt for some time that the world was not paying enough attention to their assertion that England prepared for the invasion of Norway before the Germans started their campaign. They are eager to stress this view and, therefore, a number of skeptical observers assert tomorrow's conference will merely represent a new move in the war guilt campaign.

Nazi circles whispered this evening that "an important foreign visitor will come to Berlin in the course of the night." This immediately inspired discussion on the possibility of a visit by Premier Benito Mussolini or Vyacheslav Molotov, Russian foreign commissar. The reserve shown by officials naturally added to the conjecture floating about Berlin.

Threat of Bombing.

Germans have been stressing within the last 24 hours that the time may be near when Germany will issue the order for her planes to start wholesale attacks on England "as a reprisal for the British bombing of open cities such as Heide, in Schleswig Holstein."

Others assert that Germany has strengthened her positions in Norway to such a degree that Hitler feels he can afford to make a peace gesture "because the English must know how precarious their own position is."

FAST DAY CALLED BY METHODISTS FOR PEACE PLEA

Atlantic City, N. J., April 26 (AP).—The general conference of the Methodist church today called upon all its 7,856,000 members in the United States to do without Sunday dinner on June 2 and pray for "speedy termination of war."

The 776 conference delegates resolved to set the example by doing likewise this Sunday and contributing the money they would have spent to a fund "for the relief of human suffering."

"We urge that every Methodist follow the example of the general conference, in making a sacrificial offering," their resolution read. "We regard this period of fasting as a preparation for further sacrifices to be made during the continuation of this period of critical human need."

They resolved the fast day should be "a time of deep intercession for the suffering multitudes of other lands."

BRITISH BATTLE NAZIS IN NARROW ROAD IN NORWAY

Empire Forces Fall Back 20 Miles.

BULLETIN.

BERLIN, April 27, Saturday (AP).—Adolf Hitler today announced that the Norwegian government's attitude had created a state of war between Germany and Norway. Hitler's statement was made in a decree legalizing the appointment of Josef Terboven as governor of the occupied Norwegian territory. Germany previously had adopted the position that her invasion of Norway was "protective"—to prevent a similar step by Great Britain and France—and that there was no quarrel with the Norwegians.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, April 26 (AP).—A savage headon clash between German and British troops was reported in progress tonight along the narrow Gudbrandsdalen road northwest of Lillehammer in the central Norwegian fighting zone, with the result still in doubt.

The report of this encounter followed that of the border correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter that German columns had recaptured the hotly contested town of Roros in the valley of the Glomma river. Roros is some 100 miles northeast of Lillehammer and about 20 miles from the Swedish border.

Heavy fighting also was reported at several points 35 miles southwest of Lillehammer where Norwegian forces were reported to be making a stand.

Fight Along Highway.

Norwegian sources in Stockholm said that British troops advancing southeastward from Otta, and Germans, advancing northwestward from Ringebu, now are actively at grips with each other.

In the Roros sector Norwegian troops and British and French reenforcements were reported to have retreated almost 20 miles to the east.

Earlier, British, French and Norwegians had brought artillery into action to throw back German advance units to a point at least five miles south of Roros while British fighting planes and antiaircraft guns cut sharply into German aerial activity.

The British and Norwegians, moving down the Glomma river valley from Storen, 30 miles south of Trondheim, met the Germans at Roros.

Artillery went into action on both sides. The Germans suffered considerable losses and were driven back.

March to Strengthen Trondheim.

The Germans were advance detachments of a force following the railway line north from Oslo, 180 miles south of Roros, in an attempt to bring reenforcements to the German garrison at Trondheim and to draw a German line across central Norway.

Paralleling the German advance up the Osterdal, the valley of the Glomma, another German force was reported driving north thru the Gudbrandsdal valley farther west. This advance was fighting British, French, and Norwegian units near Ringebu, some 160 miles south of Trondheim.

[A British war office communique said the allied forces, in heavy fighting south of Dombas, were forced to make "limited withdrawals." Dombas is 50 miles north of Ringebu.]

Tonight's report gave evidence that the British, French, and Norwegians now are better equipped in aerial defense than they were during the early stages of the war.

Get Antiaircraft Guns.

The presence of British pursuit planes in the Trondheim sector brought a sudden abatement in German air activity there as well as farther north. At Namsos, British-French landing point 80 miles up the coast from Trondheim, the installation of antiaircraft batteries reduced German bombings to a minimum.

One account told of a German plane that was shot down after a dog fight with three British planes near the Swedish border.

The British furthermore were reported to be bringing up units of their fleet to support the attack on Trondheim, port and railhead which holds the key to central Norway.

A Norwegian army communique said that in western Norway the Germans advanced toward Voss from Ulvik, above Bergen, and along the railroad running east from Bergen Thursday.

North of the arctic circle, at the ore port of Narvik, no more than 500 Germans were reported holding on valiantly in mountain positions around the town.

THE FUTURE OF EUROPEAN DEMOCRACY?

Lucas Flouts Merit Law to Play Politics

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 26.—Invoking the privilege of senatorial courtesy, Senator Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.], has blocked the appointment of a postmistress at Industry, Ill., in McDonough county, as being personally objectionable to him.

Representative Anton J. Johnson [R., Ill.] called attention to the Lucas' achievement today as an example of the operation of the New Deal's so-called merit system for postmasters.

Almost a year ago, there was a civil service examination for postmaster at Industry and Mrs. Clara Toland received the highest score. Her sister, Miss Belle Merrill, was third, and the incumbent, Paul Janes, who had filled the unexpired term of his resigned predecessor, was fifth. Janes was a Farley postmaster.

Open Examination Provided.

The present law, passed with great pretension of virtue under the Roosevelt administration, provides that in case of vacancies an open, competitive examination shall be held, and the postmaster general may recommend any one of the three highest ranking applicants for appointment.

Nothing was done about the appointment, Representative Johnson said, until last fall.

"Then," he related, "some of the Democratic politicians at Industry came to the two women and offered them $10 apiece to withdraw. The women were told that they might as well take the $10 and withdraw because they didn't have a chance. If they had agreed, they would have put Janes, the Democrat, in third place and on the eligible list. The women refused. Later a stranger appeared and told them to name their price. They told him they were not for sale."

Letter Brings Action.

Thereupon Johnson wrote to W. W. Howes, first assistant postmaster general, setting forth the facts and demanding to know what Howes intended to do. Howes replied, on Feb. 27, that, "Mrs. Toland having been certified by the civil service commission as the highest eligible, steps have already been taken to submit her name to the President for the nomination."

Mrs. Toland was nominated by the President, but the senate rejected the nomination yesterday, at the request of Senator Kenneth McKellar [D., Tenn.], postoffice committee chairman.

"I inquired at the committee as to the reason for this and was told Senator Lucas had blocked the confirmation on the ground Mrs. Toland was personally objectionable to him," said Johnson today. Senator Lucas confirmed this. He refused to explain, other than to say the nominee was personally objectionable to him.

Blames Unfair Politics.

Industry, Ill., April 26 [Special].—Mrs. Clara Toland said tonight Senator Scott W. Lucas' opposition to her appointment as postmistress here is the result of unfair politics.

"There could be nothing personal in his antagonism because I don't know the senator—I've never even seen him," she asserted. "From the way they tried to get me to withdraw, my suspicions as to why I'm objectionable to Lucas aren't very nice.

"The sentiment in this town is wholeheartedly in my favor. Last fall a petition in my behalf was circulated among both Democrats and Republicans here, and out of 374 to whom it was handed, 347 signed. More than 50 persons wrote to Senator Lucas requesting him to support my appointment."

Five thousand kites were entered in the preliminaries by 80 parks thruout the city. Three hundred and seventy-two passed the semi-finals last Saturday. Children from 5 years old to men in the 70s were among the contestants.

SET CLOCKS FORWARD TONIGHT AS CITY GOES ON DAYLIGHT SAVING

The 22 year old practice of setting clocks forward one hour takes place in Chicago at 2 a. m. tomorrow, the official advent of daylight saving time. Thus Chicagoans will receive a total of 154 extra hours of sunlight until Sept. 29, when timepieces will be moved back again.

Suburban trains, as in former years, will operate on Chicago daylight time, but most of the thru trains, the air lines, and bus companies will continue on standard time. All three of the transportation systems plan additional and speedier runs during the summer months, officials announced.

All suburbs in Cook and Lake counties and most of the cities and towns of Kane and Will counties also will make the change, as in the past. Thruout the nation, the new schedule affects more than 30 million persons in 15 states.

Boy in Throes of Puppy Love Slays Girl, 16

Abington, Pa., April 26 [Special].—A wide eyed schoolboy, charged with murder in the death of a girl classmate, blurted out to his college instructor father tonight that he shot "because I loved the girl."

Robert D. Heineman. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

One bullet from a .32 caliber pistol hit 16 year old Edith Snyder in the back and pierced her heart last night as she sat studying in the living room of her modest home.

Today the schoolboy, 16 year old Robert D. Heineman, confessed to police that it was he who crept upon the darkened porch, took aim, and fired the fatal shot thru a window. Assistant District Attorney David E. Groshens said the boy admitted shooting because he was "jealous."

Confronted by Father.

After hours of questioning by police Robert was brought face to face with his father, a physical education instructor at Temple university in nearby Philadelphia and a former high school teacher in Peoria, Ill., and Lafayette, Ind. They met in a public hearing room of a justice of the peace after the boy was held without bail at a brief arraignment.

Tensely the father asked:

"Did you do this?"

"Yes, I did," the boy replied.

"Why did you do it?"

"Because I loved the girl."

Groshens said the boy told him:

"I was jealous. I was in love with her and she had dates with other boys. On Sunday she told me she had met the most wonderful boy in the world. I couldn't stand it."

Threatening Letter Found.

Robert's arrest followed the discovery of a note from him in Edith's purse, along with about 100 other notes such as might pass between a boy and girl in school. One missive, signed "Bob," read:

"It is imperative that I see you at the end of the fifth period. If I don't see you some one will die."

Police said Robert related that he had stolen an automobile to drive to Edith's home. On the way he picked up a friend, Sidney Walker, 16, drove him a few blocks in the car, and then let him out.

"I told Sidney I was going to scare

Racer's Love Life Bared by Lady Campbell

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 26.—Lady Dorothy Campbell today lashed back at her speed king husband, Sir Malcolm Campbell, in their counter divorce actions, charging she had heard him invite their son Donald to go along on a tour of the more gilded bagnios. She added Sir Malcolm had boasted of how he had seduced the waitress who once had served his son lunch.

On another occasion, she said, the racer showed their grown daughter a French make watch which revealed a nude couple when the case was opened.

Campbell and his son, both weeping, stormily denied the charges. Leaning from the witness stand, Lady Campbell snapped at them, "Don't you gloat over me."

Seeress Takes the Spotlight.

Tho her doctor yesterday said she had suffered a nervous breakdown—a breakdown brought on by hearing Brian Lewis, son of a millionaire lord, testify he had been her lover so long he could not remember exact dates—Lady Campbell made a lightning recovery to appear in court today. The judge had ruled yesterday that he would hear the case without her if she were unable to attend.

Today's star, however, was Soothsayer Thelma Harrison, a shriveled, 64 year old seeress, who admitted she had acted as chatelaine of two love nests for Dorothy and young Lewis. One was a flat in the suburbs and the other was a country cottage, where the lovers retired during four years of secret wooing.

Trips to Paris Are Told.

The seeress said Lewis paid her only $75 a month to maintain these bowers, but admitted she was tapping Sir Malcolm for financial aid at the same time she was acting as superintendent of his wife's affair.

When Lady Campbell's lawyer called the soothsayer a blackmailing scoundrel she bounced about on the stand, protesting that for a long time, during trips to Paris, where Lews and her ladyship shared communicating bedrooms, she did not know any sinning was going on.

"That does poor credit to your occult powers," said Campbell's attorney.

Mrs. Harrison, tucking a fur piece closer around her wrinkled throat, finally wilted under the charge she had received $450 as a "sweetener" from Campbell's lawyer before the hearing.

Pretty Blonde Talks, Too.

A pert and pretty blonde housemaid, Joy Higginson, testified about a scene she witnessed between her mistress and Bruce Keith, junior corespondent.

Lady Campbell, who had found the pace pretty swift, was excused from cross-examination until Monday, when she will have to face Sir Patrick [Tiger] Hastings, Campbell's lawyer, who is rated as the toughest griller at the English bar.

During the two days of spicy testimony it has been necessary to lock the courtroom doors a few minutes after their opening to keep out milling crowds.

Briton Who Stabbed Judge Gets 5 Year Prison Term

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 26.—Henry Ballantine Best, who stabbed Judge E. C. Burgis, chairman of the Lancashire county tribunal, a few weeks ago, was sentenced today to five years' penal servitude. Best became enraged over the refusal of the court to accept his application as a conscientious objector and assaulted the judge in a railroad station. The judge was seriously wounded, but recovered.

TELLS OF NLRB SCHEME TO PAD FACTS IN CASES

Ex-Official of Board Accuses Saposs.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 26.—A former employé of the National Labor Relations board testified before a house committee today that he and other trial examiners were instructed at a conference in Washington to "build up" the record in cases against employers.

Mapes Davidson. [A. P. Photo.]

The witness, Mapes Davidson, who testified before the special committee investigating the labor board, resigned on March 17 with a letter to the board accusing it of fostering communism.

In his testimony today Davidson denounced Frank Bloom, acting chief trial examiner of the NLRB; Nathan Witt, board secretary, and David J. Saposs, the board's chief economist, as "Red radicals."

Saposs, Davidson testified, told trial examiners that when an employer engaged in welfare activities for his employés he usually indicated by the practice that he was antiunion and that such evidence should be included in the record of NLRB cases.

Saposs Funds Restored.

Funds for the continuance of the division of economic research, headed by Saposs, were restored in a bill, passed by the senate today, which appropriates 1 billion dollars for the department of labor, the Federal Security agency and related activities.

The house refused to appropriate any money for the Saposs unit as a result of revelations by the Dies committee on un-American activities and the Smith committee, which is investigating the labor board.

Davidson said he was working on a case at the board offices in Washington on March 14 when Bloom, the acting chief trial examiner, came in and said: "Boys, we've got a real treat for tomorrow! We're going to hear a lecture by our dear old friend, Dr. Saposs, on company unions."

"Dr. Saposs," Davidson said, "was a man I had never met personally, but he was known to me by reputation as a very Red radical."

Trial Examiners Called In.

Some 17 or 18 trial examiners who were in Washington at the time were notified to attend the conference with Saposs on March 15, Davidson said. His testimony continued:

"Saposs said, 'Gentlemen, as you all know, the board has been having some bad luck lately in the Circuit Courts of Appeals with company union cases in which there was no direct evidence that the employer had interfered with or coerced the employés. Now, the board having been reversed in some cases of that nature, I would like to point out what it is desirable to have in the record in cases of that sort.'

"Saposs said, 'Where there isn't any direct evidence of domination, great care should be taken to build up a complete background of employer history, any activities, even years ago, that might have been antiunion in character.'

Welfare Angle Cited.

"He said, in that connection, 'it is well to remember that it should be shown whether the employer has ever engaged in welfare activities among his employés, because the history of company unionism shows that employers who do welfare work are generally antiunion, and those who deal with the big unions do not bother with that sort of thing'."

Davidson said that one of the trial examiners present interrupted Saposs, as follows: "Well, we are supposed to be fair and impartial judges of the evidence. How can we be expected to get into the record all this material that you speak of, this background, this history?"

"Saposs," Davidson testified, "with a very unctuous smile and gesture, said, 'Well, gentlemen, I am not your immediate superior. Your immediate superiors will tell you how far you can go, how far you can project yourself into a picture of that sort."

Another trial examiner, according to Davidson, asked Saposs whether he thought a trial examiner, the board, or the courts "would have any right to base an order against an employer in a case in which there was no direct evidence whatever of company domination."

"Yes, if there is a sufficient history and background built into the record. I think that you and the board would be justified in drawing inferences from that sort of record and that the courts above might sustain those inferences," Davidson quoted Saposs as replying.

After his letter of resignation, in which he mentioned the Saposs conference, Davidson said, J. Warren Madden, chairman of the board, asserted that Saposs' speech was "in the nature of education."

"He would have been much nearer the truth if he had said, education in outrage,'" Davidson told the committee.

Tells of Resignation.

Davidson said he decided to resign as a result of the Saposs conference, and sent his letter to the board from his home in Jersey City, N. J., on March 17. Among other things he told the board that "your entire record is replete with rotten radicalism, but the crowning touch of perfidy was added last Friday afternoon when all trial examiners then in Washington were obliged to listen to Dr. Saposs."

Davidson also told the board that "some years ago he [Saposs] wrote articles advocating the seizure of factory property by workers under certain circumstances" and that these writings were "quite in keeping with your smelly Fansteel decision in which you sought to bestow a paternal benediction on sitdown strikes."

[Following a sitdown strike at the Fansteel Metallurgical corporation plant in North Chicago in February, 1937, the labor board found the company guilty of unfair labor practices and ordered the rehiring of 92 discharged sitdowners. On an appeal, carried to the United States Supreme court, the NLRB ruling was voided in February, 1939.]

In the same letter, which was read into the record today, Davidson said Saposs had been "a teacher in the 100 per cent communist organization, Commonwealth college, which was investigated by the state legislature of Arkansas," and that "his wife is said to be an enrolled communist."

After receiving Davidson's letter of resignation, the board sent him a telegram, signed by Secretary Witt, dismissing him "with prejudice and without accrued annual leave." Davidson replied that he could not understand "how even your board, with its scarlet record of unjust and tyrannical practices, can dismiss an employé who has already resigned."

AIR LINE CHIEFS OFF TO OBSERVE CLIPPER FLIGHT

R. T. Freng, director of flying for United Air Lines, and Walt Addems, eastern division flying superintendent, left Chicago yesterday for San Francisco, Cal., whence they are to make their first ocean flight—over Pan-American Airways' route to Honolulu.

The two are to go as official observers in the flight control room of the big Boeing Clipper ship where they are to observe Pan American's operating technique.

The flight is being made, it was said, to gain information in preparation for the day when United will be flying large four engined airliners. The company has ordered 10 production models of the Douglas DC-4 air liners with four motors for 1941 delivery.

140 SHIPS OF U. S. FLEET BACK FROM PACIFIC GAMES

HONOLULU, T. H., April 26 (AP).—One hundred and forty ships of the United States fleet swung at anchor tonight, back from the 1940 war games in Hawaiian waters.

The fleet, which began returning last night, will remain here 10 days before resuming the final phase of the maneuvers—a simulated attack on a theoretical enemy force approaching the west coast of the United States.

Admiral James O. Richardson termed the maneuvers—problem 21 to the navy—"highly successful" and praised the performance of the 42,000 officers and men. No serious casualty was reported during the exercises, which began early this month.

NEW DEAL FILM AGENCY CUT OFF WITHOUT PENNY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 26.—The senate today passed a bill appropriating 1 billion, 25 million dollars for the social security agency, the labor department, the Civilian Conservation corps, the National Youth administration, the National Labor Relations board, and other New Deal activities.

Altho the total is 4 million dollars above the house figure and exceeds the budget recommendations by 59 million dollars, the senate refused to appropriate $117,260 to save the United States film service, chief motion picture propaganda agency of the New Deal. The house likewise had rejected this item.

Meets Stiff Opposition.

An amendment by Senator Elmer Thomas [D., Okla.] to save the propaganda agency, which was rejected by a vote of 36 to 24, met greater opposition than any item in the billion dollar bill. After an extended, bipartisan attack on the administration's motion picture and radio propaganda enterprises, Senator Henry F. Ashurst [D., Ariz.] obtained passage of an amendment outlawing a decree issued by Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, which schedules fees to be charged for the taking of motion pictures on the public domain.

"Look up the record of bloody Joe Stalin and you cannot find such an arbitrary, unnecessary, irritating order," Ashurst declared. Ickes, he said, was offended one night when he saw a motion picture taken in a national park.

Thereupon Ickes issued his order forbidding the taking of motion pictures in the parks and on the public domain without his permission and without the payment of specified fees.

Levies $500 a Day.

"Under what authority does the secretary find the power to levy a charge of $500 a day for making motion pictures on the grazing lands of the United States?" asked Ashurst. "It is void, it is offensive, and in my judgment congress will sink to a pretty low state if such orders are allowed to be enforced.

"That is what we would call a short circuiting of the appropriating power of congress—to levy and collect taxes . . . the honorable secretary, lord paramount, presumes, and correctly presumes, that we have for so long, under the guise of some sort of an emergency, been silent as to these aggressions, there will be nothing said about this aggression."

Senator Robert A. Taft [R., O.] led the fight against the amendment to appropriate $117,000 for the United States film service, in the office of education, and was supported by Senator Kenneth McKellar [D., Tenn.].

"I think it is far beyond the functions of the federal government and it is particularly dangerous when films are simply produced in a general way illustrating functions of the federal government," Taft said. "I do not care who is controling the government, if you are going to produce films and put them out they are bound to become propaganda for the particular department that happens to be covered by the film."

Tells How Practice Started.

Taft explained that the government motion picture business started when the Resettlement administration, using relief funds, produced "The Plow that Broke the Plains." The Farm Security administration produced "The River," and more recently the United States Film service produced "The Fight for Life," at a cost of $150,000, he declared.

The senate voted the full amount approved by the house for the CCC—$380,000,000, or $50,000,000 more than the budget bureau requested. It voted $95,854,000 for the NYA, as compared with a budget estimate of $85,000,000

The bill includes 245 million dollars for grants to states for old age assistance. It includes $33,310,567 for the labor department, of which the wage and hour division is to receive $6,150,000, or $1,045,000 more than the amount voted by the house. The senate voted $3,071,000 for the labor relations board, while the house had allowed only $2,843,000.

Boats Speed Paper to Tribune

First Arrives

The Outarde, one of THE TRIBUNE'S Great Lakes fleet of seven pulpwood and newsprint carriers, docked in the Chicago river at 1:30 o'clock this morning, marking the 1940 season's first voyage from THE TRIBUNE'S paper mill at Thorold, Ont. The Outarde carried 2,020 tons of newsprint.

Close behind was the ship the New York News, carrying 2,388 tons of paper. The News docked at 3:45 a. m. These two vessels, with the five others now enroute or about to sail, were loaded with approximately 15,000 tons of newsprint.

The big motorship Chicago Tribune, carrying 3,181 tons, is scheduled to dock tomorrow night, and the motorship Franquelin, with 2,085 tons, is due Monday night. The three other vessels—the Shelter Bay with 1,260 tons, the Thorold with 1,290 tons, and the Heron Bay with 2,704 tons—will arrive during the week. Arrival of the fleet is staggered to facilitate unloading at the warehouse. Unloading runs at the rate of 200 tons an hour.

For the rest of the year the shuttle between Chicago and Thorold will be operated with three ships, the News, the Tribune, and the Outarde. The rest of the fleet will take over other jobs, including the carrying of pulp wood from Heron Bay, Ont., and from Shelter Bay and Franquelin, Que., to Thorold. Boats stopping at Franquelin also will visit Baie Comeau, across the English bay, to leave supplies for the town and THE TRIBUNE'S second paper mill there.

COUNTY TO FINISH MAILING OUT TAX BILLS BY TUESDAY

Mailing of 1939 tax bills to Cook county taxpayers will be completed Tuesday, County Treasurer John Toman said yesterday. All except 70,000 of the 600,000 real estate tax bills to taxpayers within the city have been mailed, he said, and the 595,000 realty bills going outside the city limits have been delivered to township collectors. The unmailed real estate bills will go out tonight, Toman said.

Of the 240,990 personal property bills, 145,537 or about 60 per cent have been mailed, and the remainder will be in the hands of taxpayers by Wednesday, Toman said.

The law requires that taxpayers receive their bills 30 days before the first tax penalty date, which is June 1 this year.

PRESIDENT CALLS ON SUBSISTENCE PROJECT GROUPS

Warm Springs, Ga., April 26 [Special].—President Roosevelt drove 20 miles over winding red clay roads to pay his semiannual visit to the Pine Mountain Valley resettlement project. This is a New Deal community of 182 families eking out an existence on 13,000 acres of indifferent land in the valley below the little White House.

The project is dear to the heart of the President in that it was inspired by him early in his administration. It was begun in the subsistence homesteads division of the old federal emergency relief administration, which was headed by Harry L. Hopkins, who later became WPA head and still later secretary of commerce.

Today Mr. Roosevelt complimented the residents of the valley on the progress they have made in rehabilitating themselves.

HEROISM MEDALS GIVEN HOUSEWIFE AND OIL WORKER

A Chicago housewife and an oil well worker from St. Elmo, Fayette county, were awarded bronze medals yesterday by the Carnegie hero fund commission at Pittsburgh, Pa.

The housewife is Mrs. Yolanda Fabbri, 24 years old, 2144 Congress street. Last July 2 she rescued Edward A. Dressden, 167 Hill street, and his daughter, Patricia, 2, when Dressden jumped into the lake at the foot of Delaware place with the child.

Zion Students Lose Right to Dance by Narrow Vote

The 510 students at the Zion high school lost their long fight last night to allow dancing in the school gymnasium. Superintendent William L. Davies said that of 430 parents who replied to a questionnaire on dancing, 216 were for it and 214 against. Because of this narrow margin and because some parents did not answer the questionnaire, the school board voted to continue the dacing ban.

HOUSE DEBATES FURIOUSLY OVER WAGE-HOUR LAW

Proposed Amendments to Aid Farmers Fought.

Washington, D. C., April 26 (AP).—The Barden amendments to exempt large groups of persons from the wage-hour law stirred a furious debate in the house today with opponents charging that they would lead to the economic "re-enslavement" of 1,000,000 or more workers and proponents replying that they were necessary for the farmer's welfare.

Debate, lasting for hours, centered on a provision in the Barden bill stating that the wage-hour law shall not apply to 16 operations connected with the processing and manufacture of farm products.

The discussion laid the groundwork for votes next week on whether many, few or no workers shall be exempted from the statute which now limits working hours to 42 hours a week and guarantees wages of 30 cents an hour.

Barden's Contention.

Representative Graham A. Barden [D., N. C.], pleading for the exemption of the farm processors, declared this was in the interest of the farmer because the present law increases processing costs, and the farmer "gets what's left" after the processor has deducted his costs.

Opponents, however, contended that the Barden amendments had a different aim than aiding the tiller of the soil. Representative Arthur D. Healey [D., Mass.], for one, declared that a "log rolling combination" of lumbering, cannery, and dairying interests were seeking to deprive 1,000,000 men and women of the law's benefits.

Party lines split. Republicans and Democrats spoke for and against the Barden proposals. Several, opposing them, said that amendments proposed by the house labor committee were as far as they would go now. These amendments would exempt some farm processors from hours restrictions but would leave the wage minimum unchanged.

No-Amendment Group.

Some said they wanted no amendments at all. Representative Matthew A. Dunn [D., Pa.], the house's only blind member, suggested that all amendments "be put to sleep for a year."

Both sides criticized Elmer F. Andrews, former administrator, for his administration of the wage-hour law.

There also was considerable talk about wages in the south and about Representative E. E. Cox [D., Ga.], leader of the forces seeking broad exemptions from the law.

Representative Richard J. Welch [R., Cal.] called Cox "a coalition antilabor leader" and the forces behind him "Cox's army, whose object is to deprive a million and a half workers of the protection of a law which requires the payment of a meager 30 cents."

Fears "Starvation Wage."

Welch added that these forces would "reënslave" these workers "to a starvation wage of 5 and 10 cents an hour."

"This army," he said, "should not be confused with Coxey's army, which came to Washington many years ago to plead the cause of the underprivileged.

"The enrollees in the gentleman from Georgia's army will have much more to answer for than the misguilded but well intentioned enrollees in the one time Coxe's army."

Representative Robert Ramspeck [D., Ga.], who also opposed Barden's amendments, said it was true that income in the south was lower than in other parts of the country and expressed belief that the wage-hour law would prove of benefit there.

"I am one of those from the south," he drawled, "who believes the time has come when the south cannot live on a different strata from the rest of the country."

$12.60 a Week.

Barden said he did not wish to reduce any one's wages below $12.60 weekly—"Lord knows that is too small for any man to live on in these days and times, but I'm sorry to say that millions actually have to live on that.

"If you are going to put a floor [of wages] under those who handle agricultural products," he continued, "then for God's sake do not put the farmer under that floor."

WHEELER SHIES AT MAKING RACE WITH ROOSEVELT

Third Term Advances Are Spurned.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 26.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] today spurned the suggestion of his nomination as running mate of President Roosevelt on the Democratic ticket.

There have been rumors in Washington for several days that the President is canvassing the Democratic timber for second place on the ticket with him. One report had it that Senator Wheeler had been sounded out by the President's emissaries on the proposed ticket of Roosevelt and Wheeler and that the senator had been invited to confer with Mr. Roosevelt on the matter as soon as the latter returns from Warm Springs.

Mr. Wheeler denied that he had been invited to the White House to discuss political or other questions and denied that he had been approached with reference to the vice presidential nomination.

New Dealers Gratified.

The New Dealers are intensely gratified by the progress of the third term boom. There no longer is the slightest doubt that the President will be renominated on the first ballot unless he declines to run for a third term. The impression is deepening that he will not decline.

His swing round the country in June is expected by the third term boomers to evoke a great popular acclaim of Mr. Roosevelt which on the eve of the Democratic National convention will constitute a build-up for a grand finale of the "Draft Roosevelt" movement. In such a setting the President then will yield reluctantly to the irresistible demand for his renomination.

Mr. Roosevelt recently declared for a "liberal" Democratic ticket fore and aft, thus serving notice that no conservatives need apply for the position of his running mate. With Mr. Roosevelt heading the ticket, second place would go to the west. Most discussed of western possibilities have been Wheeler and Paul V. McNutt of Indiana, who is federal security administrator.

Fought Court Packing.

It is not clear, however, that Wheeler ever has been restored to presidential favor since he led the successful fight against Mr. Roosevelt's undertaking to pack the Supreme court. McNutt also appeared to be in disfavor when Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes proclaimed that no liberal would support him. Moreover, the McNutt glamor has been tarnished by the scandal involving the Indiana 2 per cent slush fund that he founded when governor.

Wheeler wants it understood that he is a candidate for the nomination for President—in case Mr. Roosevelt declines to run.

"I would rather be a senator from Montana than Vice President of the United States," said Wheeler. "Anyhow, I am not old enough to be Vice President. A man ought to be over 60 to hold that office.

Fears War Propaganda.

"Domestic issues will be foremost in the coming campaign despite the war situation and the constant fear that we may be drawn into the conflict. The war in Europe cannot blot out the domestic questions and the economic situation in the United States. People in the United States are overwhelmingly against getting into the European war. While they are sympathetic with the allies and want to see them win, they do not want the United States to be drawn into the European war. I believe that 95 per cent of the people are sympathetic with the allies and 98 per cent are against getting into the war.

"But I am afraid after the next election propaganda will be renewed to get us into the war if the allies seem to be losing. I am opposed to our getting into the war now or after the election. If we can give the allies some financial support without being involved in the troubles of Europe, I would not object to it, but that would only be the first step in getting us into war. Undoubtedly an attempt will be made after the next election to repeal the Johnson act and extend credit to the allies.

"I am not opposed after the war is over for the United States to do what it can to restore the countries of Europe and put them on a peace basis."

Plunges to His Death from Loop Hotel Window

A man about 40 years old leaped or fell to his death early today from his fifth floor room in the El-Ray hotel, 217 North Clark street. Buckley of Shreveport, La. He was plainly dressed. He had no baggage.

15 MILLION TAX REFUND IN SIGHT ON 1938 LEVIES

Jarecki Voids 21 Pct. of County Assessments.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

Rulings yesterday by County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki on 1938 tax levies of Cook county's six major governments will result in tax refunds of more than $15,000,000 to approximately 200,000 taxpayers, if the rulings are upheld by the state Supreme court.

Judge Jarecki threw out as illegal a total of $39,009,445, or 21.3 per cent, of the six governments' total 1938 levies, of $183,005,810. Only those taxpayers, however, who paid their 1938 bills under protest and then joined in the tax objection suits in the County court will receive refunds of the Supreme court.

Only Few Get Refund.

Usually only about 16 per cent of the county's 1,200,000 taxpayers pay their bills under protest, but they pay approximately 40 per cent of the taxes, according to tax attorneys. The other 60 per cent of taxes paid without protest by the remaining 84 per cent of the taxpayers will not be refunded and the governments will go right ahead spending this money just as legal levies are spent.

Civic bodies have charged repeatedly that governmental bodies have knowingly voted illegal levies so that, even when the levies are invalidated by the courts, these governments, getting 60 per cent of the levies, get away with a big boost in their revenues.

Tax preadjustment laws, designed to give all taxpayers the benefit of tax reductions resulting from illegal levies, have twice been passed by the state assembly, but both times have been held unconstitutional by the state Supreme court. The 1939 preadjudication law was thrown out by the court last week.

Makes for Dual Rates.

Yesterday's County court rulings have the effect of taxing a minority of protesting taxpayers at a rate of $7.20 per $100 of assessed valuation, and the majority of nonprotesting ones at the original $9.12 rate.

Judge Jarecki's rulings struck most heavily at the city of Chicago. He held that $25,892,703, or more than one-third of its 1938 levy, was illegal. The actual 40 per cent loss in revenues resulting would exceed $11,000,000.

The original 1938 levies of the six governments, together with the amounts and percentage held illegal:

	1938 Levy.	Illegal.	Pct.
Bd. of Ed.	61,952,120	6,604,718	10.8
County	14,225,562	4,289,045	30.0
San. Dist.	15,467,657	779,592	5.0
Park Dist.	19,092,162	735,076	3.8

The invalidation of 1938 levies, equivalent to $1.92 per $100 of assessed valuation, represents the highest percentage of rates held illegal in the history of the county court, tax attorneys said. For 1937 Judge Jarecki ruled out 77 cents per $100 of valuation. These decisions have not been ruled on by the Supreme court. In 1936 Jarecki voided 38 cents, of which 19 cents was sustained by the Supreme court. The high court held 18 cents illegal for 1935, 34 cents for 1934, 32 cents for 1933, 58 cents for 1932, and 42 cents for 1931.

The largest single item ruled out for 1938 was $8,591,750, representing unpaid bills of the city of Chicago at the beginning of 1938. The court held it was illegal for the city to incur any current debts when it was over its constitutional debt limit of 5 per cent of assessed valuation. This ruling, if sustained by the high court, would force the city to do all business on a strictly cash basis and would make it illegal for the city to pay its creditors other than bondholders, attorneys said.

Bookie Fee Fiasco Hit.

A city item of $5,681,757, representing anticipated revenues from bookie license fees, was also held illegal. The bookie licensing ordinance passed by the city council was never enforced, so the anticipated revenue did not materialize.

Other city items invalidated: $3,700,000 levied for losses from abatements and deferred tax collections; $1,400,000 for a supplemental levy of the Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium not submitted to referendum as required by law, and $1,250,000 for anticipated revenue from judgments that could not, the court ruled, be expected to materialize in 1938.

The chief item knocked out in the school board's levy was $6,189,329 to cover abatements and deferred collections in all funds. The county government had $2,096,005 ruled invalid for failure to itemize unpaid bills of that amount and $718,997 knocked out that was appropriated for bridge and grade separations.

Voided on Technicality.

The forest preserve district's levy of $707,311 for improvement of buildings and gardens was ruled out for failure to itemize the appropriations properly. A $350,000 levy by the park district for "WPA expenses" was held illegal for not being fully itemized. The park district had levied $305,326 for its museum and aquarium. This, too, was ruled illegal. These levies, the court ruled, should have been included in the corporate levy. The chief adverse ruling against the sanitary district was for $537,092 on a levy held to be in excess of the legal rate.

Yesterday's rulings disposed of all except $10,982,935 of the 1938 tax rate objections. The remaining objections were continued until May 10.

Luella Gear and Bobby Clark as they appeared in "Fifth Row Center" broadcast from W-G-N last evening.

Bobby Clark and Luella Gear brought the hilarity that has placed them among the nation's favorite comedians to the "Fifth Row Center" program last night over W-G-N and the coast-to-coast Mutual Broadcasting system.

Clark played the husband and Miss Gear the wife in a rollicking farce, "Career in Matrimony," which ended happily despite a feminine charmer who was in love with Clark and a baron who was interested in Miss Gear. The comedians are appearing at the Grand Opera house in the musical revue, "The Streets of Paris."

STATE ELECTION CANVASS SHOWS GAINS BY G. O. P.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Republican gains in the April 9 primary were emphasized yesterday by the official vote canvass in Springfield. The total vote of both parties was established as 2,647,273. This was exceeded only by the record of 2,674,613 votes cast in 1936, the last comparable primaries.

The Democrats polled 93,807 fewer votes April 9 than four years ago. The Republicans made an increase of 66,467 over 1936.

The bulk of the Democratic losses were in Cook county, where the party's vote ran 75,580 below that of four years ago.

The Republican gains were nearly all downstate. The figures show the party gained 66,444 in the 101 counties outside Cook. In Cook county the gain was 23 votes.

Downstate Casts Bigger Vote.

Downstate Illinois voters this year cast 4,121 more primary votes in both parties than did Cook county voters. This was a reversal of four years ago when 119,653 more votes were cast in Cook county than in the downstate area.

Thus, the bulk of the Democratic loss was in the metropolitan area, while the Republican gain was downstate, largely rural.

Republicans cast 80,889 more ballots downstate than did Democrats. This was the first time since Gov. Horner went into office in 1932 that Republican votes exceeded Democratic votes in a primary downstate.

State Contest Totals.

	Cook county.	Downstate.	Total.
REP.	440,369	763,293	1,143,662
DEM.	881,207	622,404	1,503,611

In the official figures Dwight H. Green defeated Richard J. Lyons for Republican nomination for governor by 152,382 votes. Harry B. Hershey, on the Democratic side, won the nomination from Lieut. Gov. John Stelle by 331,150 votes.

N. U. OPENS MOCK CONVENTION TO PICK CANDIDATES

The sixth quadrennial mock political convention sponsored by Northwestern university students opened last night on Roycemore field, Northwestern campus. More than 1,500 students—1,069 of them delegates—crowded into a tent used as the convention hall.

The principal speakers were Ald. Paul Douglas of Chicago's 5th ward, and Benjamin Adamowski, who ran for the Democratic nomination for United States senator in the recent primary.

Presidential and vice presidential candidates will be nominated tonight. Principal speakers are expected to be Dwight H. Green, Republican nominee for governor, and Norman Thomas, Socialist nominee for President.

FILES PROTEST TO VOTE TALLY; HORNER ABSENT

Barrett Hits Legality of Canvass.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 26.—State Auditor Edward J. Barrett this afternoon protested the presence of Alexander Wilson, administrative secretary, on the state primary canvassing board as a substitute for Gov. Henry Horner. Thru his attorney, Lee Ensel, the auditor charged that the board was illegally constituted and lacked authority to certify the results of the April 9 vote.

Edw. J. Barrett [top] Alexander Wilson

The board, described by statute as consisting of the governor, the secretary of state, and state treasurer, met behind closed doors in the office of Secretary Edward J. Hughes.

After two hours, Hughes announced to waiting newspaper men that the board will proceed, regardless of the Barrett protest, to notify county clerks of primary winners to go on the November ballots. This action will be delayed, however, pending an omission in Cook county districts.

Hughes said the Cook county clerk had failed to certify returns for the late John A. Pelka, state representative who died after the primary, and for Representative Andrew Torrence, Chicago Negro legislator slain shortly before primary day.

Lewis Also Absent.

State Treasurer Louie E. Lewis, vacationing at Hot Springs, Ark., was also represented on the board by proxy, by his chief clerk, Roy Winterhalter. Barrett's brief, however, protested Horner's absence only, as it was prepared before Lewis' absence became known.

This brief, paving the way for any election contest that Barrett might initiate, cited Supreme court decisions in Illinois and in six other states in support of a contention that an administrative officer cannot delegate his official administrative acts. It was reminiscent of Lieut. Gov. John Stelle's primary charges that a sickroom regency is performing the chief executive's duties.

Barrett's action today was his first demonstration since the primary that he is still in the Stelle camp. In the April 9 balloting he shared with Stelle defeat by the Horner-Nash-Kelly ticket, headed by Harry B. Hershey of Taylorville for governor. As state auditor, controling state pay rolls, Barrett is in a strategic seat for any adjudication of the dispute as to whether the invalid governor or his lieutenant governor is the acting chief executive.

Mandamus Suit Hearing Friday.

The dispute over the governorship is expected to come to a head during the special session of the legislature next Tuesday. A hearing on a mandamus suit, filed in Bloomington by a Chicago taxpayer seeking a court adjudication of the governorship, today was set for next Friday.

In the meantime, both major political parties held perfunctory meetings of their state conventions here today, continuing their sessions until June.

A. K. Stiles, chairman of the Republican state committee, called his meeting to order and it was adjourned 30 seconds later to reconvene here subject to the call of a new chairman, probably on June 14. Stiles' term ends May 9 and he is not a candidate for reëlection. Ben L. Berve of Rochelle was mentioned prominently as his successor.

James J. Sullivan, acting chairman of the Democratic central committee since Hershey's resignation, presided at another meeting of similar brevity. A new chairman will be elected at a meeting here on May 8 and thereafter a call will be issued for the state convention to reconvene to draft a state platform and to select delegates to the national convention. June 10 is the likely date.

14 Cars Derailed

Railroad men found a wheel of the 21st car broken. That derailed it. As the car left the tracks, it damaged car 22. The damage eventually caused derailment of this car and cars 23 to 34. Their derailment caused the remaining cars at the rear come to a halt. Engineer M. Deisel, 4038 Elston avenue, applied the brakes and halted the front section of the train farther on.

$150,000 DEMOCRAT CONVENTION FUND IS 80 PCT. RAISED

About 80 per cent of the $150,000 pledged by Mayor Kelly to the Democratic national committee to bring the national convention here in July has been raised, Robert J. Dunham, president of the park board, said yesterday. Dunham offered to underwrite the city's bid for the gathering at the time bids were made in Washington. A check for $40,000 as part of the pledge was turned over by Dunham to Oliver Quayle, national committee treasurer, on March 19.

The money is being raised, Dunham said, by solicitations from various hotels, transportation companies, and other agencies who are expected to profit from the attendance at the convention. Preconvention headquarters are to be established May 15 in the Stevens hotel. In addition, the national committee has obtained blocks of rooms in the Blackstone, Congress, and Drake hotels.

Congressman Dies to Speak in Evanston, East Chicago

Congressman Martin Dies, head of the house committee on un-American activities, will make two speeches in the Chicago area on May 10 and 11. His first appearance will be in the Roosevelt High school auditorium, East Chicago, before a Lake county meeting sponsored by the Young Men's Association of Commerce and the American Legion. The following night he will speak at the Evanston High school gymnasium at a meeting sponsored by Post No. 42, American Legion.

DEMPSEY TO GET POST AS G. O. P. COMMITTEE HEAD

County Leaders Grant Request of Green.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Election of John T. Dempsey as chairman of the Cook county Republican central committee last night was assured by the action of 22 members of the committee chosen to represent the various sections of Chicago and its suburbs.

John T. Dempsey.

On the motion of the present chairman, Edward F. Moore, who has served four years in the post, those present voted unanimously to "grant the request" of Dwight H. Green, nominee for governor, who recently made it known that Dempsey was his personal choice to manage the fall campaign in this area.

The conferees also chose Ald. Patrick Sheridan Smith [6th], primary manager for the Brooks-Lyons forces which opposed Green, as first vice chairman of the committee.

Delay Action on Secretary.

There will be six other vice chairmen, one from each group of 10 Chicago wards taken in numerical order, and one from the suburban townships. Each group will pick its own leader for this office. Action on the indorsement of a candidate for secretary of the committee was deferred.

Dempsey and the others agreed upon will be formally elected when the recessed county convention meets again Monday.

The conference was held in a private dining room in the Bismarck hotel following a dinner at which Wayland Brooks, Green's running mate as nominee for United States senator, was host. Green, George F. Barrett, nominee for attorney general; Arthur C. Lueder, nominee for state auditor, and Oscar F. Nelson, nominee for state's attorney, were present.

Committeemen at Parley.

The committeemen present, arranged according to the territorial sections they represented, were the following:

Wards 1 to 10—Oscar De Priest [3d], John Leonard East [5th], Patrick Sheridan Smith [6th], and Andrew C. Metzger [8th].

Wards 20 to 30—William V. Pacelli [20th], George F. Barrett [21st], Joseph A. Porcaro [28th], and Edward F. Moore [30th].

Wards 31 to 41—Daniel A. Roberts [31st], Eden T. Brekke [36th], Raymond J. Peacock [39th], and James C. Moreland [41st].

Undecided on State Post.

In reply to questions concerning a report that he had definitely decided upon Ben L. Berve, state central committeeman from the 13th congressional district, as his choice for chairman of that committee, Green said he was favorably inclined toward Berve but was not ready to announce a decision. The organization meeting of the committee will be held May 9 in Springfield.

Berve, just reëlected to the committee, lives in Rochelle, Ogle county. He played football at Notre Dame in 1906 and 1907 and is a Legionnaire. He is in the insurance business.

TREASON CHARGE HURLED AT RED EDITOR ON TRIAL

Fist Fight Threatened by Rival Counsel.

New York, April 26 [Special].—Trial of the criminal libel charges against Clarence A. Hathaway, editor of the Daily Worker, communist newspaper, was enlivened today by charges of treason and a challenge between opposing legal forces to fight it out with fists.

The clash came when Assistant District Attorney Herman T. Stichman questioned Hathaway's political beliefs. The communist editor is co-defendant with the Compro Daily Publishing company and Hyman Colodny, its business manager. The case, being tried before Judge John J. Freschi and a jury, results from charges brought by Mrs. Walter Liggett, widow of the Minneapolis newspaper editor who was slain on Dec. 9, 1935.

Charges Treason Guilt.

Prosecutor Stichman today fought to get into the record admissions from Hathaway on whether he subscribed to the tenets of Karl Marx, referring particularly to the principle of overthrowing by force the "existing social conditions."

"I say he is guilty of treason!" Stichman shouted at one point.

Edward Kuntz, Hathaway's counsel, leaped to his feet. He charged Stichman had promised not to ask political questions.

"I'll meet Kuntz outside if he wants me to!" Stichman roared back.

Judge Freschi at this stage ruled the prosecutor could not attack Hathaway's credibility as a witness, even tho he got him to admit he did not "love the American flag."

Old Libel Suit Revived.

Further litigation for Hathaway developed today when the Appellate court reversed a decision by Judge Ferdinand Pecora, who had dismissed a $500,000 libel suit brought against Hathaway, the Comprodally Publishing company, and Peter V. Cacchione.

The court ordered the defendants to file an answer to the action, based on an article written by Cacchione and published in the Daily Worker on Sept. 17, 1939, concerning Joseph Levy and Crawford Clothes, Inc., operating stores in New York.

JOBS AND PEACE URGED BY JAMES AS G. O. P. SLOGAN

Indianapolis, Ind., April 26 (AP).—Gov. Arthur H. James of Pennsylvania declared before the Indiana Republican Editorial association tonight that President Roosevelt was keeping America "in the dark" on the country's foreign policy and proposed that the Republicans campaign on a program of "jobs and peace."

"We do not know the foreign policy of the New Dealers," Gov. James declared. "We do not know whether secret agreements exist, the extent to which they may pledge our lives and our resources."

NORTH ILLINOIS DISTRICT SHOWS BIG G. O. P. SWING

Trend in 15th, Begun in 1938, Increasing.

Galesburg, Ill., April 26 [Special].—Like other traditionally Republican sections of northern Illinois, the 15th Congressional district gave proof in the primary on April 9 of a strong swing toward the G. O. P.

Knox county is the largest of five counties making up the district. The others are Adams, Fulton, Henry, and Schuyler. All five indicated a Republican trend this year, the biggest increase being recorded in Adams county of which Quincy is the county seat.

Republican 1901 to 1932.

In 1932, 1934, and 1936 the 15th elected a Democratic congressman. Except for those years it had, excluding 1912 when the Bull Moose split the party, sent a Republican to Washington in every election since the district was created in 1901. It swung back in 1938 by electing a Republican, Robert B. Chiperfield, and his reelection this year is called a certainty.

As a whole the district this year cast 36,518 Republican votes in comparison with 31,074 in 1936, an increase of 5,446 or 17.4 per cent. In 1938 the Republican vote totaled 25,557, or 10,961 less than this year. The increase in the last two years was 42.9 per cent.

Dewey Leads Vote Getters.

The votes given the primary winners in this district were as follows:

Thomas E. Dewey, President	32,680
R. B. Chiperfield, congressman	29,333
Omer N. Custer, delegate	25,005
James P. Nielson, delegate	22,884
Wayland Brooks, senator	19,174
Dwight H. Green, governor	24,308
Hugh W. Cross, lieutenant-governor	14,821
Justus L. Johnson, secretary of state	9,724
Arthur C. Lueder, auditor	2,828
Warren Wright, treasurer	33,431
George F. Barrett, attorney general	9,240
Wm. G. Stratton, congressman at large	18,321
Stephen A. Day, congressman at large	11,956

In 1938 the total Republican vote in a three man contest for the Republican nomination for congress was 23,061. This year Congressman Chiperfield, unopposed, received 29,333 votes.

Select Rhode Island G.O.P. Uninstructed Delegate Slate

Providence, R. I., April 26 (AP).—A slate of unpledged delegates to the Republican national convention was selected by the executive committee of the Republican state committee today. The slate will be recommended to the state convention on Monday for approval. No opposition slate was offered by supporters of Thomas E. Dewey, presidential candidate, but it is believed an effort will be made to replace some delegates with friends of Dewey.

BRITISH ADMIT NEW RETREAT IN DOMBAS BATTLE

Move Up More Troops to Stop Germans.

LONDON, April 26 (AP).—Long columns of British, French, and Norwegian infantry and artillery pushed over slushy, bomb scarred roads in Norway today into stiffening front lines as the first major battle of the northern campaign loomed near strategic Trondheim.

A fresh reversal was announced in "limited withdrawals" before strong German forces south of Dombas, 110 miles southwest of Trondheim.

British bombers continued to harry German air bases in Denmark and Norway and fired gasoline dumps at Vallo, on Oslo fjord, an air ministry communique said, as well as attacking German ships.

Six German Planes Downed.

British antiaircraft batteries established in Norway were credited with sharing the honors with fighting war planes in shooting down six German planes and damaging eight others yesterday and last night. Other British air operations, the air ministry said resulted in destruction of two more German planes and damaging of another while "five of our aircraft are missing."

A semiofficial amplification of the air ministry's communique said German supply ships were attacked in Hardanger and Granvik fjords, south of Bergen, with one shower of bombs registering a direct hit on Granvix quay, described as a vital point to German landing plans.

British pilots reported that after the attack one German supply ship was left lying on its side and partly submerged. They declared also that a recently pitched German military encampment near the port of Ulvik, south of Bergen, was successfully attacked.

Oil Refinery Set Afire.

In the Oslo fjord raid British bombers, aiming at 10 large supply ships, were said to have registered a direct hit on one of the larger craft and also to have set fire to an oil refinery and a row of storage tanks.

"The whole place was well alight when our aircraft left Oslo fjord, one pilot said.

Trondheim, which looms as a battle site, was once a sleepy seaport. It is held by the Germans and also is the goal of twin German columns fighting up thru the heart of the country from Oslo.

It was before one of these columns that the allies fell back; the other column, Swedish advices said, was set back with "considerable losses" by the allies near Roros, 70 miles southeast of Trondheim. Later Stockholm dispatches, however, said the Germans had recaptured Roros.

French Legion Joins Drive.

Completion of the German drive which has sent mechanized columns into the Norwegian interior in a race to join Trondheim's captors would cut off southern Norway from British, French, and Norwegian help.

To aid their troops south of Trondheim in the attempt to stem the German advance and to oust the seaport's present garrison, the allies—for the first time supported by pursuit planes—poured British infantrymen, veterans of the French Foreign Legion, and crack battalions of France's Chasseurs D'Alpines into lines near Steinkjer, 50 miles above Trondheim.

Fighting flared there today in brief contacts of German and allied patrols in fog, but British reports said there was no major action. At Narvik, isolated, German-held port in the north which is another goal of allied effort, the British reported "all quiet."

Light Rear Guard Action.

South of Dombas, connected by rail with Andalsnes, British and French landing point below Trondheim, the allied infantry fought a bitter rear guard action against German power.

Supported by artillery, tanks, and strafing aircraft, the Nazis forced what a war office communique called "limited withdrawals." It was the third announcement in as many days of setbacks.

British, French, and Norwegian strategy was crystallizing as military men began to fit together the pieces of information.

Two jobs lay before the allies. First—and largest—was to block German reënforcements approaching the Trondheim region from Oslo along railway and mountain roads.

To Send Reënforcements.

Maj. Gen. Adrian Carton de Wiart, commander of the British expeditionary force, was expected to rush reënforcements to the troops south of Dombas to this end and to counter German air attacks with Britain's Spitfires and Hurricanes which have found precarious bases on ice in hidden fjords.

Trondheim, the main base for German operations in the north, was the second point of attack.

Before its strong German garrison can be fought successfully, however, it was believed here, the British navy will have to account for German destroyers in the fjord whose fire helped roll back the British advance guard Wednesday at Steinkjer.

SCHOOL JANITOR SHOT.

George Hall, 3232 Prairie avenue, colored janitor at the Du Sable High school, 4934 Wabash avenue, was shot above the right knee last night by one of a gang of young Negroes whom he had interrupted as they were trying to break into the school.

How listeners will be arranged when Joachim von Ribbentrop, foreign minister, reads announcement to the world from German chancellery in Berlin today.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 26.—A special protocol has been arranged for tomorrow's meeting in the German chancellery at which the contents of a secretly prepared government memorandum will be divulged.

At 12:45 p. m. [4:45 a. m., Chicago time] in the propaganda ministry, the German press chief, Dr. Otto Dietrich, will receive journalists and give them a summary of the forthcoming memorandum. Then the reporters will walk to the chancellery. Diplomats will congregate in the chancellery at 2:20 p. m. [6:20 a. m., Chicago time].

Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, who will read the memorandum, will stand in the center of a semicircle, with his staff behind him, the diplomatic corps to his right and the foreign press to his left. The extremities of the semicircle will be formed by German officials at the right of the diplomats and the German press at the left of the foreign press.

Von Ribbentrop's speech, which will be broadcast, will start at 2:30 p. m. [6:30 a. m., Chicago time].

GERMANS STRIVE TO TRAP ENEMY IN NORSE VALLEY

May Adopt Tactics Used in Polish Campaign.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 26.—The campaign in Norway for the possession of German held Trondheim tonight was reporting to be nearing its climax. Both the Germans, and the British, French, and Norwegians were rushing warplanes and additional troops to that district. It was also reported that British naval units were closing in on Trondheim fjord.

While the German war communique announced that more troops and supplies have been landed at Trondheim, two German columns which are fighting their way to reënforce the Nazis at that strategic base were reported to have been making new progress.

The columns in the two pronged offensive were advancing in the Gudbrandsdal and Osterdal valleys. The Germans said their advance was supported by bombing planes and low flying air raiders.

Battle Near Dombas.

In the Gudbrandsdal valley there was fighting south of the important railroad junction of Dombas, 110 miles southwest of Trondheim.

[British military authorities admitted "limited withdrawals" before strong German forces at Dombas.]

In the Osterdal valley to the east, the German forces, which according to a Stockholm dispatch have recaptured the copper mining town of Roros, were described by a Berlin communique as a weak motorized detachment.

After entering Roros this unit was driven back by Norwegians, but it was said that the Germans were able to renew their attack with reënforcements.

Seek to Trap Enemy.

If the Germans repeat the strategy used with such success in Poland they will attempt to lure their enemy into one of the Norwegian valleys, such as the Gudbrandsdal, bottle them up, and then annihilate their opponents with aerial bombs and machine guns. Nazi planes now are destroying every point of importance in the Gudbrandsda' valley.

At Roros less than 60 miles separate the southern outpost of the German garrison of Trondheim from the Germans advancing up to Osterdal valley.

"When the two forces meet," German spokesmen said, "Norwegians defending the Osterdal either will be forced to surrender or to cross into Sweden where they will be interned."

Bomb British Ships.

German bombing planes continued to attack British transports and supply ships in an effort to prevent additional allied troops and munitions from reaching the Norwegian coast.

The war communique said a British mine sweeper and a troopship were beached after being hit by aerial bombs. It also said a British torpedo boat was set afire and that an oil tanker showed a heavy list after being bombed. The tanker, it was said, was abandoned by its crew. The Nazis also claimed that a boiler blew up on a supply ship after being attacked by a bomber.

British assertions that air defenses in the zones occupied by the allies have been strengthened were borne out by German reports. The wing of a German bomber was torn off by antiaircraft guns while flying over Andalsnes. It was said the the plane succeeded in landing on the next German held air field. Andalsnes, on the Atlantic coast, is a British and French landing point.

The Germans said 11 British planes of the Gladiator type were destroyed on the ground when bombers attacked an airport between Andalsnes and Dombas. This airport was located on a stretch of ice bound road.

Nazis admitted that several airplanes were damaged by bomb splinters in a British raid on the Trondheim air field.

NORSE CIVILIAN OFFICIALS WILL REMAIN IN JOBS

BERLIN, April 26 (AP).—German control of occupied districts in Norway was clarified to an extent today by publication in Oslo of a proclamation by Josef Terboven, the reich commissioner to administer the territory.

As quoted by DNB, official news agency, Terboven announced he was taking over civil administration and that Norwegian administrative officials would remain in office and perform their duties as before.

Gen. Nikolas von Falkenhorst, as commander of German expeditionary forces, is in charge of military affairs.

Despite the fact that the Norwegian legation has been withdrawn from Berlin, Kurt Breuer, German minister to Oslo, is reported to be maintaining relations with the Norwegian government commission in German-occupied Oslo, and German consulates are still functioning in Norway.

HONOR U. S. ARMY OFFICER KILLED IN GERMAN RAID

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, April 26 (AP).—Funeral services for Capt. Robert M. Losey, assistant United States military attaché in Stockholm, who was killed in Norway Sunday during a German air raid, were held here today in a chapel crowded with Swedish military and government officials.

The Swedish aviation corps accorded full military honors to the dead flyer, who was struck by a bomb splinter while helping American residents in Norway to make their way to Sweden.

The services were conducted by the chaplain of the British legation. The American ministers to Oslo and Stockholm, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman and Frederick A. Sterling, attended with other legation officials.

A BIBLIO-BOMBSHELL

By CALEB

EVERY so often a book appears that is spontaneously accepted by the critics and public alike. Naturally the critics have had the advantage of foreshadowing such a book. More rarely, however, occasion sets the stage . . . and both public and critic are "tinder" for a book that satisfies a long-felt need. The first break in its publicity causes the public and critics to move as one toward its acceptance.

This is singularly the case with Mortimer J. Adler's How to Read a Book. Without distinction, all of us have at some time or other been critical of our reading habits. Never critical, perhaps, to the point of articulating our dissatisfactions; but sufficiently so to become receptive toward any self-evidently sound proposal for more resultful reading.

Prof. Adler is more than commonly well fitted to formulate such a program for effective reading. For some ten years he and Mr. Hutchins have been conducting the unique experiment of reading the great books of Western European culture with class groups. Out of this experience Dr. Adler has developed certain rules of reading which make it possible really to master and assimilate the cultural inheritance great books hold for men.

Like all important rules when once they are stated, these prove both simple and obvious—so obvious that at first blush one experiences annoyance that someone other than himself should have organized them. But even before finishing the first third of Dr. Adler's book one discovers that he is not a reader, and that he does need the rules!

Yet, if that means you, the fault, as he points out clearly, is not necessarily yours. Personally, I feel that his chapter, "The Defeat of the Schools," will be an educative eye-opener to every literate in America save experts in Dr. Adler's own domain. Rightly he emphasizes that "If the schools were doing their job this book would not be necessary." Also that "When teachers themselves do not possess the art of being taught, they cannot be very good teachers"; and "Evidence from the graduate and professional schools tends to show that, so far as reading for understanding is concerned, they (college students) are still sixth-graders."

A veritable bombshell of a book! I expect its reverberations will be heard and felt all over the pedagogic scene—and I devoutly hope they are! Particularly invaluable is the concluding section, with its trio of chapters on The Other Half, The Great Books and Free Minds and Free Men . . . the last-named being one of the most admirable and considered statements of the democratic thesis ever put into print. Thoughtful reading of those seventeen pages alone will by many times liquidate the reader's ownership investment.

PRESS IN BRITAIN RAGES AT LACK OF TRUTH ON NORWAY

Assails Conduct of War Operations in North.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 26.—For the first time since extension of the war to Norway, newspapers and official quarters today admitted that British forces there are encountering serious difficulties. Original British claims that Fuehrer Hitler "had committed a great strategic blunder" in opening up another war front also are undergoing revision.

Despite the failure of the government to issue a detailed communique since the naval victory at Narvik on April 13, the people have been led to believe that triumphs beyond the highest hopes were achieved in operations in Norway and that the only reason for official reticence was the necessity of keeping secrets from Germany.

Nearly two weeks ago the admiralty and war office announced landings at many places in Norway. Since then newspapers have been featuring stories of great successes and even had allied troops capturing Hamar, not far above Oslo.

Papers Are Angry.

Now the same papers which printed those reports from Stockholm correspondents are furious because they were not true and are bitterly critical of the conduct of the military operations in Norway.

The following is an example of the headlines which appeared in newspapers here early in the Norwegian campaign: "British Recapture Bergen; Two Ports Freed of Germans." On April 15 headlines announced: "Victory of Narvik Liberates Whole of North Norway," and "Germans Chased Out of Narvik."

Today, however, an official handout from the ministry of information tells of difficulties encountered and admits that in the operations in Scandinavia, Hitler "has taken the first trick."

Premature Prediction.

It also appears now that the assurance of Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, that not a single German ship would be able to sail the Skagerrak without being sunk was premature.

The press has taken for its own the attitude conveyed in the ministry of information handout admitting difficulties in the struggle for Norway. The Daily Telegraph declares that the British expeditionary force in Norway "is contending against superior armaments and numbers."

The same paper insists that the real battleground is the western front and that Germany by using valuable gasoline and other supplies in the Norwegian campaign will be correspondingly weakened in the west.

Bare Northern Areas.

The Evening News says that if the Germans are able to link up the main army with the garrisons at Trondheim, the allied forces will be confined "to the bare northern areas and the conquest of south Norway will be delayed indefinitely and may be infinitely costly."

The Daily Herald scolds the government for believing the "public wants comfort rather than news."

The Daily Express protests against the delay in arranging facilities for British newspaper reporters to join the expeditionary force in Norway.

"It would no doubt be more comfortable for the military authorities to have only one reporter to look after," the Beaverbrook organ states, "but the British public is entitled to be represented by 20 eyewitnesses who can cover the fighting in 20 different places at once to tell the news and truth."

WARNS ITALY'S WEIGHT WILL BE FELT IN WAR

ROM., April 26 (AP).—Italy's intention to make her weight felt eventually in Europe's new war was signified in the chamber of Fasces and Guilds today just 25 years after Italy signed the secret treaty of London which plunged her into the last great war as an ally of Britain and France.

Premier Mussolini's undersecretary of the interior, Guido Buffarini-Guidi, told the chamber that none of the few "remaining oases of peace" could be certain of escaping "contamination." Il Duce was in the chamber. Many believed he had approved the speech in advance.

Mussolini's lieutenant, frequently interrupted by bursts of applause, said that it would be particularly hard for a country like Italy, which had claims to be settled, to stay out of the conflict. He warned that "territory which yesterday was idyllically tranquil might be transformed tomorrow into the most violent and bloody of battlefields."

FRENCH REPEL GERMAN RAIDERS ON WEST FRONT

PARIS, April 26 (AP).—Tonight's French communique reported a German raid on a French western front outpost was driven off. The communique said, "Marked activity of artillery and contact units on both sides. The enemy carried out a raid on one of our outposts which, after a short fight, remained in our hands."

The French morning communique had reported, "Artillery actions in the region of the Saar."

Germans Report Air Activity.

BERLIN, April 26 (AP).—The German high command's communique today said, "No special events in the west. One German reconnoissance plane made a forced landing in Belgium. The crew was unhurt. During the night several planes entered German Heligoland bight. One British plane was shot down near Sylt and crashed into the sea."

GUILD'S STRIKE AGAINST HEARST PAPERS SETTLED

The Chicago Newspaper guild strike against the Hearst newspapers in Chicago, which had been in progress for 17 months, was settled last night. Victor Olander, secretary treasurer of the Illinois Federation of Labor, and Ray Edmundson, president of the United Mine Workers, district No. 12, an affiliate of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, and the newspaper announced that 115 guild members who have been on strike will return to work.

The National Labor Relations board has been petitioned to hold an election to determine whether the guild, which is a C. I. O. unit, or the Editorial Association and Newspaper Commercial Associates, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, shall be the exclusive bargaining agent for the employés. The election is to be held within 180 days.

The announcement said that the settlement contract between the guild and the newspaper provides for arbitration of possible future disputes. Strikers not reinstated as a result of the merger of the Chicago Herald-Examiner with the Evening American received settlement pay.

MYRON TAYLOR HAS A PRIVATE TALK WITH POPE

ROME, Italy, April 26.—Myron C. Taylor, President Roosevelt's special envoy to Pope Pius, had a private audience with the pontiff today after a series of consultations in the last four days with Cardinal Luigi Maglione, papal secretary of state, and Msgr. Giovanni Montini of the papal secretariat of state. As Harold H. Tittman Jr., consul general at Geneva, made a special trip to attend the conferences, it is assumed that something important was discussed. Taylor is understood to be of a pessimistic frame of mind these days, as is every one at the Vatican, where there are great fears the war will spread to this part of Europe.

EMPIRES' HEDGE ON EASING TRADE CURB ON AMERICA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 26.—The state department tonight issued a statement quoting British and French economic spokesmen as promising that their countries would do all that is practicable to lessen the restrictions on American foreign trade caused by their wartime economic policies and blockade.

The statement followed a conference between American officials and the empires' spokesmen, Frank Ashton-Gwatkin, adviser to the British ministry of economic warfare, and Prof. Charles Rist, former deputy governor of the Bank of France.

No Real Changes Expected.

It is not expected that the pledges made by empires' spokesmen will make real changes in the trade situation. The pledges were carefully hedged about with reservations.

According to the statement, the British and French governments wish to ease the inconveniences to neutral trade in every practical way "so long as this does not lessen the effect of the contraband control in all its branches."

The two governments, it is added, "recognize" the blockade of German exports to America have created hard cases and there "is every desire to redress such grievances" of genuine character. The governments also will consider applications for exemption of certain German goods such as optical and precision instruments.

Farm Exports Decline.

Finally, the statement promises, France and England will make every effort to maintain purchases of American agricultural products "at as high a level as is compatible with the circumstances in which they are placed."

[American agricultural exports have declined steadily since the war began, largely thru the policy of Great Britain of buying those products from her colonies. In particular, American exports of meat, lard, corn, fruit and tobacco have suffered. On the other hand American exports of airplanes, machinery, steel and iron which are usable for direct war services, have soared. See story in financial section.]

SAILS A BRITISH 'SUB' HOME WITH BOW BLOWN OFF

LONDON, April 26 (AP).—The sea tale of how Lieutenant Commander John W. McCoy brought his British submarine, the Triumph, crawling home altho 14 feet of her bow was blown off by a mine was told today by the Daily Herald. McCoy was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for "outstanding initiative, skill, and resource."

Homeward bound after dangerous duty, the captain saw a mine less than 30 feet ahead, too late to avoid it. The bow was blown off, but the watertight doors behind the forward torpedo tubes held.

BELGIAN CRISIS SOLVED BY KING; CABINET REMAINS

BRUSSELS, Belgium, April 26 (AP).—In response to King Leopold's admonition that "while the army is keeping vigilant watch on the frontier there is no time for a government crisis," the cabinet of Premier Hubert Pierlot today decided to remain in office.

The cabinet voted to resign yesterday when the Liberal party, which has three ministers in the government, refused to support a government education measure. Pierlot's cabinet, a coalition of the Catholic, Socialist and Liberal parties, was formed Jan. 5.

Duke of Kent Yields High Rank for Welfare Work Job

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 26.—The duke of Kent, it was officially announced today, is leaving the admiralty intelligence division to become a staff officer in the training command of the royal air force. A Buckingham palace announcement said "The king has been pleased to permit his royal highness to relinquish temporarily the rank of air vice marshal to assume that of group captain of the R. A. F." It is understood the duke will specialize in welfare matters.

A Week for Babies

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Eugene S. Talbot, 83 years old, at Ashland Infant Welfare station with Rosalie Nash, 6 months old, as Baby week plans were made.

Baby week, which originated here 27 years ago with the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago, will open tomorrow for a nation-wide observance. Its significance in this city, Miss Jeanette Townsend, extension secretary of the society, explained yesterday, is to bring home to citizens the health needs of babies and of all classes and the means by which those needs are met.

Twenty stations are maintained by the society in the congested areas of Chicago where children are most exposed to sickness. These stations are staffed by 97 doctors, nurses, nutritionists and a mental hygiene supervisor. To the stations last year came 15,382 children and expectant mothers.

Among the 7,996 babies cared for by the society in 1939, there were only 38 deaths, or a death rate of 4.7 per thousand. This is the lowest infant death rate recorded by the society in its history. The work of the society is supported by voluntary contributions. Philip D. Armour is president of the organization.

FRENCH SHARPEN CENSOR'S PENCIL; PRESS IS PAINED

Papers Cite Freedom of British Writers.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, April 26.—The censorship in France has grown more rigorous after a period of relaxation. Newspapers are complaining particularly against the suppression of political news and comment, while all the while the British press is free to print both.

In a front page editorial today La Liberte, new evening paper, criticises the censorship which it calls the "unintelligence service." Continuing, it writes, "Never has the censorship been so narrow, arbitrary, incomprehensive, and unintelligent."

Both Le Journal and L'Intransigeant complain that they are forbidden to write about the cost of living, "altho on this subject there are no secrets to guard. Alas, we are too well informed about it every morning with greater and greater clarity."

Some Subjects Under Taboo.

The problem of censorship is posed again, says Pertinax [André Geraud], in L'Ordre, and then he goes on to cite some of the subjects which are taboo. For example, he wonders why it is forbidden to criticize the League of Nations or to publish articles telling what has happened to Col. Josef Beck, one time foreign minister of Poland.

"Let no man say that this silence about his name has been asked by the present Polish government," Pertinax writes. "It has formulated no such request and it is rather astonishing that so much consideration has been shown for the fallen minister. And yet in a certain Polish review published within the last few months in France, it was possible to express high approval of the Hitlerian theory of the inequality of races."

Pertinax complains that the censorship is badly organized, that its personnel is composed chiefly of incapable men, and finally, that it lacks a head. At this point, however, the censorship stepped in and removed two lines from the Pertinax article. He concludes by insisting that the most needed reform is the recruiting of a competent and experienced staff.

Reynaud Is Active.

Most papers today had articles admonishing the public not to insist on too early an announcement of operations in Norway, as it would be contrary to military interests.

Premier Paul Reynaud had a talk with the British ambassador, Sir Ronald Hugh Campbell, and with the French minister of information, Louis Frossard. The French interministerial economic council also held another meeting.

EASTER HOLIDAYS TURN BALKANS FROM WAR FEARS

Peace Gesture by Il Duce Is Reported.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUCHAREST, Rumania, April 26.—With war clouds hovering not far away, the Balkans will take a vacation this week-end to celebrate the Orthodox church's Easter.

All activity will cease for three days and most government offices will be closed until May 2. Rumanians are looking forward to a quiet week-end because they feel it is not to Germany's interests to disturb any other nation right now.

Nevertheless, the subject of war continues uppermost in some circles. A reliable source informed THE TRIBUNE today that Premier Mussolini has invited the prime ministers of the Balkan states to visit Rome for a conference on joint demands to the present European belligerents to guarantee the status quo in the Mediterranean sea.

Omit Greek Premier.

Premier John Metaxas of Greece was left out for reasons known only to the Italians, but there is little chance the others will accept the invitation. Rumanian newspapers have not been allowed to print the report, which has not been officially confirmed. No answer has yet been sent to Rome.

This latest move in the back stage maneuvering is taken here as a guarantee that Italy will not start anything in the Balkans for a little while.

The Italian invitation is believed by some to have been inspired by Germany, because it has come during Ambassador Hans-Georg Viktor von Mackensen's recent trips back and forth to Germany.

Seek to Tie Up Empires.

The purpose of the conference is to tie the hands of Great Britain and France, the Rumanians say, since the empires could not very well refuse to keep peace of the Mediterranean. The agreement also would suit Adolf Hitler and Mussolini as long as the empires are giving Hitler heavy going in Scandinavia.

The Balkan peoples continue to suspect that the British and French would like fighting to start down this way since it would not damage their own territory, would help to sap Germany's strength, and would allow them to strengthen their blockade. British and French sources say their only interest is to keep peace in the Balkans so they will not have to send aid down here.

Meanwhile, Rumanian and Jugo-Slav officials are working in close coöperation to rid their countries of foreign visitors—notably Germans— who are suspected of "boring from within" or other dangerous activities.

Already 700 Germans have been escorted to the frontier of Rumania, it is understood, because they could not give a satisfactory reason for being here. Jugo-Slav authorities have reported an expulsion of 200.

With the Nazis busy in the north this is thought to be the best time to do the house cleaning. On the other hand, more than 100 German tourists reached Bucharest today.

GRAU SAN MARTIN QUITS RACE FOR CUBAN PRESIDENT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, April 26.—Former President Ramon Grau San Martin today resigned as the presidential candidate of the Authentic Revolutionary party and other groups which had banded together to form the bloc opposed to the election of Col. Fulgencio Batista. The latter is the candidate of the Liberals, Nationalists, Democrats, and communists.

Ramon Grau San Martin.

It was said Grau San Martin quit because he was convinced he could not win the election on July 14. Most of the political leaders have joined the Batista forces, leaving only former President Miguel Mariano Gomez and a group of so-called revolutionaries to oppose Cuba's strong man.

Batista's campaign fund is said to exceed $3,000,000, exclusive of the fortunes of his managers and running mates.

EX-CONVICT GETS 1-14 YEARS FOR ATTACK ON GIRL

A jury in the Criminal court yesterday convicted Albert Milewski, an ex-convict, of assault with intent to rape, and Judge William J. Lindsay sentenced him to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary. Milewski, 33 years old, lives at 4833 South Elizabeth street. He has been employed in a WPA sewer gang for more than a year.

Miss Emma Czagny, 20 years old, 9325 Burnside avenue, told the jury that on March 1 Milewski seized her as she was walking at 91st street and St. Lawrence avenue. He threw her to the ground, struck her in the face, and threatened to kill her when she resisted. The arrival of passersby saved her. Milewski fled, but was arrested later.

Milewski has a record that extends back to 1924 when he served 18 months in the St. Charles reformatory.

SMASHING GAINS CLAIMED BY BOTH CHINA AND JAPAN

Tokio Offers Its Wang Regime Peace.

SHANGHAI, China, April 26 (AP).—Both Chinese and Japanese claimed smashing successes in scattered battle actions today as Tokio proffered peace and friendship to Wang Ching-wei's new Nanking régime and tightened its blockade of Tientsin's concession area.

Japanese spokesmen today said their forces were crashing forward at Kaifeng, Honan capital from which Chinese claimed Wednesday to have driven the Japanese.

Chinese reports said large Japanese forces were retreating in south Shansi along the Yellow river.

25,000 Reported Slain.

Japanese headquarters in Shanghai countered that their forces in Shansi had slain 25,000 Chinese and that the remainder were in flight.

Gen. Nobuyki Abe, one time Japanese premier and now ambassador to the Nanking regimé set up last month under Japanese sponsorship, formally "congratulated" Wang Ching-wei, head of the régime, on "establishment of the reorganized national government of China" and assured him of Japan's "wholehearted support."

Wang replied that "peace and friendship are the avenues thru which Japan and China can promote mutual welfare.

In Tientsin Japanese sentries resumed strict measures in their blockade of the French and British concessions. Japanese soldiers forced all Chinese entering or leaving the barricaded foreign areas to strip to their underwear for examinations. Large quantities of skins which American fur buyers sought to move into the concessions were refused entry by the Japanese.

[United States Ambassador Joseph Grew Wednesday told the Japanese foreign office that Americans were suffering hardships as a result of the tightening of the Tientsin blockade.]

Chinese Claim Victories.

HONGKONG, April 26 (AP).—Chinese dispatches today reported widespread Chinese victories against Japanese armies.

The Chinese reported they had seized defense posts about Nanchang and virtually isolated the Japanese held capital of Kiangsi province.

The Chinese thrusts at Nanchang, it was said, cut the Nanchang-Kiukiang railway.

The Chinese said they had won control of the area around Kaoping, in southeastern Shansi province.

In southwestern Anwhei province the Chinese reported they were withstanding a southwestward Japanese thrust from Wuhu and had recaptured several Japanese-occupied townships.

The British-owned newspaper China Mail today said Japanese-dominated Chinese troops had seized control of Lappa Island, part of which belongs to Portugal.

NURSE, 25, FOUND DEAD; ARREST HER MAN FRIEND

Mrs. Patricia La Mar Sacramento, 25 years old, a nurse, was found dead early today—possibly a murder victim—in her one room apartment at 535 West 62d street.

Joseph Sacramento, 28, a Mexican chef, was arrested by Englewood police. Sacramento told police that he and the woman were not married but had been living together as husband and wife.

According to Lieut. George Kelly, Sacramento said that they had quarreled Wednesday night, and that he had slapped her. She did not appear injured, he said, but she died Thursday night. When he found she was dead, he said, he didn't "know what to do about it," so waited until early today to notify the police. Police said a post mortem examination will be necessary to determine whether Mrs. Sacramento died of injuries or of a heart attack.

Charge Mother Poisoned One Child, Drowned Other

Burlington, Colo., April 26 (AP).—Murder charges were filed today against Mrs. Elizabeth Walters, 35 years old, farm wife, accused of poisoning her 8 year old daughter, Phyllis Louise, and drowning her 6 month old daughter, Norma Eileen. Sheriff R. W. Plummer said Mrs. Walters, now at the Pueblo state mental hospital, told him she held Norma Eileen in a dishpan of water to quiet a convulsion.

EX-JAPANESE AID DECRIES DANGER OF WAR WITH U. S.

The possibility of war between the United States and Japan is utterly ridiculous and contrary to official and public opinion in Japan, Dr. Kaju Nakamura, former chairman of the foreign affairs committee for the imperial Japanese diet, asserted here yesterday. He stopped in Chicago on his way to Syracuse, N. Y.

Dr. Nakamura, president of the Oriental Culture college of Tokio, is on a lecture tour of colleges and universities thruout the country. He is a graduate of New York university.

"As a former Japanese public official," he said, "my interpretation of statements by American naval officers that war between the two countries is inevitable is merely an attempt on their part to get increased naval appropriations by using the well known scare methods."

23 German Reporters Killed in Covering War

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 26.—Twenty-three German war correspondents have been killed since the beginning of the war, it was disclosed today. German war correspondents are especially trained to fight in the front lines while doing their reporting. Seven of those killed lost their lives while making the film, "Baptism of Fire," which showed the German air force's part in the conquest of Poland.

GUAM IN PACIFIC POWER POLITICS.

Guam is not only on the line from Hawaii to the Philippines but it is almost squarely on the steamship route from Yokohama to Sydney. Our navy department, with the indorsement of Mr. Roosevelt, asked congress to make an appropriation for the development and fortification of a base at Guam for the stabilization of political questions in the far Pacific. That has no perceivable military relation to the Philippines, if the present Philippine policy is not wholly mendacious.

America would not start a system of fortifications for the defense of territory it is to abandon in six years. We might do so if the United States were to retain military bases in the Philippines, but one reason for getting out is the vulnerability of this far Pacific post. There are other reasons, but that is one.

It isn't altogether plausible that the admirals and naval experts are asking for fortifications at Guam because they think it is a sound naval policy. Some who want to fight Japan may think so, but it's to be doubted that conservative naval opinion backs them up. There is something else behind the Guam proposal, something which indicates the formulation of a startling American foreign policy for the near future. What has been done already and what is proposed seem to betray the fact that Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand, and the United States have surveyed the ground for an anti-Japanese alliance in the southern Pacific.

In separated spots, Great Britain and the United States already have agreements. One is at the great British naval base at Singapore, which has been opened to the vessels of the American fleet. They have joint use of it with the British. The other agreement is in the islands of Canton and Enderbury. When the United States took possession of these islands for an air base, Great Britain also moved in and the two governments agreed to establish a condominium of joint use and possession.

Japanese trade gets out either by the sea lanes controled by Singapore or by lanes which would be exposed to such naval or air bases as Guam, Pago Pago in Samoa, Canton, or Hawaii. Pago Pago has the best harbor in the southern Pacific and it belongs to the United States. We haven't heard anything about a great naval base there, but we probably shall. If we are dropping the Philippines, the pushing out of far military frontiers at this moment would lack pertinence and relevancy. The projects considered by themselves seem to be shot like rockets into the thin air without an objective. However, these posts, if they can be developed and defended, would link the United States with Australia and from Australia reach out a hand to Singapore.

If they could be made so formidable as to present problems the Japanese navy could not solve—if they can't be, it will be suicidal to undertake the enterprises—Japan would be bottled up and its commerce destroyed. The British fleet is not a power in the Pacific now and unless the war against Hitler is won it won't be. Even a decision which left the belligerents unshattered would probably require that British sea power be devoted to problems nearer home than those presented by the far eastern part of the empire.

The outline of a new American foreign policy, germinating in the ideas of the present administration with its well known inclinations, is visible in part. What is suggested by this outline is a future world in which the American and British fleets coöperate as international police, with American control of the Pacific, with Japan bottled up, and its threat to occidental possessions in the far east—where America's territorial stake is small—diminished if not destroyed.

Such a policy would explain the seeming incongruity of withdrawing from the Philippines while extending American naval bases in that direction.

PAY UP, OR ELSE.

Cook county taxpayers, along with their current tax bills, are receiving a pamphlet inviting those who owe delinquent taxes on their property to clear up the delinquencies by installment payments. Taxpayers who sign and keep an agreement to clear up their back taxes in 24 monthly payments get a 50 per cent reduction in the penalties they owe on any unpaid bills for the years 1928 to 1932.

There are two good reasons why the delinquent taxpayer should sign up under this plan with the bureau of delinquent tax collections that Treasurer John Toman has set up in his office. One is that the terms offered are the most generous permitted by the statutes, and the most generous that can be granted in the light of sound public policy. The second is that taxpayers who do not pay face the loss of their property thru the forfeiture foreclosure proceeding.

The tax delinquency bureau, set up a few months ago, already has arranged contracts for the payment of nearly $1,000,000 in back taxes. This is a good record, particularly in view of the fact that a group of tax lawyers have been sponsoring a rival proposal that delinquent taxpayers be permitted to settle their accounts by payment of principal plus a single penalty of 6 per cent on their bills. The statutes do not permit any such arrangement, and public policy forbids it. If a taxpayer could borrow money for 10 years to meet his taxes, at an annual interest rate of six-tenths of 1 per cent, which is what this proposal amounts to, no one would pay taxes. The 6 per cent plan would create tax delinquencies faster than it would cure them.

The tax forfeiture foreclosure proceedings which are being carried on by the state's attorney in coöperation with the county treasurer should not be confused with the old tax sale procedure. The foreclosure proceeding has teeth in it. Property on which the taxes have been forfeited for two years is, under the foreclosure law, sold by court order. If the equity owner does not redeem it within two years, he loses possession just as he would on foreclosure and sale to satisfy a mortgage. Tax sales merely cloud the title. Tax foreclosure takes the property.

Cook county's delinquent taxes have, thru the last decade, become a public scandal. They have loaded taxpayers who actually pay with additional levies amounting to about a quarter of their bills. This intolerable situation cannot continue without bankrupting local governments and discouraging ownership of real estate. The tax foreclosure procedure may be harsh, but it is justified. Property owners who wish to avoid it can do so, under favorable terms, by signing up under the installment payment plan.

BOTH BUROCRAT AND TYCOON.

Mr. Leo Crowley is chairman of FDIC, the agency which administers the government's deposit insurance scheme. His annual salary is $10,000 and he is presumed to devote all of his time to his office.

But on December last Mr. Crowley was elected a member of the board of directors of the Standard Gas and Electric company. An announcement was then made that he had resigned as a public official, but that his resignation had not been acted upon. He continues to be the managing director of the FDIC.

But while continuing as a full time public official he is also the chairman of the board of Standard Gas and the company's chief executive officer. In the annual report to his stockholders just published he tells of the plans being made to comply with the order of the Securities and Exchange commission with reference to the integration of the company properties. He did not tell the shareholders in this report that the man chosen to run their business is a New Dealer, part time.

The impropriety of Mr. Crowley's position is apparent. When he took on the job of managing one of the public utility companies which has a case pending before a government agency, he should have given up his government office immediately. When burocrats become tycoons they forfeit their places in the bureaus. No scandal like this was ever uncovered in any previous administration. If a Republican burocrat, even five years ago, had continued to be a burocrat after becoming the managing officer of a corporation the government was investigating, Mr. Roosevelt would scornfully refer to the horrible example on every possible occasion.

LAWS AND MEN.

Robert Bulkley, the former senator from Ohio, invited attention the other day to the department of justice's new line in consent decrees. In the past, he said, when the department found that one corporation had acquired control of another and was operating it in violation of the antitrust laws the attorney general recognized that it was his duty to see that the two corporations were divorced. The illegal combination was broken up by requiring the one company to divest itself of its holdings in the other.

Now an altogether different procedure has been followed in at least one case. Instead of requiring a sale, the department has demanded the right to pass upon the per onnel of the board of directors of the subsidiary company. The combination will be allowed to continue provided the individuals on the board meet with the attorney general's approval.

Mr. Bulkley told a senate committee that he could find no precedents for this action and the fact that in his day he was something of a New Deal stalwart added an ironic note to his indignation. Evidently he had not realized until he became interested in the litigation involving control of the Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line company that the New Deal practices cannot be fitted into the scheme of American government as we have known it. There was no precedent for the attorney general's action because until the New Dealers came to power and introduced their revolutionary concepts the American government was operated on wholly different principles.

The old idea was that acts listed in the statutes as illegal should be prevented and punished by the department of justice. The New Deal countenances lawbreaking provided the lawbreakers are persons who for one reason or another are regarded with favor by the administration in Washington. The old ideal was a government of law which was no respecter of persons; the New Deal is a government of persons who are no respecters of law.

The attorney general does not insist that the control of the Panhandle company by Columbia Gas is illegal and must be stopped. He says it is illegal only if people he doesn't like are in command. If he can place his men in charge the combination can go on, so far as he is concerned, to the end of time. The possibilities of unjust discrimination and corruption in such a scheme are infinite.

Here is another point at which the New Deal and the Nazi régime are found occupying identical positions. A government of laws is constitutional government. A government of favoritism and prejudice is Nazism.

Editorial of the Day

BETTER FIND OUT.

[Daily Oklahoman.]

Senator Clark of Idaho calls attention to the fact that his Montana neighbor, Senator Wheeler, is the only presidential aspirant in either party who has announced that he will not, in any circumstances, lead the country into war if he is elected President. And that is something to consider. Instead of considering availability and the ability to carry the country and considering almost nothing else, the people should be giving some thought to the possibility that the November election may decide whether we are to have peace or war. We want no man in the White House who would degrade his country by betraying its honor and interests, but at the same time we want no man in the White House who will be looking for an excuse to lead his country into the European shambles. It would be well for the people to ascertain the war views of all these presidential candidates. Next December it may be too late.

"CAISSONS ARE ROLLING"—III.

The composer-author of "The Artillery Song," Col. Edmund L. Gruber, saw the caissons go rolling along under motor power at the recent army maneuvers at Fort Benning, Ga. He was chief control officer for the war games of the motorized 4th corps, in charge of the regulations under which the mock campaign was conducted.

Apparently inspired by discussions of "The Artillery Song" and its origin in this column [April 11 and 15], an Associated Press reporter at the maneuvers interviewed Col. Gruber about his song. He found a gray haired six footer who viewed the passing of horse drawn batteries with a trace of nostalgia. He said that the gasoline soldiers weren't singing the old song as they blitzkrieged "over hill, over dale" with the caissons.

"You can't sing against the rumble of the trucks," Col. Gruber observed, "but I find that the idea of 'keep 'em rolling' still persists in our gas burning outfits."

"The armed forces of the nation have three good service songs," he went on. "Or better make it two," he added modestly. "I'll exclude my own. They are 'Anchors Aweigh,' of the navy, and 'The Halls of Montezuma,' of the marine corps. It's interesting to note that in these songs and 'The Caissons,' the musical phrasing and time are the same. My song was written where a soldier's song should be—in the field."

"The Artillery Song" has been adopted as a football song by Earlham college, at Richmond, Ind. Col. Gruber's regular post of duty is at Fort Ethan Allen, Vt. Incidentally, his nickname in the army, an echo of his school days, is Snit.

A CHILD AND THE STARS.

The brightest one, beyond the largest oak?
That's Sirius, the dog we can't hear bay
Because he lives (if telescopes don't joke)
Some fifty million million miles away
From our front yard. And all your blocks and sticks
Laid end to end, beginning at the hedge,
Would not reach quite so far. Why, all the bricks
The chimney has would scarcely touch his edge.
Perhaps when you are in the seventh grade
Your teacher will explain this through and through.
I like to look at stars, but I'm afraid
I missed that day at school. I never knew.

What puts so many questions in your head?
It's much too late. Now run inside to bed.

I dont think I wood of got sick if tha dumbcluck waiter hadn't got his numbers mixed. I distinktly ordered 3 minute eggs and 4 yr. old bourbon an whatta I get?—four yr. old eggs an 3 min. old hootch. Now, I aint got much use fer doctors [maybe it's mutual], but tha mama insists, claims that if I croaked an no Dr. was called, tha neighbors might be suspishus so she phones Dr. Melendy an he promises to get over by 10 in tha morning an sure enough at sharp 6 o'clock he wheezes in [cant even cure his own asthma], Mebbe he figured he'd be in time fer dinner, or then again he might be on East India time.

He takes one look at me an after a few t'sk t'sks an a cupple of tzutze's it looked to me like the old number was up. I thought fer a minute he was gonna bust out crying. The only difference between him an a plumber is that Doc dont forget his tools. Instead of that bulged-out satchel, somebody shood buy him a tool-chest.

After 15 min. of back-thumping and some pulse-timing tripe, tha verdict is a very bad case of lymphcholerosis. Bet if I'd asked him to spell it he wood of reversed tha decision to mumps. I tells him it cant be anything but ptomaine poisoning on acct. of what I et an then tha mama sticks in her 2c by asking me what right I got to dispute with a Dr.

Ennyway after listening to a few hilarious anecdotes from Doc, such as So and So had my symptons and was buried Tuesday and how Mrs. Guzzilch has been lingering with my ailment fer 3 yrs. I decided to tear up his prescription an do exactly tha opposite of what he told me to.

After he's gone I get myself a nickel's worth of Epsom salts and a cross word puzzle, and I felt so good next morning that I decided to mail Doc his 2 bucks instead of puttin it on tha cuff.

Will be aroused by flash or phrases new,

For his are blows by naked knuckles dealt,
Art to the temple, logic to the chin,

Rip Van Winkle on State Street.

Charles Dingle of "The Little Foxes" cast was a member of the Grace Hayward stock company in the Warrington theater, Oak Park, 25 years ago. He has been away ever since. After the opening he took a stroll in the loop, and when he reached the corner of State and Randolph streets he gasped with horror and called a cop.

"For heaven's sake," demanded Mr. Dingle, "what has become of the Masonic temple?"

The Makings for Robots.

You don't have to visit an exhibition of robots to meet copper-skinned, wiry men of iron with nerves of steel, stony stares, marble hearts, nickel cigars, and a lot of sand; and golden-haired women with silver tongues, pearly teeth, ruby lips, emerald eyes, pink shell ears, ivory skin, and a lot of brass. Between the Dark and the Daylight.

There is a moment of perfect stillness when day stands poised above the brink of night. All the bright gay colors of day are muted, and the bold black and silver of night are not yet painted across the sky. Sleepy birds murmur from their quiet branches, thru which no breeze is playing. Even man seems to have withdrawn for a few moments, to leave the world in its gentle dream. Helene.

WINNING AGAINST CHILDHOOD DIABETES.

We need not wonder why so many fine young graduates desire to enter the field of pediatrics—diseases of children. The reason lies in the fact that the rising generation is so full of interest, so hopeful, so imbued with faith. It is a real joy to work with them. Furthermore, they respond readily to treatment and—fortunately—the modern medical man is armed with many weapons against the contagious maladies that cost the lives of thousands a generation or more ago. In addition, their physical constitutions are on the upgrade and the trend is toward recovery always.

Ordinarily we think of diabetes as an adult affliction, but it may strike those who are in the lower age brackets. It has been estimated that there are approximately 20,000 victims of this ailment under 15. Curiously enough, the onset may be sudden—the signs of trouble coming out of a clear sky with the first symptom—deep unconsciousness. Any tot who feels and acts drowsy, who complains of insatiable thirst, and who looks ill should have a careful investigation of the urine—and that without delay.

Those whose forebears have been afflicted demand special care. Father and mother may escape it as the tendency may lie dormant for two or three generations—perhaps longer. That this is a reality and not a theory is indicated by the fact that sugar may appear simultaneously in identical twins. Some are potential sufferers as a high blood sugar level only may be detected with no actual spilling over into the urine.

Particular alertness should be exercised when the boy or girl approaches puberty. At this period growth may be accelerated—with marked activity of the pituitary gland. In all probability the behavior of this structure influences the pancreas with a decrease in the secretion of insulin.

The first precaution then—if the disease existed in some ancestor—is to provide for frequent examinations of the urine. But all tests must be accurately scrutinized as well nigh every healthy youngster will at some time or other show a sugar reaction. If this occurs once in a while [not regularly] it may not signify diabetes at all. The only true check then is to examine the blood and determine the amount of glucose in the circulation. A single analysis is not enough and some children have been placed mistakenly on diabetic management—who have not had the disease.

One explanation of why this disorder presents such a problem is that we cannot starve our progeny. They must continue to play, go to school, and to mature. In other words, ample calories must be provided to supply the body, but not so much that the pancreas will be overtaxed. Starches and sugars [carbohydrates] are demanded for energy and we are likely to make matters worse by eliminating these food elements. But we must make sure that they are burned up—and insulin will assist.

Rarely can or should the difficulty be controled with diet alone and the slowly acting form of the drug [protamine zinc insulin] will seldom suffice. This is because exercise consumes the available sugar promptly and—with larger meals—the more rapid acting type will be called for. In fact, both forms may be required—the quick acting variety particularly at breakfast.

Complications will require constant watchfulness. Our little patients have relatively few bins within their bodies for the storage of starches and—with vigorous play—reserves may be used up before the next meal is due. This means that changes in disposition, listlessness, seeing double, headache, pallor, or sweating must be combated by utilizing sugar by mouth or by the injection of glucose under the skin.

Naturally more attention than usual must be given to cuts, scratches, and bruises and—should an infection launch an attack [even a common cold] the physician in charge should be notified. As the lad grows older insulin is increased and—now and then a case will become arrested so that no further treatment will be necessary. There is nothing in the condition that denies to every diabetic child the power to develop into a normal adult with a useful life in prospect.

ABRUPT WEIGHT LOSS.

Mrs. C. writes: My husband is a bartender and—for over 10 years—he has been a heavy drinker. In two months he has lost 40 pounds. Is this due to too much whisky? He is 50 years old.

REPLY.

A sudden loss is usually indicative of some fairly significant disorder. A careful checkup is advised—including the heart, digestive tract, liver, and kidneys. The excessive consumption of liquor no doubt has played an important rôle.

PLUCKED.

A. G. K. writes: Can eyebrows be stimulated to grow? I plucked mine, and they failed to grow back.

REPLY.

Ordinarily the process does not disturb the roots. You must have done a thoro job. The chances are, however, that they will return in time. A fair imitation can be painted on.

VARICOSE VEINS.

P. L. writes: Is the tendency to varicose veins inherited? I know several families in which all the members are afflicted.

REPLY.

Yes—the tendency certainly. Remember we are but "weak vessels."

REQUEST FOR NAMES.

Colfax, Ill., April 23.—The President, in his speech last Saturday night, said something about certain cliques owning the Republican party. Who are these cliques or persons? Why does he not mention them by name? Where is his proof? Why not come out in the open with these things as Mr. Dewey does?

Mr. Roosevelt laid all political scandal at the door of the Republican party. Does he think that Tammany hall is a Sunday School class? No doubt he firmly believes that the dirty Illinois régime is a religious organization. Would he connect any scandal with the Pendergast and Long machines? What about the WPA affair in Kentucky? Probably just good politics.

He also, in talking about the accomplishments of the New Deal, said that the machinery was not perfect and much was yet to be done. If he knows that there are defects why does he not correct them? Why run a machine for seven years without making needed repairs? No good machine operator would run a machine that long when it was squeaking and knocking, and not turning out good work.

Mr. Roosevelt resents any criticism against his administration, but he forgets how he criticized the last Republican administration. He has also forgotten the platform he ran on in 1932, and the promises he made at that time.

ENGLAND'S CLAIM ON AMERICA.

Chicago, April 18.—As a descendant of one of those Englishmen who didn't like his native land well enough to stay there, may I ask in the name of common sense what Germany is doing that the allies wouldn't and haven't if the doing of it seemed to their advantage? This holy humanitarian attitude of France and England seems, in the light of their not so distant history, simply ridiculous. England and France are like two poker players who want to quit when they are winners.

Everything in the universe changes and just because Great Britain has been on top for a few hundred years, it does not follow that the position is hers forever.

England with her caste system, whereby a man born into the servant class glories in it provided it is surrounded with enough ceremony and pageantry; England, where they so dearly love a lord, does not seem to me to have a system we should expend one drop of blood or one cent of money to uphold.

I sometimes think history must be badly taught or we have been inattentive students. HISTORY STUDENT.

HE WANTS US TO BACK ENGLAND.

Norwood, Va., April 17.—Can great physical powers and a tough hide exempt any man from service in defense of his country? Then the United States, with its enormous physical powers—its unmatched material, industrial, financial resources—and its extremely tough hide of geographical isolation, needs to find a far better excuse than any yet advanced for failing to act energetically in defense of the democratic community of nations.

England, also isolated from the continent of Europe, yet far less isolated, has already answered the call to a duty that seems beyond her powers to perform. England is already showing that she is willing to lose her peace in order to gain a greater peace, for herself and for all her commonwealth of nations, and for all the world. England's sense of duty to her own self and empire overlaps to a great degree with her sense of duty to the world. In short, her self-interest is highly enlightened, highly civilized.

And why should America's self-interest be less enlightened, less civilized, than England's? Why should we refuse to see the natural [and considerable] extent to which our democratic self-interest overlaps with our democratic world-ideals? Why treat our ideals as enemies, and narrow our self-interest to our geographic borders, and to the passing hour, BOLLING SOMERVILLE.

CURED.

Chicago, April 24.—About a year ago I noticed infection in one of my feet. Being unable to pay for medical care, I applied at the Central Free dispensary for aid. I was assigned to a doctor, given a thoro examination, and was told I was diabetic and that I had gangrene poisoning in my foot. I was given a treatment and told to go home and that one of the visiting nurses would call every day and give me the necessary treatments.

Today I am able to walk again, thanks to the courteous and expert care I was given by both the doctors and nurses all thru my disability.

The doctors who administer to the needs of hundreds of sick every day and the nurses who put in eight to ten hours of visiting the disabled, day in and day out, always with a smile, deserve all the thanks that can be given them.

CONTRACT PURCHASE.

Harvey, Ill., April 24 [Legal Friend of the People].—I purchased a piece of property from another party under a contract for sale form, which reads in part—the party of the first part hereby covenants and agrees to convey to party of second part in fee simple clear of all incumbrances whatsoever by a good and sufficient warranty deed the lot—etc. The property is recorded by Torrens title in name of party of first part at present. I have now made last payment to party of first part.

1. Must party of first part supply me with a Torrens title brought up to date in my name, or,
2. Does party of first part just give me their Torrens title and am I supposed to have it brought up to date myself?
3. Is a new certificate made out for each new purchase?
4. I have made all special assessment payments, should these also be marked paid to date?
5. Should a Torrens title be recorded?
6. If I have to bring up title to date myself about what should be the amount of expense?
7. Attorney fees?
8. I have been under the impression that when I made final payment on contract the party of the first part was to give me a Torrens title, clear of all incumbrances and in my name, because I fulfilled all payments and am now the owner; but the attorney she got to transfer and take care of things tells me all the party of the first part has to do is to turn over her Torrens title to me and if I wanted to have it in my name that it would be my expense. R. S.

1. Ordinarily the printed forms contain express wording as to an abstract, guaranty policy, or Torrens title. We cannot construe your contract without having its wording.
2. In general, yes.
3. Yes.
4. We suggest that you take all of these questions up with the Torrens office; they will make a tax search for a charge.
5. No, but you should see that proper steps are taken in the Torrens office.
6. Depends on facts that are not before us.
7. Depends largely on the attorney you employ.
8. Ordinarily the obligation of the seller is to deliver a deed and show that a good title stands in the seller's name at the time of delivery. We did not understand that this is what you meant to ask under questions 1 and 2.

BOOKIES CAUGHT SENDING TRACK NEWS BY RADIO

Government Indicts 18 and Western Union.

How Chicago bookmakers have turned to a miniature radio transmitting device to circumvent the federal government's ban on telephones in handbooks was revealed yesterday in three indictments returned by the federal grand jury.

Samuel Klaus, special prosecutor in charge of the government's drive against the bookies, said his investigations disclosed that large number of the miniature transmitters are now in use. These devices, he explained, weigh less than one pound, cost $8 apiece, and can be purchased at virtually any radio supply store. The range of these transmitters is approximately 100 yards.

Nearby Telephones Used.

The bookmakers, he said, connected the baby transmitters to telephones outside their premises, generally those of friends in the vicinity. The telephones thus become the microphones of the transmitters. Calls coming to the phones were carried by wire to the transmitter and thru it broadcast on radio waves of low power.

A standard radio receiver in the bookmaker's rooms picked up the radio waves and bellowed forth the words coming over the telephone—race results and other sporting information.

In one instance cited in yesterday's indictments a quartet of gamblers used one of these miniature broadcasting transmitters in the 400 Club, 29 West Randolph street. This transmitter was secreted in the ceiling of the handbook. It was connected by wire with a telephone in a beauty shop at 25 West Randolph street.

Gathered in Indianapolis.

The arrangements called for the telephoning of race results gathered in Indianapolis, Ind., relayed to Cincinnati, O., and thence to the Victoria hotel, 334 South Clark street. From there they were telephoned to the beauty shop instrument.

Klaus said that once a call was placed to this number a man speaking from the Victoria hotel was able to broadcast over the baby transmitter. A radio receiving set in the 400 club picked up the signals from the sending station in the ceiling of the club and the race results were heard by club patrons from the receiver's loud speaker.

In other instances transmitters of slightly greater power were used. The range with these transmitters was increased to approximately one-quarter mile. Several bookmakers in different locations adjacent to the more powerful transmitter thus were able to use it simultaneously, he said.

Western Union Indicted.

The Western Union Telegraph company of New York and 18 individuals were named in yesterday's indictments. Two of these charge conspiracy to violate the lottery laws and the third charges that the use of miniature radio transmitters violates the federal communications act.

According to the indictments the defendants saw an opportunity to reestablish thru the use of telegraph wires and radio the national race reporting service that was dissolved last year by M. L. Annenberg, Philadelphia publisher and former head of the Nationwide News Service.

Defendants under the new indictments included James M. Ragan Sr., former president of Nationwide, who already is under indictment with Annenberg for income tax violations and conspiracy to violate the lottery laws, and William Molasky, the Nationwide distributor at St. Louis who also is named in the Annenberg indictment.

Others Named in Charges.

Others named are: Arthur B. McBride of Cleveland; Lionel C. Lenz, former Nationwide technical chief; Thomas E. Kelly of Baltimore; Thomas J. Ryan of Detroit; Morris Wexler of Cleveland; Russell L. Brophy of Los Angeles; Alfred Goodman of Houston, Tex.; William G. O'Brien of Miami; and Morris Kopit of St. Louis. All were former Nationwide distributors.

Chicago operators indicted were Frank J. [Chew Tobacco] Ryan; Hymie [Loud Mouth] Levin; Harry [Greasy Thumb] Guzik, and Maurice L. [Goldie] Goldstein. The men charged with handling the Victoria hotel headquarters are Edward M. Dobkin, Cornelius J. Sullivan and James Rossi. Bonds of all save Ryan, who is a fugitive, were fixed at $5,000. Ryan's was placed at $15,000 by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson before whom the indictments were returned.

DENIES LAW VIOLATED.

Cleveland, O., April 26 [Special].—Martin A. McCormack, attorney for the Cleveland men indicted today in Chicago, declared the defendants would contend horse racing does not in any way constitute a lottery and dissemination of news concerning it does not in any way conflict with the federal lottery statute.

"Twenty-eight states have made pari-mutuel betting legal," McCormack said. "Sending out the entries, the results, the odds, and the prices paid is merely sending out news about races that are legal and giving full information about it. What bookmakers do with that information after it is sent out it no concern of those who send it out."

American Envoy to Russia Starts for U. S. Tomorrow

MOSCOW, April 26 (AP).—American Ambassador Laurence A. Steinhardt will leave for the United States Sunday on leave of absence, his first trip home since he assumed his Moscow post last August. He is going by way of Bucharest and is to sail from Genoa on an undisclosed United State Line ship.

LOVE PLOT BRIBE BARED BY CHAIN GANG FUGITIVE

Tells How Three Fled Prison Camp.

An avowed fugitive from a Georgia chain gang accused a prison camp employé last night of inducing him and two other convicts to flee that the employé might hide his attempted romance with the wife of one of the convicts.

The man who told the amazing story was held in the Kane county jail at Geneva. He was captured at Geneva early yesterday while he and another of the felons were preparing, as he told the story, to blast the safe of the Western Union Telegraph office there.

Tells of Blazing Crime Trail.

The fugitive identified himself as Sam Jones, 22 years old. Jones, who is colored, said he and the other convicts had blazed a trail of crime across the country in their flight. Richard Baker, 30, named by Jones as one of the fugitives, was seized with him.

Jones was sitting in a stolen car near the telegraph office when he was seized by Policeman Walter Dahlquist. The prisoner said Baker was inside the office. Policeman Dahlquist locked Jones up and then went into the office, from which a safeblower had fled before the safe could be opened.

The policeman soon afterward arrested Baker in the vicinity. He denied his identity and said he never had seen Jones before.

Authorities Hear His Story.

Jones told this story to Charles A. O'Connor, state's attorney; his assistant, Frank R. Reid; Sheriff Walter Dumisch and his chief deputy, Cecil Reilly.

Kitty Gamble came to the chain gang's camp near Lakeland, Ga., this spring to visit her convict husband, Jack Gamble. A prison camp employé attempted to engage her in a romance. His efforts ended in a shooting in a cabin, and it was reported that Mrs. Gamble, who is young and pretty, was slightly wounded.

When Gamble learned of the incident, Jones said, he threatened to expose the employé. The employé then supplied a small prison truck with gasoline and placed the ignition key in the lock. He left it where it was easily available to Jones, Baker, and Gamble, and told them to take it and leave the state.

They did so on April 7, taking Mrs. Gamble with them.

$1,250 Seized in Robbery.

At Lewisburg, Tenn., the men broke into a Western Union office, from which they took $250 cash and $1,000 in travelers' checks. They cashed the travelers' checks along their route to Chicago.

The party drove on to Mississippi, where the men stole the car in which Jones was captured. The route led thence to Omaha, Neb., where Jones said Gamble and Mrs. Gamble left the party. Jones and Baker then came to Chicago.

A telephone call to Warden A. N. Webb of the Georgia prison camp brought confirmation of the escape last night. He denied the story of the romance and the employé's aid in the escape, however, and said he believes Mrs. Gamble is still in Georgia. Warden Webb said Jones was a trusty, privileged to drive the truck, and could have escaped at any time without assistance.

JAILED 100 DAYS FOR DEFRAUDING JOBLESS FUND

Judge Albert E. Isley of Newton, sitting in County court yesterday sentenced John Szymanski, 2703 38th street, to 100 days in the county jail for accepting unemployment compensation to which he was not entitled. He was charged with having received $104 over a period of 10 weeks last fall, part of which time he was working for a construction company. Judge Isley, in sentencing Szymanski, ordered that he must serve 10 days in jail for each $10 he collected illegally from the unemployment fund.

Policeman Recovers After Taking Sleeping Tablets

Russell L. Prendergast, 40 years old, a county highway policeman, was recovering in County hospital yesterday from an overdose of sleeping tablets which, police were told, he took in his home at 5525 Quincy street Thursday night. His wife, Margaret, said he had been despondent because of illness. He is the son of James Prendergast, former state representative from the 19th district.

INDICT SCALISE, UNION CZAR, IN EXTORTION CASE

52 Counts Allege $97,150 in Shakedowns.

(Picture on back page.)

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 26.—George Scalise, czar of the Building Service Employés' International union with a membership of 70,000, today was indicted on 52 counts of extortion and one of conspiracy for alleged shakedowns totaling $97,150. The indictment was obtained by the office of District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey.

George Scalise. [Acme Photo.]

Arraigned in General Sessions court before Judge John A. Mullen, Scalise pleaded not guilty. Judge Mullen continued the defendant's bail at $40,000 despite an impassioned plea by his attorney, John Kadel, that his client is being made a scapegoat by officials of local unions who wanted to save their own skins. Scalise is out on bail, of which $30,000 was supplied in cash from the union treasury.

Scalise Remains Silent.

The not guilty plea was entered by Kadel while the beefy boss of union scrub women, porters, and window washers in the United States remained silent.

Assistant District Attorney Murray I. Gurfein, head of Dewey's rackets bureau, demanded a change in the bond, arguing that if the defendant fled the union would be the loser. He urged Scalise be compelled to pledge his $10,000 home in Brooklyn or his 27 room summer place in Connecticut as collateral.

Kadel heatedly declared his client, who receives a salary of $20,000 a year, has given sufficient collateral to the National Surety company, which wrote the bond, and already has paid $1,800. It is true Scalise served four and a half years in a federal penitentiary for violation of the Mann act in his youth, Kadel said, but now he is acting as a law abiding citizen.

Asks About Union Books.

"Would he be willing to accept a subpena for certain books and records at the national headquarters of the union in Chicago?" asked Gurfein.

After a whispered colloquy with the union chief Kadel told the court the only man who could surrender the records is the secretary, Paul O. David. It is known that Dewey's investigators are in Chicago, altho the prosecutor's office refuses to give out any information about their inquiry.

Judge Mullen decided to continue the bail in its present form. He also continued the $20,000 bail of Scalise's secretary, Miss Anna Kimmel, also known as Miss Kaye.

If convicted, Scalise, as a second offender, could be sentenced from 15 to 30 years on each extortion count and up to three years on the conspiracy count, which is a misdemeanor.

Predicts Early Trial.

Gurfrein said he expects an early trial. The investigation is still continuing along other channels, he asserted.

Investigators estimated it is a "million dollar racket" which Scalise heads. The indictment was confined to activities in New York county and covered episodes for which the prosecutor's office says it has sufficient evidence to prove in court. Also indicted with Scalise was Isidore Schwartz, international representative of local 32A, New York City Hotel Workers.

According to the indictment the two extorted large sums from hotel men, boarding and rooming house keepers, window cleaning contractors, and pest exterminating corporations. They are alleged to have used threats of strikes, picketing, and various forms of labor violence to make their victims fork over the tribute.

ASPHALT PLANTS CLOSED—BY CITY —NOT CARROZZO

The three city asphalt plants in which Mike Carrozzo, rich boss of the Street Laborers' union, called an unexplained strike on April 10 were closed again yesterday. This time orders to stop work came from the city. Eighty-three men, who struck on orders from Carrozzo, were again out of work as a result.

Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, said there is nothing unusual in the shutdown. "We're operating as we have money and materials," he said.

It was reported in the bureau of streets that one of the plants will be reopened Monday or Tuesday and that an equal number of union men will be put to work in this plant and on street restoration and repair jobs.

CAMPBELL OFF FOR ANNENBERG TAX CONFERENCE

United States Attorney William J. Campbell left for Washington yesterday to confer with treasury department officials on the income taxes owed by Moses L. Annenberg, wealthy Philadelphia publisher. Annenberg pleaded guilty in federal District court Tuesday to an indictment charging him with evading payment of 1936 taxes totaling $1,217,296.

Campbell will remain in Washington to attend a conference next Tuesday at which attorneys for Annenberg and federal officials will attempt to reach a compromise on taxes owed by the publisher for the years 1932 to 1936.

"She Reeled Around."

"It looked like the bullet struck her in the arm. She reeled around at first and I thought she was only hurt. Then she fell down and I thought she must be dead.

"I didn't know what to do. I ran across the street, put the gun to my head, and pulled the trigger. But nothing happened. I think it had jammed. I ran to the car, drove back, and picked up Sidney. I gave him the gun and told him, 'I scared her all right. I shot her in the arm.'"

The bullet did not hit Edith in the arm, however. It struck beneath her arm and passed thru her lungs and heart. The gun was found in Sidney Walker's home. It was jammed.

Highlandville, Mo., April 26 (AP).—School was out tonight for every one in this tiny Ozark village except Mrs. Gladys G. Lowe, a 50 year old farm woman who embarked on a sitdown strike to get "justice" for her son's battered nose.

Arrow locates scene of sitdown strike.

Virtually every one of Highlandville's 125 souls turned out for commencement exercises at the Consolidated school. Already on hand was Mrs. Lowe, who strode indignantly into the office of Supt. Stanford Kight yesterday to remain "until school is out, or I get arrested—or get justice."

School was out after the last of the 15 diplomas was handed out, but Mrs. Lowe changed her mind. She decided to stay.

Plans Are Vague.

Her future plans, however, are vague. The telephone operator reported service to the school had been discontinued.

Mrs. Lowe resorted to her sitdown after the county prosecutor refused to take action in a fight in which her 15 year old son, Phillip, suffered a broken nose.

"The bully who picked on my boy is a son of a school board member," she said. "That's why I can't get justice."

Last night she slept sprawled in a chair. Presumably she was there again tonight—after the crowd deserted the school.

"Scared? Of Course Not."

Of last night's vigil, Mrs. Lowe, who has two older children in Springfield, Mo., Teachers' college, said:

"Scared? Of course not. I'm square jawed—that means I'm not pretty—and I weigh 200 pounds. Why be scared?

"Too many things have gone wrong down here. The superintendent is trying to run the whole country and not attending to his school duties."

Mrs. Lowe hasn't seen her husband since she began her sitdown protest, but "anything I do is all right with him." Phillip brings in her meals.

Two Boys Punished.

Superintendent Kight said that shortly after the fight he suspended from extracurricular activities two other boys involved.

He told Mrs. Lowe yesterday "just what I told her before—that I had investigated the case thoroly, taken what action I considered proper, and that as far as I was concerned the case was closed."

FINED FOR DISORDERLINESS.

Elder Albright, 6413 Kimbark avenue, arrested Wednesday night for causing a disturbance at the Skyline Athletic club, 188 West Randolph street, was fined $5 and $5 costs on a disorderly conduct charge yesterday by Judge Edward S. Scheffler in South State Street court.

BUTCHER TELLS OF BEATING BY 2 UNION AGENTS

Thru a Polish interpreter Czeslaw L. Mikolajczyk told a jury in the Criminal court of Judge Joseph A. Graber yesterday how two goons beat him Jan. 6 until he "saw all the stars in heaven."

Joseph Kopke and Harry Hlavacek, business agents of local 638 of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, accused as Mikolajczyk's assailants, are being tried on charges of assault to commit murder and mayhem. Kopke lives at 1845 23d place and Hlavacek at 1533 South Cuyler avenue, Berwyn.

Goon Invasion Described.

Mikolajczyk, who is 51 years old, is a former member of the union. Questioned by Morris Meyers, assistant state's attorney, he said he was at work in a butcher shop at 3710 26th street when the two business agents entered. He said he had been employed there as a porter and was not working as a butcher.

"I was cleaning up," he testified. "Kopke asked me what I was doing there and Hlavacek said: 'Get out.' Kopke had a gun. He pointed it at me and then he kicked me in the groin. Hlavacek looked on.

"I fell into a chair and called for help. I asked for a doctor. Then, when I tried to get up, Kopke hit me on the head with the pistol. Hlavacek also hit me, and I fell down, bleeding at the nose and mouth."

Taken to Hospital.

The witness testified he was taken to a physician later, then to the police and finally to County hospital for treatment.

Previously he had told of being dismissed from the union for nonpayment of dues. He lives at 3035 Cullerton street with his six children. He said he had taken his job in the butcher shop so they would have food.

Testimony in the case will be resumed Monday. The jury is composed of nine women and three men.

MILK CONCERNS AND DRIVERS IN WAGE DEADLOCK

Contract with Union to Expire Tuesday.

Chicago's milk dealers and the Milk Wagon Drivers' union agreed last night that they have reached an impasse in their negotiations for a new wage and hour scale to replace the contract that expires next Tuesday. Doubts were expressed that any agreement under which the union would keep working could be reached in the short time left.

Each side, it was learned last night, has taken a firm position, and the positions are widely separated. The union has informed the dealers that unless there is a new agreement, its members will continue to work under a scale that is substantially the same as the one now in effect [some demands for seniority rights and shorter hours were made].

Dealers Counter with Offer.

A large group of dealers who distribute the great bulk of the city's milk, made a counter proposal last night and forwarded it to the union heads. They said that, in the event there is no signed contract by Tuesday, the drivers must accept a wage cut—from an estimated $52 now to $40—and a change in the present system of commissions.

At present drivers are paid commissions on sales of units [pints of cream, quarts of milk, pounds of butter are units] over specified minimum deliveries. Under the dealers' proposals the men would be paid commissions on total collections they make.

Union Spurns Negotiator.

The dealers stated that costs of home milk distribution must be lowered if further ground is not to be lost to store delivery. They added a willingness to raise drivers' wages $2.50 a week for each increase of 1 cent a quart in delivered milk prices, if the drivers take a cut of $2.50 for each cent the price drops.

The large group of dealers has placed its negotiations in the hands of an attorney, Ernest S. Ballard. On Monday representatives of the two sides met in the Morrison hotel, but the conference failed when the union refused to accept Ballard as sole negotiator.

"We are willing to talk to any dealers at any time," said Henry Weber, president of the union. "We will not exclude anybody from negotiating with us individually."

A one day strike of 200 drivers at the Bowman Dairy company plant was settled last night. The union stopped work because, its officers claimed, the company hired new men instead of giving jobs back to men previously laid off. Under a compromise six old timers were hired and six new men were laid off.

Druggan in Bad Physical Shape, Court Is Informed

A report on the physical condition of Terry Druggan, prohibition day beer baron, was submitted to Judge John P. Barnes of Federal District court yesterday by Dr. B. N. Balding, chief of staff of St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin. Druggan was operated on there a week ago for a stomach ulcer.

Dr. Balding's report indicated that Druggan's condition is critical, and that he probably will be unable to appear for trial next month on a charge of conspiracy to conceal his ownership of the Gambrinus brewery.

PHANTOM OF EVANSTON SEIZED; CONFESSES; HE'S A NEGRO AND 19

Evanston's phantom burglar, who has broken into 41 homes since March 1, was seized yesterday by the Evanston police. He is Charles Duggard, 19 years old, colored, a graduate of the Evanston High school. His home is at 2037 Ashland avenue in the suburb.

Duggard said boastfully that it was easy to enter residences—"all you do is put a ladder up to a second story window." He obtained, he said, only $35, three rings and a pistol from his thefts, but the police asserted the money amounted to at least $150.

The pistol, stolen from John Kerg of 1575 Ashland avenue, Evanston, was traced to Duggard after Policeman Frank Mountain found it in possession of another colored youth. Duggard confessed.

Spring Meeting of Longmeadow Hunt Is Called

BY JUDITH CASS.

FOR the first time in two or three years the Longmeadow Hunt club is to have a spring meeting. Its members will gather at the kennels west of Winnetka at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. For the next two weeks the hounds are expected to meet at 6:40 o'clock on Monday and Wednesday mornings and at 3:30 on Saturday afternoons.

Spring hunting was spoiled last year by wet weather. The footing is pretty good right now, according to Clark J. Lawrence, M. F. H., and he and his fellow huntsmen expect to hunt until the weather turns warm or the fields over which they ride are seeded. Frederic Burnham, president of the hunt, and Mrs. Burnham will give a tea following this afternoon's meet.

Pre-nuptial Party Today in East for Miss Fleming.

Altho Miss Lily Fleming and W. E. Holt Maulsby aren't to be married until June 15, the prenuptial entertaining for them will start today in Baltimore, where Miss Fleming is spending a long week-end with her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Holt Maulsby. Five young men who are to be ushers for Mr. Maulsby are giving the party, which is to be a luncheon at the Johns Hopkins club preceding the Maryland Hunt Cup race. The hosts are Coleman Freeman, Wentworth and David Boynton, John Raine, and William Kempton.

Miss Fleming and Mr. Maulsby will be married at 4 o'clock in the afternoon in the Church of the Holy Spirit in Lake Forest. A reception will follow at the Lake Forest home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Fleming.

The big old brownstone house at 675 Rush street that belongs to the Harold F. McCormicks is showing signs of life these spring days for Mrs. McCormick has come on from California to superintend opening of the house, which has been closed for some time. She is staying at the Drake for a few days, but when she and Mr. McCormick return the latter part of May or the first of June they will be in the old residence.

Miss Virginia Hays and Gene Prochnow to Wed.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Hays of Wilmette today are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Virginia, to Gene Prochnow, son of Mr .and Mrs. Frederick Prochnow, also of Wilmette. The wedding will take place on June 1 at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Hays is president of the Evanston Infant Welfare Service league and a member of the Evanston Junior league. She attended Connecticut College for Women and was graduated from Northwestern university. Mr. Prochnow attended the University of Kentucky.

A number of members of Chicago's Russian colony will meet for Easter breakfast at the Yar following midnight services tonight at their church. Col. and Mrs. Yaschenko have an eastern friend with them to celebrate the Russian Easter. He is Prince Nicholas Demidoff, who lives in Connecticut.

Prince and Princess Rostislav, the Nicholas Starosselskys, Col. and Mrs. George Voevodsky, and Prince Galitzine are others who will meet to feast at the Yar. The Clarence Prentices and the Shreve Badgers, who are not Russian, also will be in the group. Included in the substantial breakfast menu will be suckling pigs and baby lambs, roasted whole.

The Starosselskys will have much the same group for Easter Sunday dinner in Lake Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Nahser [Audrey Kanaley] of Evanston are being congratulated on the birth of a son on April 20 at the Evanston hospital. The baby, who has a 3 year old sister, Audrey, has been named for his material grandfather, Byron N. Kanaley, of Winnetka.

Twin sets of dresses for little girls, baby dresses dating from 1900, and old fashioned parasols are among the quaint articles which will be on sale when members of the Lake Forest Y. W. C. A. hold their annual rummage sale today at headquarters. Mrs. Bruce Thorne is chairman.

Members of the Cliff Dwellers will frolic tonight at a Gone with Picasso party, a dinner and dance. At 11 o'clock there will be an hour's "divertissement consisting of six tableaux setting forth six of the styles in which Picasso presented his subjective idealism in an effort to attain the essence of things." The Herbert E. Hydes, Ralph Fletcher Seymour, Ralph Dewey, the Daniel Catton Riches, Lawrence Longley, and the Murry Nelsons are among those who will have parties of guests.

Front Views and Profiles — By June Provines

Note to Contribs.

A columnist welcomes mail—and stories. But, please lay off the "true" story of the girl whose spring hat, bought on the way to a funeral and, in tissue paper wrappings left in charge of an attendant, later went out on the casket with the funeral flowers. Or if you must send it, don't say it's gospel truth and you know the girl.

The story comes in nearly every mail, always from a writer who believes it a true story, and the hat varies from a $3.95 bouquet of flowers and a head band bought in a chain millinery store to an expensive chapeau from an avenue. Occasionally it happened in Galesburg, Ill., or Madison, Wis.

• • •

Apparently the tale has taken its place among the legends of the country—the folklore that includes such stories as that of the little old lady at the crossroads picked up by the motorists; the body of the dead dog in the stolen suitcase; the mushrooms and the stomach pump; the pinch in the elevator; and the wedding gown that previously had been worn as a shroud, infection from which killed the bride. There are others, and possibly the most familiar is the particularly distasteful story of the dead cat in the package exchanged on the train rack. All of them are told as true stories, and the tellers invariably are astonished and indignant when told their tales have as many locales as there are inns with beds in which Gen. Grant is said to have slept.

Sentimental Journey.

Patricia Collinge, the Birdie Hubbard of The Little Foxes, made a sentimental journey the other day. It was from her hotel to a little house on East Division street, where she lived the first year of her married life.

"The windows still need washing," was her comment afterward.

Miss Dilling's Pupil.

Mildred Dilling, who appears in concert tomorrow at the Chicago Woman's club theater, tells a story about her favorite pupil, Harpo Marx. Their friendship began in the harp studios of a New York branch of a Chicago music store. Miss Dilling was trying out an instrument when Harpo rushed up and exclaimed, "Lady, learn me that." From then on she taught him. When he appeared on one of her student recital programs, played brilliantly and was loudly applauded but refused to appear, Miss Dilling asked him why he had not responded to the ovation.

"I couldn't," he answered. "I was out in front helping to keep it up."

Cuff Notes.

Miss Lillian Gish has twice been a visitor to the Hutchins-Adler class at the University of Chicago; two weeks ago when Adam Smith's Wealth of Nations was being discussed and more recently since the class is reading Marx's Das Kapital. Miss Gish, no mental slouch, says the conversation was pretty confusing on her latest visit. One remembers what a famous columnist said after visiting the class—that he fell off the sled at the first turn. . . . Did you know that you can buy stockings three of a kind instead of in pairs? . . . Miss Eloise Requa, director of the Library of International Relations, was sitting at her desk when the buzzer rang and a desperate voice came over the communical from downstairs: "Is this Miss Requa? This Shrinking World has come. It's in 52 packages. Where will I put it?" (It's a work on world technology versus national politics by Eugene Staley.)

Drama League Has Gay Party for Play Cast

BY INDIA MOFFETT.

The breakfast party given yesterday by the Chicago Drama League for the cast of "Romeo and Juliet," now playing at the Auditorium theater, was the largest and gayest affair of the sort the league has had in years. This was eminently fitting, for the party not only honored the Shakespearean actors, but it commemorated Shakespeare's christening date and the league's own 30th birthday. More than 450 women filled the Blackstone's ballroom and balcony.

Mrs. Lee Alberts, vice president, presided in the absence from the city of the president, Mrs. Paul Steinbrecher. The first speaker was Mrs. John W. Meaker of Evanston, one of the founders of the Drama League of America. She paid tribute to her cofounders, Mrs. Harrison B. Riley, who is in Pasadena, and Mrs. A. Starr Best, who is ill at her home in Evanston. She also revealed that without the inspiration and advice of the late James O'Donnell Bennett, noted Tribune writer, the league never could have been started, nor have survived in the early years. Thru his efforts, she said, the founders were able to reach the stage folk he knew as a dramatic critic and to enlist their coöperation.

It was Mr. Bennett's devotion to Shakespeare and his desire to inculcate a love for the bard in school children that led to the only favor Mr. Bennett ever asked of the Drama League members. This was that they arrange for the placing of floral tributes by school children at the foot of Shakespeare's statue in Lincoln park on the poet's birthday, April 23.

William Montgomery McGovern upheld his reputation as toastmaster. There was regret, of course, when Vivien Leigh did not appear because of a cold, but her Romeo, Laurence Olivier, was there, and so were numerous others of the cast, including the Nurse, Dame May Whitty; her husband, Ben Webster; Jack Merivale, Wesley Addy, Halliwell Hobbes, Katharine Warren, Edward O'Brien, Frank Downing, Alexander Knox, and Robert Ross. Others at the speakers' table were Mrs. Wesley M. Polk, new president of the Drama Club of Evanston and a vice president of the Chicago Drama League, and Carveth Wells.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

We often have stressed the ease with which a coiffure can change the facial contour for the better. In none, perhaps, may you see so complete a transformation as in the girl or woman who begins to expose a lovely, shell-like ear after having kept it hidden under wads of hair.

Another arrangement is smoothing the hair back off the face at its upper sides. Suddenly, a face that has been hidden comes to life beamingly. Yes, hair responds touchingly when asked to aid in face resculpture. It is money well spent to let an artist-coiffeur do it.

Hollywood's makeup technique has acquainted us with the modeling power of cosmetics deftly applied. The principle on which they operate is to use a lighter foundation to bring a feature forward and a darker one to sink it. If eyes are deep set, for example, the use of a lighter foundation projects them. If the nose is too wide, the lighter foundation is applied to the middle and darker foundation on the sides.

To make a square or round face appear oval, the lower part of the cheeks is given the darker foundation. And the double chin can be "washed out," as it is called, by means of the darker foundation. A light foundation will bring a receding chin forward.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

The Chinese System.

Washington, D. C., April 26.—The man who "shot" Lincoln and the man who "made" Hedy Lamarr is James Wong Howe, the only Chinese cameraman in Hollywood. . . . It was Howe who was director of photography on "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," a masterpiece of photography, and it was Howe who made Hedy Lamarr look that way in "Algiers." . . . The most memorable scene in "Algiers," you'll remember, was the first wordless meeting of Boyer and Hedy. . . . He says he accomplished it by focusing the camera first on Hedy's soulful orbs and then getting the camera response from Boyer's Gallic eyes. . . . It was the kind of a scene that the Hays office would have deleted but there was nothing they could objeet to. . . . It wasn't Howe's fault if the eyes had "it," to coin a bad pun, but the scene established that they are damned clever, these Chinese.

To become a glamor girl, asserts James Wong Howe, a woman needs only two features—full lips and expressive eyes. . . . Irregularity of features is no drawback if a girl has these two fundamentals because lighting can nullify irregularity. . . . He made Miss Lamarr's weak chin appear stronger by throwing a heavy light on it. . . . He took attention away from the flatness of her chest by playing his lights on eyes and lips. . . . All I know is that the glamor girls like to have him photograph them. . . . He did a man-sized job for Vivien Leigh in "Fire Over England," he didn't injure Ann Sheridan's "oomph" in "Torrid Zone," and some of the others he has photographed are Pola Negri, Betty Compson, Clara Bow, Nita Naldi, Estelle Taylor, Joan Crawford, Myrna Loy, Bessie Love, Betty Bronson, Fay Wray, Anna Q. Nilsson, Madeleine Carroll, Kay Francis, Loretta Young, Zorina. . . . In fact, he has seen quite a parade of loveliness thru the "finder" of his camera.

To all of you women, here is consolation from a guy who knows. . . . He advises women not to worry if they have a long nose, or a large mouth, or too-big eyes, as irregularities of feature often are excitingly attractive. . . . He points to Ann Sheridan's irregular nose and round, full face; he recalls Bette Davis' pop eyes, Dietrich's broad nose, Norma Shearer's imperfect eyes, Zorina's broad forehead, Myrna Loy's freckles and tipped-up nose, Priscilla Lane's overlarge mouth, Hedy Lamarr's chin. . . . Yet they have done very nicely for themselves, so don't surrender too easily. . . . The feature you consider the poorest may actually be the best if you capitalize on it.

Marlene Dietrich has a broad nose and a narrow face. By lighting her face from the side Howe overcame these defects. If he had lighted her face from the front it would have made her nose seem broader and her face longer. The left side of Madeleine Carroll's face is fuller than the right side. Howe focused his lights on the right side of her face, which put the fuller profile into the shadow and balanced the contours.

Few people have absolutely straight noses. They have a tendency to curve to one side of the face or the other. If the face is lighted from the same side as the direction of the nose's curve it tends to accentuate the curvature. Accordingly, Howe lights it from the opposite side. Ann Sheridan's nose, for example, curves slightly toward the left side of her face. In photographing her, Howe is lighting the left side of Ann's face more than the right. Helen Vinson's eyes are almost oriental in their narrowness. Jimmy makes her eyes look larger by lighting from below them and by focusing his camera on the same level with her eyes.

Colleen Moore presented another eye problem to cameramen. One of her eyes was blue and the other brown. Howe solved it by keeping the blue eye away from the camera. Howe follows the same practice when one of an actress' eyes is larger than the other. He keeps the profile with the larger eye away from the lens. Priscilla Lane represents the typical young American girl. She must be photographed in such a manner as to accentuate her youth and lack of sophistication. Howe did this by lighting her face from the front and by giving her soft, clear lights. Joan Crawford has a well chiseled face. When Howe photographed her he brought out the fine lines of her face by sculpturing with cross lights.

Gangster Film Shows a New Joan Bennett

"THE HOUSE ACROSS THE BAY."

Produced by United Artists
Directed by Archie Mayo
Presented at the Roosevelt Theater

THE CAST

Steve Larwitt	George Raft
Brenda Bentley	Joan Bennett
Slant Kolma	Lloyd Nolan
Mary Bogales	Gladys George
Tim Nolan	Walter Pidgeon
Babe	June Knight
Alice	Peggy Shannon
Federal Judge	Edward Fielding

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Away back in some other incarnation, Joan Bennett was a chameleon, I betcha. . . . At any rate she does have the most amazing faculty of being everybody else but Joan Bennett! Of taking on color from personalities she admires, or, perhaps, fears.

In looks she apes Hedy La Marr—most successfully. . . . And now, as a gangster's high class moll in "The House Across the Bay" she ACTS Vivien Leigh, and is quite reminiscent of that fiery and exquisite lady.

The "house across the bay" is Alcatraz . . . George Raft, racketeer who adores—and marries, believe it or not—the night club siren who possesses his heart, finally lands over there on an income tax count. [Story's not long on originality, as you'll surmise.] His mouthpiece, Lloyd Nolan, desires Geo's wife, and "crosses" him plenty. . . . Then, into her life swoops sweetness and light in the person of Walter Pidgeon, prominent airplane man. ["Swoop" wasn't such a bad word.] . . . In spite of everything he loves her with a pure and abiding love which, eventually, is richly awarded.

Excellent acting makes "The House Across the Bay" satisfactory entertainment. But, by and fore, the piece is as new as last year's bird nest.

Business Men's Glee Club in Spring Concert

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The hundred Chicago business men who make up the Association of Commerce Glee club gave their annual spring concert in Orchestra hall last night. Herbert E. Hyde conducted. Alec Templeton, the blind English pianist who a year ago was made an honorary member of the Association of Commerce, appeared again last evening as guest soloist.

The glee club sang folk songs, art songs, sacred music, and operatic music. The performance had enough flexibility and color variety to be expressive, but it never became oversubtle. Vigor, straightforwardness, and a virile resonance were the distinguishing characteristics of the club's singing.

Mr. Templeton played several pieces, but his unique contribution to the evening was his group of improvisations and comedy numbers. The audience, when asked for suggestions, gave him an unusually discouraging sequence of notes on which to improvise—B, C sharp, A, F, E flat. Nevertheless he managed to make an attractive little piece out of it—a piece full of sudden, down at the mouth cadences.

A little later he gave a hilarious imitation of an opera broadcast. In some respects the imitation was disturbingly faithful.

De Paul U. Choir

Last night the De Paul university a cappella choir gave its annual spring concert in Thorne hall. Throut the program it gave evidence of great improvement and can now pride itself on being one of the best choruses from the schools in this region.

It sings with a good, solid tone, dependable pitch and unexcelled diction, and it responds flexibly to the demands of rhythm and color that its conductor, Arthur C. Becker, imposed on it.

Such technical efficiency was put to best use by Mr. Becker in the secular music and particularly in some elaborate folk song settings. In sacred numbers the conductor has not yet freed himself of exaggeration and mannerism.

Ralph Niehaus of the university's faculty was the tenor soloist, singing a group of two arias and four songs. His smooth and mature style was most effectively used in the familiar "Cielo e mar" from "La Gioconda."

Greek Orthodox Observe Symbolic Funeral of Christ

Thousands of members of the Greek orthodox faith in Chicago participated last night in the symbolic funeral procession of Christ. A cenotaph decorated with garlands was carried in the procession from St. Nicholas church, 5957 South Peoria street, to 63d and Halsted streets. There the Rev. Archimandrite Daniel Gambrilis officiated in the ceremony.

Marry My Daughter

By Alice Duer Miller

(Copyright: 1940: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.)

SYNOPSIS.

Millicent's mother dreams of marrying her lovely daughter off to some one like Dick Shard, who is kind, distinguished, and rich. Dick, who lives in New York, has visited their home in Kansas and shows his appreciation of their hospitality by getting Mrs. Dunham, Millicent's mother, a job after her husband dies. On her visit to New York, Dick takes her to dinner and the theater along with Constance and Alex Stewart. Alex is an invalid and Mrs. Dunham realizes Dick is in love with Constance. After the theater, Mrs. Dunham sees Dick about to be hit by a car, and, in an effort to save his life, she is killed. He makes a death-bed promise to marry Millicent. Determined to keep the promise he goes to see Millicent.

INSTALMENT VI.

KEEPING A PROMISE.

If Millicent stayed at home her only hope was to get a job at Bernstein's—the great department store where salaries were small—if she went away she would have no friends. She tried to speak brightly to Mr. Shard. "O, I suppose I shall go to work."

"Do you mind my asking whether there is any ready money in the estate?"

The estate? She could not repress a smile: "Dr. Ogden said there was enough money in the bank to cover the funeral expenses."

He looked very grave. "Miss Dunham, you know I have a good deal of money."

She'd seen it coming—of course he would offer her money. "I know, Mr. Shard, but that cannot do me any good."

"Under certain circumstances it could."

"I don't know that, but I'll tell you what I thought you might do for me—help me get mother's old job."

He shook his head. "That isn't a job for a young woman—even your mother told me at her age she had difficulties. Besides she was very much opposed to your going to work at all."

"O, I know—poor mother—she wanted me to marry a capitalist and never lift my hand."

He smiled faintly. "Well, Miss Dunham, a capitalist of a sort is now asking you to marry him."

She was so astonished that her mouth opened a little, showing the even line of her little teeth. He didn't help her out by saying anything further, and after a second she gasped: "But Mr. Shard, you don't want to marry me."

"You're not engaged, are you?"

"No, but I hardly know you by sight." She began to laugh gently. "It would be so embarrassing . . . if I said, 'Who is that man over there?' and people told me it was—my husband—and I had to say, 'I'm sorry, but I've only seen him a couple of times.' You're not in earnest."

"Is there any one else you would rather marry?"

"O, yes, heaps of people—almost all the boys I know I'd rather marry than you. I feel at home with them, and I feel a little stiff and unnatural with you, Mr. Shard. I suppose I'm a little afraid of you."

She shook her head. "You see, I don't love you, and—I hate to say it—I just know I never could."

"I haven't asked you to love me," he answered. "I've only asked you to marry me—on any terms you care to lay down."

His calmness frightened her. All the boys that she had refused, or scolded or ordered out of the house, had always given her what she called "an argument"—had protested and pleaded, but she couldn't understand this man. He seemed terribly sure of getting his own way. "I really couldn't do it, Mr. Shard," she said.

He stood up. "Well, don't make up your mind today. There it is. I want to marry you. I'm going away tonight—I've got to go to San Francisco. I'll be back in a month. Talk it over with any one in whom you have confidence—with Dr. Ogden—with any one you like, and give me an answer when I come back."

"O, Mr. Shard, you're very kind, but there wouldn't be any use. . . ."

"No, don't say that. Think it over. Think what your mother would have advised if she had been alive." He smiled at her. He had one of those smiles that seems quite mild and formal at first and then suddenly becomes a warm, genial, boyish grin. But she didn't smile back. His words struck too deeply. It was true. Nothing in all the possible combinations of human existence would have pleased her mother as much as a marriage between her and this man.

As soon as he had gone another visitor arrived with suspicious promptness. He had been lurking across the street until the departure of the New Yorker. He was Roy Ellerman, a tall blond boy with large rather unformed features and arms a little too long for his coat sleeves. Among the group of boys and girls with whom Millicent had been brought up, Roy Ellerman and Rose Ogden were her greatest friends.

Fifteen years before the Ellermans had been great people—owning most of the best farm lands about town; but of late years they had fallen on evil days. Roy was going thru the agricultural college on as small an allowance as he could manage; it had cost him more than he could afford to come home for her mother's funeral. Only his extreme poverty, she knew, kept him from asking her to marry him. As it was, he contrived with the slyness of a good honest man to establish a sort of claim upon her without a spoken word.

Now he came in and kissed her gravely—a tribute to her grief, for kissing her was not his habit. "It's a rotten shame, Milly," he said, "that your mother ever went to New York. It must be a fierce place—worse than Chicago, and that's bad enough. If I had my way I'd never leave the farm. By the way, I have a message from mother and dad—they want you to come and stay with them until you get straightened out—as long as you like . . ."

"Well, you know how the farm is—there's always work, if you want to do it. And I'd be home in the summer. Besides, you can't stay here forever."

They glanced at each other. Millicent knew what he meant—Mrs. Ogden must have been complaining about having her there. Every one knew what Mrs. Ogden was like—smouldering with a bitter sense that life owed her something better than the wife of a poor, hard working country doctor. She was one of those women more common in America than elsewhere, who, tho without beauty, brains or ability, believe that fate had reserved a high destiny for them, if only they had married any one but their present husband.

"O, no," Millicent answered. "I don't mean to stay here but a few days longer."

She was silently wondering where she could go—her own old house? She hadn't the money even to pay Mrs. Herman's modest wages. She looked up at him, and found him gazing tenderly upon her. "Such a strange thing has happened, Roy. Mr. Shard just asked me to marry him."

"That fellow? Why he has his nerve—he must be 40. Milly, you think of doing it—just because he has money."

"Don't you think it was a funny thing for him to do, Roy?"

"Funny? Not a bit . . . a lovely girl like you—20 years younger—get you to go and live in New York where there isn't a single person you know—not a friend you could go to."

"Well, I suppose he figures I'd have his friends."

"Don't you believe it—not New Yorkers—have you ever known why? If you think those guys make friends, you've another guess coming. They'd look down on you as a hick and a Hoosier—a lot of sophisticated society people. They'd make you feel an awful heel. They and their night clubs and theaters . . . that would be no life for you—not a good life like this one."

Gogo Footwear Ready to Step Out with Prints

BY REA SEEGER.

Ready for the print dress parade, designed expressly for fluttering cool summer clothes, the new "gogo" footgear rates all the shopping excitement so far lavished on its display. It's a new variation on the theme of summer shoes . . . comfortable, young looking, colorful, and definitely decorative . . . combined with a wedge sole. There isn't a color or combination of colors imaginable that isn't available.

These airy, cool looking arrivals are made of laced ribbon and leather, summer suede and chiffon kidskin. The narrow baby ribbon is laced in a square lattice pattern over the instep . . . the contrasting suede or kidskin used for the back half of the slipper. Wedge soles are either a medium or high elevation, the toe apertures small, neat, and inoffensive.

Oxford models are especially attractive with printed silk suits or with the dress parade suits of ribbed silks and moirés. Navy, brown, black are stunning with the ribbon lattice design in the same colors. Dark brown kidskin with copper ribbon or the ribbon work of Balenciaga brown fall in with the new rage for brown color schemes in street outfits.

Yellow is a refreshing summer color, and so are the giddy affairs in emerald green. Dull white shoes are particularly effective with the sharkskin fabrics used for both summer clothes and handsome spectator sports costumes. Pastels in pink, blue, green, and yellow are the ideal accents for pastel tinted prints or linens.

In the same shop . . . see the smooth ballerina slippers, new summer street footgear, made of shantung over a last copied from the ballerina slipper. Not a bow anywhere or anything extra in trim, and the heel is a medium wedge in height.

HOMEMADE STYLE NOODLE SOUPS: Two new soups, a chicken noodle and a beef noodle, are delicious enough to be worth calling to the housewife's attention. The mix comes in a package. You bring to a boil a quart of water, add the concentrated soup mix, and simmer for seven minutes. There you have four large servings of wonderfully good soup. Look for it next time you go shopping. There's a lot of flavor concentrated in each package.

OLD FASHIONED CHILI SAUCE: This new sauce tastes like the kind mother used to make. It's so good you can almost eat it all by itself by the spoonful. The flavor is mild and spicy, and you won't have any trouble finding it in the grocery stores.

HERBS IN COOKING: A little thyme, marjoram, sage, and other herb in the right place can turn ordinary cooking into extraordinary cooking. Herbs may make the difference between a good dish and a superlative one.

The "herb farm shop" in a downtown store is a fascinating spot. It makes you want to run home with a complete assortment of these fine English herbs and start cooking up fascinating dishes. There's a clever little rackful of 12 different herbs which may be hung over a nail or hook in any corner of the kitchen, ready for use as needed. It seems to me that any kitchen which aims to produce fine food for its family should have one of these.

There are herbal vinegars, too, such as basil, elder, and tarragon, which make salad dressings unusually flavorsome. And there are herb flavored teas.

Charts showing you how to use these herbs come with them when you take them home. And for cooks really interested in herb flavored cookery, there's a good little book to be found in book stores, "Herbs for the Kitchen," by Irma Goodrich Mazza. Little, Brown & Co. are the publishers, and you'll pay $2.06 for it, including tax.

An electric company has a new movie out which makes you long for one of their wonderfully efficient electric stoves. It's the most interesting commercial movie I've seen. It has humor, a love story, music, and a story to tell. And you're convinced, at the end, that if you only had a new electric stove, you'd set forth the finest meals in the county.

Spaghetti con carne will make the hungriest man happy. Try this recipe and prove it.

SPAGHETTI CON CARNE.

Heat 2 tablespoons of fat in a skillet. Add a chopped onion and cook gently until tender. Add a No. 2½ can of tomatoes, 2 teaspoons salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 2 teaspoons paprika, 1 tablespoon chili powder and cook together for five minutes. Add 1 No. 2 can red kidney beans and simmer for an hour. Then add 1½ cups diced, cooked meat [left over beef, veal, or lamb] and simmer 20 minutes longer. Pour the mixture over hot cooked spaghetti [8 ounce package, cooked in boiling, salted water] and serve. This makes plenty of food for six persons.

Numerology
By Evelyn Holmes

April 27, 1940:

The addition of 2 and 7 gives us the universal 9, which is always hard to live up to because it encompasses so much. In the combination we have the odd and sometimes eccentric 7 with the more adaptable 2. Since a 9 should always express himself to the world at large we can see that some unusual vocation would be most suitable for those born on the 27th. Thru writing acting, music, or thru philanthropic service the full fruition of the gifts might be realized. Those with this birthday may alrea be feeling the effects of emotional stimulation and possible upsets. Prune out your list of friends and seek creative expression rather than waste your energy by emotional outbursts.

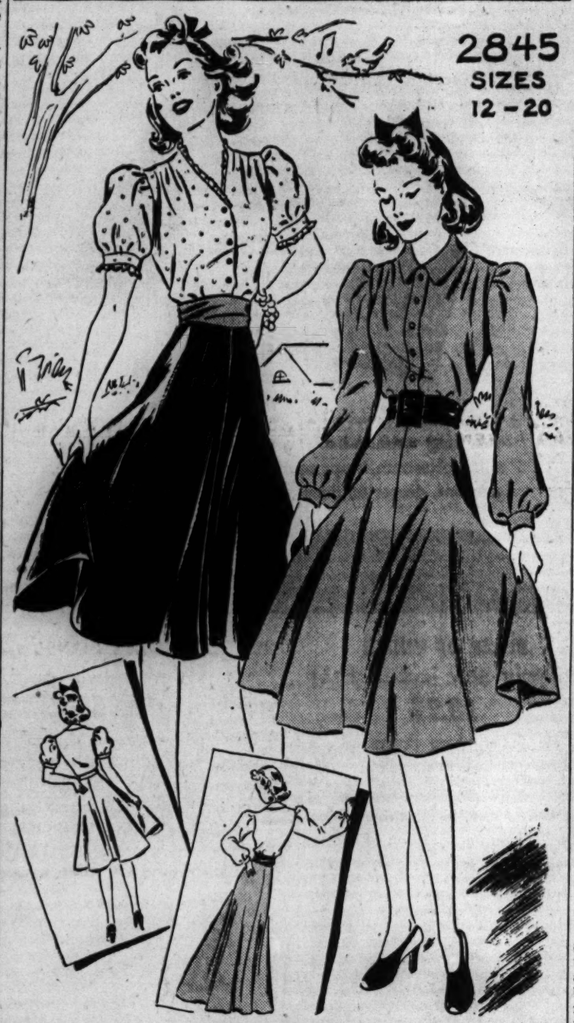
Versatile Spring Pattern



MISS' SPRINGTIME FROCK.

In one pattern, a dressy ensemble and a one piece shirtwaist dress. Both are girlish and sweet if we may use the description. The ensemble unites a contrasting blouse and skirt with a girdle of still another fabric or color. The neckline is V, the sleeves short and puffed, while the skirt is widely flared. An attractive scheme is an eyelet piqué or dotted swiss blouse with a dark silk skirt and a brightly colored silk sash.

The one piece dress with long full sleeves, shirtwaist top, and wide leather belt may be fashioned of silks or cottons in plain colors. Even pastel woolens are grand for cool summer days and may be held over for winter duty too.

Style No. 2845 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 1⅝ yards of 39 inch material for bodice and 1⅝ yards for skirt; ¼ yard for girdle; or 4¼ yards for long sleeved dress of one material.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Nervous Child May Need a Doctor's Care

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

If your child is nervous the possible causes we gave yesterday may not apply in your case. I mentioned only psychological causes, mental or emotional disturbances which may show themselves in nervousness. I still have not touched upon physical causes for nervousness, altho you realize, as we all do more and more, that body and spirit are closely tied up together.

On the physical side are several fundamental reasons for nervousness such as: A child not having enough sleep; not having the right food or enough of it; not having enough rest or quiet play during the day; not having enough vigorous muscular activity; or not having enough fresh air.

Nervousness may follow a serious illness or operation. Actual nerve tissue can become depleted just as any other tissue can. Here time and patience and a wise mother will produce a cure.

Shock, as from an operation or accident, may be responsible for nervousness. Defective hearing or vision may be followed by nervousness. The enforced changing of a child's handedness may create such conflict that nervousness results.

If your child, of any age, seems to be nervous in a way that does not yield to intelligent measures on your part, a thoro goingover by a good doctor who is experienced with children and adolescents is in order.

★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★

A teen-age daughter's pride in her mother's appearance is one of the best incentives a woman can have to keep herself looking attractive. Youth is observing, belonging to the see-all age, and many times is brutally frank when expressing opinions. But just as an old established firm can profit by ideas suggested by "new blood" members, so can a smart mother pick up pointers about improving her appearance.

So, when your young daughter comes home absolutely charmed by the flattering hair style that the mother of one of her playmates is wearing, you can mark it down in the book that your child is on her toes about the way mothers can look. You'll take an immediate inventory of your own hair. You'll have a good permanent when you need one.

When your child remarks, "Mother, you have such pretty hands" you'll see to it that they'll stay that way if you can do anything about it.

You'll watch your makeup and use a rouge that flatters, and apply it in the way to give a "lift" to your face.

You'll choose a powder shade that is becoming and a lipstick that complements your coloring and your wardrobe. You'll even use a little eyeshadow when the time is right.

You won't try to outshine your child, but you won't let her down.

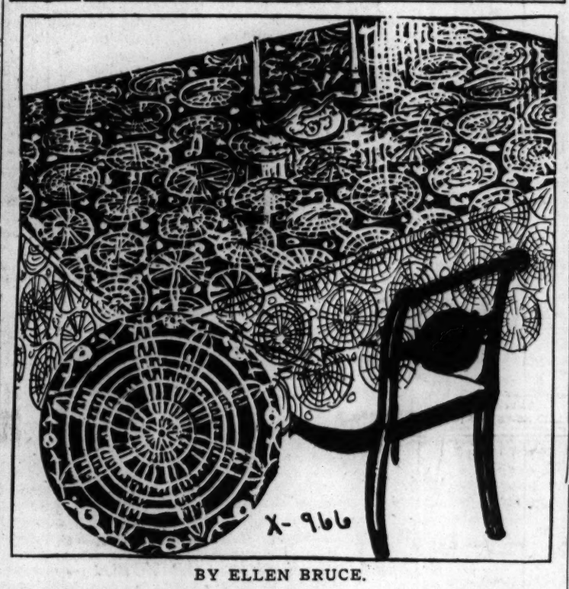
Modern Tablecloth Medallion



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

At a recent competition it was difficult for the judges to select the outstanding article in the tablecloth group. The attractive patterns vied with one another, as did the materials from which they were crocheted. Imported linens as well as domestic threads create exquisite cloths. The medallion illustrated today is a new one, and one which will find instant favor among the crochet workers who are avid tablecloth makers.

For instructions in crocheting the medallion in the 12 spoke wheel design, No. X-966, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

When "counting out" a hand, it is not always necessary to get a complete picture of an opponent's distribution. Sometimes it is enough to know about one or two suits. In today's hand South found out about West's holding in the minor suits and this information led him unerringly to the correct line of play for his contract.

Neither side vulnerable.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	Pass	1 heart	Pass
1 no trump	Pass	3 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

West opened the queen of diamonds and declarer won with the ace. He returned a small heart, West ducked, and East captured the ten with the king. East returned the eight of diamonds, and dummy won with the king. At this point South had his first item of information, that West had started with a four card diamond suit, the eight being East's highest card in the suit his partner had led.

Declarer returned to his hand with a club to lead another heart. Had West played the ace, declarer would have had a very easy time of it. But West carefully played low and dummy's jack held the trick.

The next step was to try out the club suit. Declarer cashed the ace of clubs, West discarding a low spade. This marked West with an original holding of eight cards in the major suits. South did not care whether or not they included the queen of spades. By leading a diamond and allowing West to take his two diamonds, he could be sure of his contract. For, if West also cashed his ace of hearts, declarer would be able to make the queen of hearts, and if West led a spade South would make three spade tricks without the necessity of taking a spade finesse.

Fight Transfer of Methodists' Chicago Board

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 26 [Special.—The Mason and Dixon line again divided north from south here today in parliamentary skirmishes at the first general conference of the new united Methodist church, as northern contingents sought to retain headquarters of the church's board of education at Chicago.

This board, with its annual pay roll of $132,000 and 70 executives and employés located at 740 Rush street, Chicago, has been slated by a church commission dominated by southern churchmen for removal to Nashville, Tenn., headquarters of the former Southern Methodist board of education. In return, Chicago was to get from Nashville the relatively unimportant board of laymen's activities.

Today's action, by a decisive 2 to 1 vote, placed the question in the hands of the more broadly representative temporal affairs committee for report back to the conference tomorrow morning.

Proponents of the Chicago location, pointing to Chicago's rising leadership in all educational fields, explain that removal to Nashville will put Methodism's educational leaders from one to three days farther from points served by the board.

One spokesman pointed out that economical and profitable investment of the education board's $4,250,000 endowments, and management of gross assets of nearly $11,000,000, required quick access to a great financial center. He added that last year more than $1,000,000 was involved in transactions in securities.

Strong opposition to the proposed removal of the church's World Peace commission from Chicago to Washington, D. C., is being voiced on the ground that "we had enough experience with one lobby in Washington and we don't want to be accused of having another one." This referred to the church's Board of Temperance and Public Morals, particularly during the prohibition era.

COURT BARS FIVE CHILDREN FROM A FAMILY'S ARK

But Praises Father Who Spurned Relief.

Seattle, Wash., April 26 (AP).—Paul Satko heard a judge's praise today, but five of his seven children were barred from his home made ark.

Superior Judge William J. Wilkins denied the jobless mechanic's plea for a writ of habeas corpus that would permit him to resume his 2,000 mile voyage to Alaska and a new start in life. He spoke highly of the amateur mariner's courage and self-reliance, but added:

"Suppose Mr. Satko bundled his family into the ark, got out in some treacherous currents, keeled over the boat, and the children drowned. Then how would we feel?"

Craft Called Unseaworthy.

The Satkos and their brood—spurning relief—set out from Tacoma last Sunday on their ambitious adventure, but Capt. John Fox, a licensed mariner, obtained a court order for the children's removal from the 40 foot boat on the grounds it was unseaworthy. Tonight the Satkos and their seven children were united in two apartments paid for by a Los Angeles showman pending another court session Monday. At that session marine experts who will give the ark an extensive examination will testify as to its seaworthiness.

After denying Satko's plea today, Judge Wilkins tossed two $1 bills to his clerk. Spectators' contributions quickly raised $8.25 and Satko accepted the money with thanks.

"The Pioneer Spirit."

"We have here," the judge said, "a man obsessed with the idea to take his family to Alaska and carve out a home in the wilderness. He is possessed of the pioneer spirit of the trail blazers of our past.

"Every one admires the courage of this fellow who has come clear from the state of Virginia, building part of his boat there and finishing it in Tacoma. He has done it all on his own, in these days when our government is giving help to so many people in need.

"I greatly admire him."

The Mother's Story.

While her husband was appearing in court, Mrs. Molly Satko remained aboard the vessel and told why the family had endured privation and ridicule for three years to fight thru to their goal.

"We got tired of living in the city," she said. "That's no place for kids. So we decided to go to Alaska. My husband built the hull, then we came west in it, mounted on wheels. We lived inside it and my husband drove.

"We've never been on relief—and don't believe in it."

CITY AGAIN ASKS LONGER TIME TO DRAW FRANCHISE

Mayor Kelly has asked the federal Public Works administration for another extension of the PWA's deadline for drafting Chicago's unified traction franchise, it was learned yesterday. The mayor has written to John M. Carmody, head of the PWA, asking that the time limit be extended from May 1 to July 1.

The original deadline set by the PWA in making an $18,000,000 subway grant to the city was July 1, 1939. This already has been extended five times at the city's request, after inability to agree with the transit lines on franchise terms. The PWA has the right to cancel the grant if the deadline is not met.

Franchise negotiations have been suspended for the last two weeks pending word from the Reconstruction Finance corporation in Washington. The RFC has been asked to make an initial loan of $25,000,000 to help finance a $100,000,000 transit modernization program under a unified franchise.

BITES HIS OWN THROAT! WANTS MONEY FOR IT!

Hartford, Conn., April 26 (AP).—The case of the tennis player who bit his own throat topped today a list of freak accident claims compiled by the Aetna Life Insurance company.

It happened, so the company said, when the player slipped in lunging after a hard hit ball. His jaws came together so hard that his bridgework was smashed. Then, convulsively, he swallowed the broken plate, which "bit" him on the way down.

"A self-inflicted hotfoot" stood high among other dizzy doings reported by the company. The victim cleaned his spats with an inflammable compound, went for a walk before they dried, and the friction of one spat rubbing against the other set them both on fire. The man's feet and legs were burned before he could snatch off the blazing footgear.

OTTO YOUNG HEIR SEIZED ON DRUNK DRIVING CHARGE

Stanley de K. Young.

Stanley de Korwen Young, 27 years old, heir to a large fortune left by Otto Young, pioneer Chicago merchant, who died in 1906, will appear in Safety court Monday on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was arrested early yesterday for a minor traffic violation at Harri-street and Michigan avenue.

At the Central police station, where he spent several hours in a cell, it was found he was carrying $975 in cash and a check for $8,000. Young said he is the son of Count Joseph de Korwen of Austria, but that he uses his grandfather's name because his mother, Mrs. Ruth Young, has resumed her maiden name. She won a separate maintenance decree in Circuit court here last April 6 and a $100,000 settlement from the court.

TWO INDIANA RELAY TEAMS TRIUMPH AT DRAKE

BEAT MICHIGAN AND OKLAHOMA AGGIE QUARTETS

Loyola Sets One of 3 New Records.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Des Moines, Ia., April 26.—Indiana university swept aside all opposition this afternoon to win the two most important titles at stake on the first day of the Drake relays. Twice in the three and a half hour parade of midwestern and southern athletes the hustling Hoosiers took the stage to prove again that in relay racing they're tops.

Indiana first grabbed the university sprint medley, a potpourri of 220 yard sprints, a quarter mile, and an anchor half mile. And in winning from Michigan, nearest rival, Indiana tied the carnival record of 3:25.1, established last year by Rice institute.

Three Records Fall.

In all the assault of hundreds of athletes from 182 institutions registered in addition to this tie three new all-time marks.

An hour after Indiana's first triumph the Hoosiers' distance medley quartet, with Roy Cochran, Big 9½ quarter mile champion and holder of the world's indoor record for the distance, again leading off, grabbed the other championship. Indiana failed, however, in its effort to displace the meet record for this medley, winning in 10:12.6, six and a half seconds slower than Wisconsin's time two years ago, but the chilly weather and recent rains undoubtedly were responsible.

Texan Sets Discus Record.

Cochran, however, had to share the spotlight with other performers. There was Billy Brown of Louisiana State, for instance, who retained his broad jump championship and also qualified for the finals of the 100 yard dash tomorrow, an event he won a year ago. And there were burly Jack Hughes of Texas, who won the discus title with a record breaking throw of 159.79 feet; tow-headed Fred Wolcott of Rice, and Capt. Ralph Schwarzkopf of Michigan.

Wolcott probably qualified as the work horse of the afternoon show. Not only did he qualify in the high hurdles, his specialty in which he is defending champion and all-time record holder, but he also qualified for the finals in the sprint and ran on two of Rice's relay teams.

Schwarzkopf Wins Two Mile.

Schwarzkopf won the two mile race, tho failing to break the mark set last year by Notre Dame's Gregory Rice. However, he turned in a performance more than adequate for weather conditions and strengthened his position as one of the nation's best middle distance men.

In addition to Hughes' discus record new marks were written by Loyola university of Chicago in the college sprint medley, and by East Texas Teachers, Commerce, Tex., in the college half mile relay.

With Max Lenover running the anchor half mile, Loyola was timed in 3:27.9, four-fifths of a second faster than the 1938 time hung up by the Pittsburg [Kas.] State Teachers. The other members of Loyola's victorious team were Bill Elson, Joe Dougherty, and Emil Mennes.

Cochran Beats Breidenbach.

The East Texas State Teachers ran the half mile relay in 1:27.5, three-tenths of a second better than Butler university did 15 years ago.

In setting up the victory in the sprint medley, Cochran whipped Michigan's Warren Breidenbach in the opening quarter mile. Beverly Boyle and Marc Jenkins followed up with excellent 220 yard sprints, altho Indiana lost the lead to Michigan at the end partly because of poor exchange of baton between Jenkins and Campbell Kane, who ran the final half mile.

Kane staggered momentarily and

Passeau Turns In First Victory.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Claude Passeau, after two unproductive quests for his first decision of 1940, finally discovered yesterday what had been missing. It was Bill Nicholson, recently restored to the Cub lineup with the hope that he might supply some power. Bill supplied power in various forms on this occasion before 4,895 paid customers and 8,100 women guests in Wrigley field. He clubbed five runs across the counter and Passeau did the rest, the title holding Reds fading before this combination by 6 to 2.

Bill Nicholson.

Nicholson turned loose his explosive smash so early that the champions probably figured there wasn't much use of going thru with the day's program. Before a Cub was retired in the first inning the Reds discovered they were a mere matter of four runs in arrears, a total which made them forget completely that they had started off with one tally on their own account. What put them into the discouraging fix was a smash by Nicholson—a homer with the bases filled—after one Chicago member already had scored.

Away Goes Mr. Thompson.

Nicholson's homer, the second by a Cub this season, cut short the stay of Pitcher Gene Thompson. In his wake came Joe Beggs, the ex-Yankee, making his National league debut, and he proved quite a skilled worker. Until the end of the sixth he yielded only five scattered hits, one a single by Nicholson, but in the seventh, he experienced a jarring, the same Nicholson doubling to drive in his fifth run of the day. A Chicagoan, John Hutchings, also was placed in service by the champions. He set down the Cubs in order in the eighth.

Passeau crowded all his exciting moments into the first three innings. At the outset he was the victim of a pair of hits after a pass, the Reds getting their first run with these ingredients. He had two enemies taunting him from the bases in the second and in the third three of them survived, one scoring. But with one out in this session, the ex-Philly countenanced no frivolities. His last six innings were reeled off in such a hurry that nobody reached base, giving him a total of 19 successive outs.

Claude Wriggles Thru.

Passeau's first inning was doubly serious at one point, but he proved slick enough to confine the damage to one run. Werber opened the game with a tap in front of the plate, Todd tagging him, but Frey walked and Goodman singled to center, putting Frey on third. F. McCormick punched a single into right to score Frey. Lombardi's hopper to Herman forced F. McCormick at second and the Cubs put on a high class beefing act when Umpire Tom Dunn refused to allow that Lombardi had been doubled at first. Dunn ruled that Mattick's relay pulled Cavarretta's foot off the bag. Craft then popped to Mattick.

Five men were involved in the ousting of Thompson in the Cubs' first, and all of them scored, principally because Nicholson's lengthy smash came in exactly the right spot. Hack started the whole affair by walking. Herman smacked a single into left and the bags were filled on

Johnny Allen Batted Out in 7 Run Seventh.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., April 26. — Large Thornton Lee, the Arizona Daniel Boone, whose spring pitching prior to today was confined to three innings against the Cubs in Phoenix on March 31, held the Cleveland Indians to four hits this afternoon as he and his teammates ran around the bases for an 11 to 1 victory. The Indians' run was scored on a wild pitch, the only mistake Thornton made all afternoon.

The Sox made a batting fiesta of Lee's American league 1940 debut by ripping loose with a 13 hit attack on Johnny Allen, who had held the Detroit Tigers to three hits in the Cleveland opener, and his successor, Joe Dobson. The Sox hit total was good for eight extra bases.

Lee Gets Perfect Support.

Mike Kreevich had a triple, a double and two walks; Joe Kuhel smacked two doubles and drew one pass; Bob Kennedy knocked a double and a single and walked once; Taft Wright had a double and a single and Mike Tresh had three singles and Julius Solters made a double with the bases loaded.

Lee did not walk a batsman and there wasn't an error behind him. The Indian hits all were doubles. Hemsley made the first of these at the start of the second and later scored. Ray Mack made the next two, one to start the sixth after which he promptly was sunk at third, and another with two out in the eighth. The fourth was made by Ben Chapman with two out in the ninth, after which Lee fanned Hal Trosky to end the game.

Dykes Suspects Tampering.

Manager James Dykes has contended that the Indian team consists of the Bob Feller-Roille Hemsley battery and that his team would not spare the horses in the first meeting in which Feller was not available. As the skipper watched his boys make him look good today, he was all over the place. He squawked that Allen was tampering with the ball as, he claimed, Feller had been caught tampering in the ninth inning yesterday, and otherwise made his presence

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DES MOINES, Ia., April 26.—Track conditions for the 31st Drake relays this afternoon were said to be the best in the history of the event. . . . Fair weather and mild temperature are predicted for tomorrow, so new records are almost a certainty. . . . Equaling the speed and skill of the contestants today was the efficiency of the organization conducting the games. . . . The Drake meet attracted 2,500 athletes from 182 schools, but the day's program was run off as quickly and efficiently as if it had been a dual competition involving 40 or 50 entrants. . . . Six of the eight qualifiers in the 120 yard high hurdles are from the south. . . . Among the honorary officials was Maj. John L. Griffith, who founded the Drake carnival in 1910 when he was the school's track leader. . . . Maj. Griffith, now commissioner of athletics for the Big 9½ conference, took a series of left jabs at President Robert M. Hutchins of Chicago at a banquet of coaches and officials tonight. . . . Among the audience were Fielding Yost of Michigan and Kenneth L. Wilson of Northwestern, who had a chance to land a right cross on Dr. Hutchins' athletic policies at a special meeting of conference athletic directors in Chicago last Sunday, but they swung wildly. . . . They are said to be practicing diligently for their next bout in the event Battler Hutchins gives them a return match.

J. M. Saunderson, who has been attached to Morningside college's athletic department since memory of man runneth not to the contrary, is referee of the relays. . . . Ted Canty of Chicago, another Drake veteran, served as announcer. . . . There were other events that developed more class and speed, but the contest that gave your correspondent his greatest entertainment was the shuttle race for grade school boys, most of whom wore overalls and none of whom had track attire. . . . As far as we know, officials never were able to figure out the winner. . . . Jim Kelly, track coach at Minnesota, spent much of his time lining up talent for the National Intercollegiates to be held in Minneapolis June 21 and 22. . . . Among those attending the sports session of the American Collegiate Publicity association this morning was a college president, the Rev. M. J. Martin of Loras. . . . Jack Crangle, whose hair is whiter than Bo McMillin's, was greeting old friends in hotel lobbies before today's preliminaries. . . . Crangle, one of Illinois' gridiron immortals, is a business man in Columbia, Mo. . . . This is the last year Pitch Johnson of Drake will direct the relay carnival. . . . He has signed as track coach at Stanford and will report there next fall.

Only 83 athletes from three universities and three high schools participated in the first Drake relays. . . . The event caught on steadily, and during Tug Wilson's régime as Drake's athletic director it was decided to run the games on the same day as Pennsylvania's famous carnival. . . . "That was the most critical year the Drake games have faced," Wilson said today, "and we owe a debt of gratitude to the late Knute Rockne for helping us to come thru successfully. I made a special trip to Chicago to inquire of Rockne if Notre Dame would patronize Drake instead of Penn, where the national spotlight was focused. Rockne said he would send the entire Notre Dame squad, with the exception of High Jumper Johnny Murphy, to Des Moines, and from that moment Drake has been able to get more than its share of the nation's talent." . . . A Chicago girl reigns as queen of the carnival. . . . She is Miss Merle Lindsten, blonde, blue eyed beauty from Coe college of Cedar Rapids. . . . She was picked from a large list of candidates from all over the United States.

Hail the Big 9½.

Once there were 10, full of action—
Keen to the lure of the game;
Now there are 9 and a fraction,
And, somehow it isn't the same.
Those were the days when the nation
Thrilled to the feats of the 10
Who battled thru weal or frustration
And won, or were beaten, like men.
Now there are 9 and a fraction
And the fraction threatens the whole,
Faction squabbles with faction
"Big," as a name, on the morrow
May well be the cause for a laugh—
Will it be, then, to its sorrow,
The "Little 9½"?

Let's Not Be Too Involved.

You're a little off, Arch, in your mathematics, calling the Western conference the Big 9½. If President Hutchins of Chicago is going to continue to dictate its policies why not designate it the Big I? Or, since he seems to control the votes of athletic directors at Michigan, Indiana, Northwestern, Ohio State, and Illinois, as well as his own half director, add his five and a half votes to the other nine and make it the Big 14½.

For a Pal Who's Gone Away.

He does not come to greet me with a roar—
While loving eyes are looking up at me—
Those soft, dark eyes that I shall see no more;
His sleeping rug lies folded by the door—
Mute relics that he will not need again.
I wait in vain for him—to hear his bark,
To stroke his ears, to hold him close to me,
To know that I slept safe when all was dark
While he kept vigil all night faithfully.
Just a dog—but to me a loyal friend,

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Louisville, Ky., April 26.—The advance guard of the Kentucky Derby crowd converged on this town today, ready for tomorrow's opening of the Churchill Downs meeting. The first day's program will be headed by the Clark handicap and featured by the Daniel Boone purse.

Tho six of the seven entries in the latter event are eligible for the Derby, it generally is agreed that only the winner will stand much chance of even getting to the post in the big race which will be run a week from tomorrow.

While Tough Hombre, Star Chance, True Star, Designer, Potranco, and Predicate are competing tomorrow at Churchill Downs, followers of the stronger Derby candidates will be keeping an eye on Jamaica, where the Wood Memorial will be run. The outcome of this race will determine to a large extent the makeup of the eastern contingent which will come out for the Derby.

Pictor Definite Starter.

W. L. Brann's Pictor, which won last Saturday's Chesapeake stakes, is booked already as a definite Derby starter. He is not running in the Wood. However, 15 other Derby candidates are in that race, including Fenelon, Andy K., Flight Command, Carrier Pigeon, Red Dock, and Robert E. Lee.

Practically every one in Kentucky is talking about Bimelech's performance in winning the Blue Grass stakes yesterday at Keeneland. That just about settled the Derby for most of the people in this part of the country. After watching the Bradley horse outsprint Roman in the first half mile and then display effortless staying power for the remainder of the mile and an eighth, Kentuckians are convinced that he will be able to take command when he pleases in the Derby.

Bimelech's Form Impresses.

It was not so much what he did in the Blue Grass stakes as the way in which he did it. Tho Roman is one of the fastest horses in the country for the first half mile, Bimelech stayed right with him while racing on the outside completely around the first turn.

When they were straightened out in the backstretch, the Bradley horse went to the front with such graceful, easy strides that he seemed to be breezing thru a routine workout instead of outrunning a brilliant rival. And what was more, that early burst seemed to take nothing out of him for he came on home like a picture horse with never a sign of distress. So the Kentuckians can't be blamed too much if they believe all the other Derby candidates are wasting their time.

Bimelech in Derby Trial.

The first important event for Derby candidates during the Churchill Downs meeting will be the Derby trial, which will be run Tuesday. This is expected to bring Bimelech out again. The Blue Grass was the only race he had this spring.

Some horsemen are of the opinion that he seemed so sharp yesterday that he will be ready for the Derby without going to the post again, but it is considered probable that his handlers will take advantage of this last chance for a tuneup. He is expected to arrive from Idle Hour farm on Sunday.

Dixiana Farm's Sirocco is considered a certain starter in the trial. Trainer Jimmy Smith wants to give him at least one more race to put him on edge for the Derby. The Dixiana representative gave an excellent performance in winning a mile and sixteenth event on yesterday's program at Keeneland. It was his second start after wintering in Kentucky.

15 Derby Eligibles Race Today in Wood Memorial

New York, April 26 (AP).—Fifteen of the 16 horses which will go to the post in the $25,000 added Wood Memorial stakes at Jamaica tomorrow are eligible for the Kentucky Derby a week later but none is rated in the class with E. R. Bradley's Bimelech, high powered favorite for the Derby crown.

The Wood has been expanded from a mile and 70 yards to a mile and a sixteenth this year and, if all the overnight entrants go to the post, the purse will total $27,000, the highest in the history of the event.

Trainer Max Hirsch's entry of Dit and A. J. Sackett's Tola Rose and Sonny Whitney's pair of Carrier Pigeon and Flight Command will share the favorite's rôle at odds of about 3-1.

GRIFFITH TWITS DR. HUTCHINS ON FOOTBALL VIEWS

Des Moines, Ia., April 26 (AP).—Maj. John L. Griffith charged here tonight that when Robert M. Hutchins, University of Chicago president, "states that football is a major handicap to education he makes a categorical statement that is not susceptible to proof."

The Western conference athletic commissioner discussed "Is Football a Handicap to Education" at the annual banquet held in connection with the Drake relays which he founded here in 1910.

Maj. Griffith asserted in his prepared address that President Hutchins, who abolished football at his institution this year, has the right to advocate removal "of one or all sports."

U. of C. a "Country Club."

"By the same token," he added, "those of us who believe that the boys who like to play a rough and tumble game such as football should be allowed to do so—have a right to express our opinions."

Saying that Dr. Hutchins was quoted January 12 as declaring "football has done much to confirm the popular misconception that the university is a country club," Griffith stated:

"I cannot resist the temptation to call attention here to the fact that Dr. Hutchins is now administering a five million dollar country club as a part of his educational duties.

"He remarked the other day that 'the discontinuance of football at the University of Chicago may mark the beginning of higher education in the United States.' I am sure that we all agree the University of Chicago was an institution of higher learning when it was represented by good football teams."

Lists 50 as Dissenters.

Griffith said he had collected definitions of some 50 prominent educators and "it is interesting to learn that almost without exception that these men do not agree with the Hutchins definition of education."

"It is Dr. Hutchins' belief that football and philosophy are in competition," the commissioner said, "and he undoubtedly believes that if none of his boys was permitted to engage in intercollegiate football they and the public would pay more attention to the things which he champions."

AL BLOZIS SETS SHOT PUT RECORD IN PENN RELAYS

Georgetown Star Pushes Weight 55 Ft. 5⅜ Ins.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 26 (AP).—One prodigious heave by Alfred Blozis, Georgetown giant, saved several hundred young athletes from complete frustration in their assault on records today, the first day of the 46th annual Penn relay carnival.

As the runners and hurdlers, racing over a fast track bettered last year's rain sodden times, Blozis broke the 16 pound shotput record with a toss of 55 feet 5⅜ inches.

The heave, made on his second preliminary try, bettered by nearly three feet the previous mark of 52 feet 9¼ inches, set by William Watson of Michigan last year. To make his day a complete success Blozis then untwined the winning discus toss of 154 feet 6¼ inches.

Several Records Approached.

Several performances approached record speed. Two champions in the college class successfully defended their titles. The Pittsburgh quarter mile relay team sprinted to its second consecutive victory in that event in :41.7, beating North Texas State.

Frank Fuller of Virginia rushed over the 120 yard high hurdles in :14.8 for his second straight victory in that event. He beat George Knoerl of Cornell by two yards.

New champions were crowned in the other college events which had their finals today. A classy Maryland university team won the distance medley event, with Ohio State and Manhattan battling for second, 25 yards back. The Buckeyes took the place spot.

Roy Fehr of Michigan State won the first two mile run here since 1927 in 9:25. His time was only a half second off the record set by R. B. Rucker of Bates in 1921.

Princeton Wins Sprint Medley.

Princeton dethroned Pittsburgh as the college sprint medley relay champion, winning the event on a time basis after New York U., had provided a thrilling interlude in winning its heat. Princeton's time was 3:27.7.

30 HIGH SCHOOLS COMPETE TODAY IN PIN TOURNEY

The second annual high school bowling congress will be held today in the Uptown recreation, 1103 Bryn Mawr avenue, with 150 bowlers from 30 high schools seeking individual and team championships. Lane Tech, which won the 1939 title with a 2,270 score, will defend its crown, but Roy Hoegh of Austin, who fired a 630 singles series last year, will not be back, having been graduated. The winning team will receive a plaque, and the three top individual bowlers will be awarded ribbons. In addition each of the 150 participants will receive a major athletic letter from his school.

The second annual over your average tournament, sponsored by the Bowling Proprietors of Greater Chicago, will open tonight when 64 five man teams, representing bowling proprietors, go on in four squads at Monte Carlo recreation, 2263 Lincoln avenue. The women's division will open tomorrow night, with 28 teams bowling in two squads on the Legion alleys, 7350 Cottage Grove avenue.

JUNIOR STOPPED BY ARMSTRONG IN SEVENTH ROUND

Boston, Mass., April 26 (AP).—Henry Armstrong, welterweight champion, scored a seventh round technical knockout over Paul Junior, Lewiston, Me., veteran, before an estimated crowd of 18,000 tonight in the Boston garden. Junior, whose battered face has stopped 1,000 fists during his long career, was dropped four times and was going down for the fifth time when Referee Johnny Martin waved Armstrong to his corner.

One Hit, 1 Gun, 2 Errors; Ex-Tiger, Pal Get a Walk

Bill Akers, 35, of 963 Cuyler avenue, former shortstop for the Detroit Tigers, and Edwin Walsh, 35, of 954 Cuyler avenue, appeared before Judge Mason E. Sullivan in Town Hall court yesterday on charges of disorderly conduct. Akers, who had a cut on his head, charged Walsh struck him on the head with a ball bat during a quarrel. The latter admitted the charge, but said he did it because Akers had a gun. Akers denied everything, and Judge Sullivan discharged them after they had agreed to settle their differences amicably.

nearly fell, but cut in behind Dye Hogan of Michigan and was off. On the final turn Kane made his move and Hogan couldn't withstand the challenge.

Tolliver Wins for Hoosiers.

Wayne Tolliver, final runner for Indiana in the distance medley, carried the Hoosiers to victory. Cochran led off and was followed by Bob Hoke and Edgar Hedges. Tolliver had a two yard lead at the start of the mile.

Schwarzkopf wasn't pressed in romping over the two mile course. It is also likely that he wasn't shooting for a record. Bill Jenkins of Iowa State Teachers college, his nearest rival in the field of 13 starters, was second by 40 yards.

Kinert of Marquette Hurt.

Schwarzkopf's time was 9:22, 12 seconds slower than Rice's record. Jenkins finished 30 yards in front of John Munski of Missouri.

Harry Kinert, Marquette's anchor runner in the half mile relay, pulled a muscle as he rounded the last turn. Marquette would have qualified for the finals today except for this misfortune.

CLARK HANDICAP OPENS KENTUCKY DERBY MEETING

six furlong Daniel Boone purse tomorrow have done nothing to warrant serious consideration as Derby candidates, but their trainers are going on the theory that anything may happen before or during a horse race, so they are keeping their charges at work right up to the time for withdrawal. Some may go to the post because of their owners' wishes to be represented in the Derby whether or not there is a chance of winning.

The $2,500 Clark handicap, which heads tomorrow's program, has drawn a field of 10 overnight entries, including Technician, Unerring, Manie O'Hara, Mucho Gusto, and last year's winner, Arab's Arrow. The distance is a mile and a sixteenth.

FINAL AT HAVRE

Havre de Grace, Md., April 26 (AP).—The $10,000-added Philadelphia handicap, feature race of the closing day program here tomorrow, drew a field of nine today. Whichcee, 6 year old from the A. C. T. Stock farm, has been assigned top weight of 122 pounds for the mile and a sixteenth race.

Rated next in line, with 120 pounds, is Mrs. A. J. Abel's Honey Cloud. Brandywine stable's Masked General drew 116 pounds and W. L. Brann's Aethelwold, 114.

Others entered overnight were Brandywine stable's Bull Whip, 113; Mrs. E. A. Martin's Supreme Sir, 108; Howard Bruce's General Mowlee, 108; J. A. Manfuso's Affair, 104, and Knollwood stable's Solarium, 102.

FOOTBALL DRILL ENDS TODAY AT THREE SCHOOLS

Intrasquad games will conclude spring football practice today at Notre Dame, Northwestern, and Illinois. Returning varsity men will line up against graduating seniors in the Notre Dame game to be played in the Irish stadium at 2 o'clock.

Maryland Hunt Cup at Stake in Race Today

Baltimore, Md., April 26 (AP).—With 13 top notch timber-toppers named to oppose him, Blockade, 11 year old son of Man O' War, will go after his third straight Maryland Hunt cup victory tomorrow in the 47th running of the world famous steeplechase.

If the Maryland trained Blockade wins the event, the toughest timber race in America, his owner, Mrs. E. Read Beard, will gain permanent possession of the Maryland Hunt cup trophy, the gold challenge cup.

Rules of the race provide that an owner who wins three times may retire the cup. Blockade was the winner in 1938 and 1939 and holds the record of 8 minutes 44 seconds for the grueling four mile course, studded with 22 stiff timber and brush jumps.

Charles S. Cheston of Philadelphia also has a chance to retire the cup. His Captain Kettle won in 1933 and 1934 and this year he is represented by Reconsidered.

Running of the Maryland Hunt cup marks the end of Maryland's spring point-to-point and formal social season. The race annually draws a fashionable crowd of 12,000 to 15,000.

The course is laid out over J. W. Y. Martin's Worthington valley estate, where a landing field has been provided for those who come by plane.

DODGERS WIN 6TH AS FITZSIMMONS BLANKS PHILLIES

Freddy Scatters 7 Hits for 6-0 Triumph.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 26 (AP).—The undefeated Brooklyn Dodgers set an all-time club record today in their sixth straight victory of the season—a 6 to 0 triumph over the Phillies. Never had the Dodgers won that many without loss in opening any of their 50 seasons of big league baseball.

The veteran Freddie Fitzsimmons' seven hit pitching kept the Phillies far from home plate for the Dodgers' third shutout of the season.

Clyde Smoll, rookie southpaw who started for the Phillies, was charged with the loss. Gus Mancuso caught Fitzsimmons, his former Giant battery mate, for the first time in Dodger uniform.

MOON MULLINS—DAFFY DEPARTURE

Red Sox Pound Yank Hurlers; Triumph, 8-1

Boston, Mass., April 26 (AP).—Emerson Dickman of the Boston Red Sox kept the New York Yankees under almost perfect control today, beating them, 8 to 1, in the first meeting of the year between the two front runners of last year's American league pennant chase.

Dickman shut out the champions until the ninth inning when they collected three of their seven hits for a run.

The Red Sox got away to a fast start, piling up four runs in the first inning at the expense of Monte Pearson. They added another in the third and two more in the fourth when they finally knocked Monte out. Spud Chandler and Lefty Lee Grissom, obtained from the Cincinnati Reds, finished for the Yanks. Score:

NORTHWESTERN AND NOTRE DAME WILL MEET TODAY

Northwestern's baseball team will meet Notre Dame on Roycemore field in Evanston today in a return game. The Irish won the first game in South Bend, 6 to 1, behind the one hit pitching of Norvall Hunthausen, who is slated to pitch again today. The Wildcats have won their last three games, defeating Chicago two straight last week and Bradley Tech last Tuesday. The victories against the Maroons boosted the Purple into a .500 per cent average in the Big 9.

Coach Stan Klores plans to start either John Goldak or Dick Klein against the Irish. Goldak turned in a good job of relief pitching in the first game against Chicago, holding the Maroons to four hits. Klein pitched the last three innings of the second Chicago game, striking out five men and allowng but two hits.

a pass to Galan. Thompson's wildness continued long enough to give Leiber a walk, Hack scoring. Then Nicholson, with the count one and one, took a nice free swing and the ball arched onto the runway in right field for four runs. Thompson was yanked and Beggs brought the inning to a snappy conclusion.

Passeau suffered no ill effects from a single and a pass in the second, but the third was more or less complicated. Goodman singled to right and scooted to third while Herman was running down F. McCormick's single, which had squirted off Cavarretta's glove. Lombardi bounced to Cavarretta, whose throw to Mattick forced F. McCormick at second, Goodman scoring. Passeau felt charitable while pitching to Craft and gave the fellow a pass. The gift amounted to nothing because M. McCormick fanned, and Joost grounded to Mattick.

The seventh, on which Nicholson put the frosting with his two bagger, opened with Hack bunting to F. McCormick for an easy out. Beggs suddenly lost his aim for the first time, walking both Herman and Galan. Leiber bounced to Joost, forcing Galan. Then Nicholson hoisted a fly over Goodman's head for two bases, Herman strolling home, and Leiber halting at third. Cavarretta rounded out a futile afternoon of bat swinging by flying to Goodman.

IT'S FRENCH TODAY

The Cubs will make their first 1940 appearance this afternoon in St. Louis, home of the Gas House gang. Larry French, who southpawed the gang into a shutout when they were in Chicago last week, will face them again today. Lon Warneke is the likely Cardinal starter.

Pitcher Julio Bonetti was sold outright yesterday to the Cubs' minor league cousins, the Los Angeles Angels. The Cubs purchased him from the Angels last fall on the strength of his 1939 Coast league record of 20 victories and 5 defeats.

When the Cubs headed for St. Louis last night there was no occupant in the berth belonging to Clay Bryant, the owner of a problematical pitching arm. Bryant was told to stay at home, but so far as is known wasn't given any orders about visiting the medicine men.

The Reds, who were held to five hits by Dizzy Dean in Thursday's game, decided that the Cubs' expensive showman seemed to have a little more speed than a year ago. What bothered them, however, was a sinker ball which Diz employed frequently.

Ed Joost had to sit in at short for the Reds yesterday. Billy Myers, the regular occupant, took a vacation because of a slight leg injury suffered while the Reds were practicing last Tuesday on their flooded home premises.

Vallie Eaves to Face Browns at 2 o'Clock Today

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., April 26.—The White Sox and the St. Louis Browns will play in Comiskey park tomorrow and Sunday afternoon. Vallie Eaves will make his second start of the season for the Sox.

Tomorrow's game will start at 2 o'clock. Sunday starting time will be 3 o'clock. Ted Lyons will pitch the Sabbath encounter and will be seeking his second victory of the season and his 223d as a member of the White Sox.

The Sox will go directly from Comiskey park to the Englewood station after Sunday's game to catch a Boston bound train. They are scheduled to play three in Boston, two in New York, three in Philadelphia, two in Washington, and three in Detroit.

Manager Dykes made it known before today's game that if there wasn't a victory there would be some jugging of the batting order. He made it known, however, that he contemplated no benchings.

Sox Hammer Allen; Beat Indians, 11-1

The Sox got busy against Allen at the earliest possible moment. Kennedy socked Johnny's first pitch for a double to center. Kuhel fanned, but Kreevich tripled to the end of the right foul line, scoring Kennedy. Solters walked. Appling grounded out to Mack, Kreevich scoring. Wright, who had a perfect day against Bob Feller with three hits yesterday, kept going his first time up today by singling to center, scoring Solters. Wright was caught trying to steal second.

Tresh wasted a single in the second and Kreevich wasted a double in the third, to give the Sox five hits for nine bases before the Indians got a runner on base. At the start of the third, however, Hemsley doubled along the left foul line and took third while Appling was throwing out Mack. Hemsley held third while McNair threw out Allen, but scored on a wild pitch. Boudreau flied to Solters.

Indians Get Second Hit.

With one out in the fifth Kuhel doubled to right center and Kreevich walked. Joe and Mike executed a double steal. Solters bounced out, Keltner to Trosky, Kuhel scoring. When Kreevich tried to score from second on the out, he was doubled at the plate on Trosky's relay to Hemsley.

Mack opened the sixth with a double in short right center for the second hit off Lee. Allen grounded to Appling, whose throw to Kennedy nipped Mack. Boudreau was called out on strikes and Lee threw out Weatherly.

With one out in the seventh, Lee reached first on Mack's error and stopped at second on Kennedy's second hit, a single to center. Kuhel hit his second double, scoring Lee, then Kreevich was given an intentional pass, filling the bases. Solters hit the right field wall, apparently a foot or two fair, but Umpire Steve Basil didn't see it that way. The runners, to the loud accompaniment of howls by Manager Dykes, were sent back to their bases and Solters returned from second. When play was resumed Solters again doubled, this time well into left field, Kennedy and Kuhel scoring and Kreevich stopping at third. Appling singled to right, Kreevich scoring.

That was all for Allen and Dobson went in to pitch. Wright doubled to right, Solters scoring. There was a pause while McNair struck out again, but Tresh made his third hit, a single to right, Appling and Wright scoring. Mack threw out Lee.

MRS. JOY MORTON LEAVES 2 MILLION FOR N.U. HOSPITAL

Famous Arboretum Will Be Preserved.

A gift of more than $2,000,000 to Northwestern university was made public yesterday when the will of Margaret Gray Morton, widow of Joy Morton, financier and founder of the Morton Salt company, was filed in the Probate court of Du Page county at Wheaton. Mrs. Morton died April 22.

Mrs. Morton's will provided that the bequest be used for the erection and endowment of the Morton Memorial hospital on the Chicago campus of Northwestern university and for medical research.

After making specific bequests to relatives the will gave $50,000 each to the Chicago Historical society, Blackburn college at Carlinville, Ill.; Edward sanitarium, Naperville, and the Home for Convalescent Women and Children, Chicago. The Morton arboretum, famous wooded preserve of more than 700 acres near Lisle, Ill., which was established in 1922 by Joy Morton, receives $100,000 and certain other funds.

Thornhill farm, Mrs. Morton's home, lying adjacent to the arboretum, was left to Sterling Morton of Chicago and Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy of Lake Forest, son and daughter of Joy Morton and his first wife, Carrie Lake.

Franklyn Bliss Snyder, president of Northwestern university, announced that the new hospital, the fourth medical unit on the Chicago campus, would be built on property owned by the university to the east of Passavant hospital on East Superior street.

Present Northwestern buildings are the Montgomery Ward Memorial building in which the medical and dental schools are located and the Floyd E. Patterson Memorial building housing Passavant hospital.

Build Large Medical Center.

Recent gifts from G. Herbert Jones, Chicago steel manufacturer, are enabling Wesley hospital to erect a 2½ million dollar building in the medical center.

Dr. Snyder said that no estimate could be made as to when construction of the new hospital would be undertaken. The will provides that its type and design and the purpose for which it shall be used shall be determined by university officials in consultation with Mrs. Cudahy and Sterling Morton. The First National bank of Chicago was named executor of the will and trustee of a trust fund established for certain relatives.

Mrs. Morton's late husband was the son of J. Sterling Morton, secretary of agriculture under President Cleveland, and the originator of Arbor day.

WEST SIDE PLANS 5 YEAR PROGRAM OF IMPROVEMENT

A five year improvement program for the near west side was announced yesterday by Frank A. Hecht, president of the West Central association. Hecht said the program has been adopted by leading west side merchants, manufacturers, and property owners, and will be aimed at preventing the flight of industry from the area.

Hecht said too much territory in the area is zoned for commercial use at present. The program calls for cooperation with city authorities and the Chicago Plan commission in the drawing of new zoning regulations. Improvement in police, fire and sanitary conditions, the development of arterial highways and subway extensions, and encouragement of new stores and privately financed housing projects also are to be sponsored.

The area involved is bounded by the Chicago river on the east, Rockwell street on the west, and extends from 400 north to 1600 south.

WPA ANNOUNCES REDUCED QUOTAS FOR NEXT MONTH

State Rolls to Be Cut to 140,000.

Charles E. Miner, Work Projects administration director for Illinois, last night drew up new district quotas of WPA workers for May in accordance with a drastic reduction ordered Thursday by Col. F. C. Harrington, national WPA administrator. The cut is the result of a slash in congressional appropriations.

In the forthcoming month 29,175 WPAers will be dropped from the state rolls, according to Miner. At present, there are 169,175 persons on work relief in the entire state, with about 72,873 of these in Cook county, which composes District 3. By the beginning of June the state quota will stand at about 140,000, with 68,792 in Cook county.

	Present figure.	New quota.	Reduction.
District 1	15,295	12,401	2,894
District 4	19,135	14,578	4,557
District 5	39,192	27,240	11,952

The greater number to be dropped in the last district, which comprises rural downstate counties, are expected to be absorbed in farm work during the summer months, Miner said.

ENGINEER SLOW IN BRAKING, SAYS WRECK WITNESS

Little Falls, N. Y., April 26 (AP).—A coroner's inquest into the New York Central's Lake Shore Limited wreck brought testimony today that the engineer "hesitated" in applying brakes at a sharp curve, where the train hurtled the rails. The wreck took 31 lives.

The account of what took place in the cab of the locomotive was given by Andrew Bayreuther, 52 years old, the sole survivor of three trainmen riding the engine last Friday night when the wreck occurred.

Bayreuther, in a critical condition, said Engineer Jesse Earl "might have been a little slow."

"Something did not seem right," he said. "He hesitated and did not make as quick a reduction of speed as he should."

ORGANIZE BROAD FIGHT ON HEAVY REALTY TAXES

Strict Government Economy Demanded

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 26.—Warning that confiscation by tax threatens democracy, the first national real estate tax conference went on record today as advocating strict economy in government and a ceiling on taxes levied against real estate.

At its closing session the conference adopted unanimously the resolutions expressing the results of its two day meeting and formed a permanent organization, to be known as the National Conference of Real Estate Taxpayers. More than 200 tax experts, educators, government officials, and real estate owners attended the conference at the Mayflower hotel.

Tax Declared Vicious.

Declaring that the general property tax "is as outmoded as the powdered wigs and the quill pens of the men who designed it," the conference resolved that:

"The general property tax, as administered in America today, and particularly as it is applied to homes, farms, and general real estate, is a vicious, demoralizing agency, the operation and enforcement of which is undermining the stability of the basic commodity which is the foundation of the prosperity and well being of the individual states and the nation.

"We petition the governors and the legislative bodies of every state in the union to seriously consider the effect of the present administration of the property tax upon the individual ownership of homes, farms, and general real estate, as presented in the foreclosed real estate now owned by the financial and lending institutions of this country, and to recognize the need for a drastic change in the operation of the property tax system, in order to encourage, extend, and protect the private ownership of property and the great institutions of home ownership and farm ownership."

List of Recommendations.

The conference recommended that the following steps be taken to relieve property ownership from confiscatory taxation which retards economic recovery:

1. Place a constitutional or binding statutory limitation on the aggregate of all taxes which may be levied against real estate by all taxing units.

2. Make a vigorous, continuous effort to bring about economy in local, state, and national government expenditures and discourage the efforts of minority groups "to serve their selfish interests at the public expense."

3. Relieve real estate from the primary responsibility of financing education, whose support should be drawn from a broader tax base.

4. All real estate taxpayers should carefully scrutinize the assessing processes within their jurisdiction; prevent and correct inequitable valuations.

Related to Income.

5. Property taxes should be related directly to property income, with proper limitation.

6. No form of wealth or income should be exempt from paying its proportionate share of the costs of government; revenue producing properties built by federal or local authority, which compete with privately owned properties, should get no exemption from taxation.

7. There should be a central expenditure control agency in each state with authority to review and reduce tax levies proposed by agencies within the state, and review and veto proposed bond issues.

8. "The fallacy of the common impression that the federal government does not tax real estate is recognized" and congress is petitioned to [A] exempt capital gains and losses on real estate from federal revenue act because of difficulty in ascertaining such gains or losses, and [B] amend the federal inheritance tax laws to permit not less than 10 years for liquidation of estate properties to conserve their value.

Studies Are Requested.

9. Congress is petitioned to name a commission on taxation and land policies of the United States to study and report on the effects of pyramided and overlapped taxes on property ownership, the causes and effects of decentralization of cities, and "the present mass of legislation, reports, regulations, customs, and administrative devices" and see if they conform with democratic, economic, and social concepts.

10. Establish a continuing and permanent organization open to memberships by individuals and organizations who subscribe to the above principles.

Field's New Chicago Heights Store to Be Opened May 4

The new two story Rau store, owned by Marshall Field & Co., will be opened to the public Saturday, May 4, in Chicago Heights, replacing the structure destroyed by fire Nov. 18, 1939, Sidney W. Bloom, general manager, reported yesterday. Fixtures for each section were designed especially for the merchandise in those particular sections. The entire personnel of the store last November, with two exceptions, will return, Bloom said.

Congress Gets a Compromise I.C.C. Measure

Senator Wheeler.

Washington, D. C., April 26 (AP).—A joint house-senate committee submitted to congress today compromise legislation subjecting domestic water carriers to regulation by the Interstate Commerce commission.

Chairman Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] of the senate interstate commerce committee said that he believed the bill would "lay a firm foundation on which to build a sound and permanent transportation policy."

"Such a policy," he asserted, "designed to accomplish a healthy transportation system by land and by water, is one of the vital needs of the day."

Ends Government Rate Cuts.

As reported by the joint committee the bill would abolish reduced rates on government traffic, other than military or naval personnel or property, carried by railroads which have received land grants.

It also provides for a three member board of investigation and research to determine the type of service for which each type of transportation is best fitted.

The measure exempts from regulation those water carriers engaged in transportation of commodities in bulk, including liquid cargo in tank vessels not in competition with land transportation. It also gives the I. C. C. authority to exempt water transportation not in substantial competition with other carriers.

Exempts Intrastate Trucks.

"Thruout the bill," Wheeler said, "there are provisions which require that the inherent advantages of each mode of transportation be preserved, thus making it impossible to regulate one form of transportation solely for the benefit of another."

The measure also would modify or repeal some provisions of the present interstate commerce act.

Motor carriers which operate solely within a state would be exempted from regulation, provided the I. C. C. found they did not affect uniform interstate regulation.

The power of the I. C. C. to establish thru routes over short line railroads would be modified to permit the commission to require such routes under specified restrictions.

Wheeler announced that the question of regulating freight forwarding companies would be considered in separate legislation and that a senate subcommittee would begin hearings on the legislation May 24.

NEBRASKA POWER PURCHASE PLANS HIT BY DECISION

Omaha, Neb., April 26 [Special].—Plans for purchase of all private power companies in Nebraska by the state's three big federally financed hydroelectric projects received a setback today from the state Supreme court.

The court declared void a proposed contract by which the city of Columbus could have acquired the local distribution system of the Northwestern Public Service company fom the Consumers Public Power district. The latter acquired Northwestern properties for $1,259,000 under a lease-purchase agreement.

Terms call for the company to be paid in instalments but the district wanted to issue bonds for outright purchase, to save interest and carrying charges. In order to preserve security of the bonds, the district had contracted with the city that in event of municipal acquisition of the local distribution system at any time before the bonds were retired, the city would pay its proportionate share. This contract was declared invalid.

LAUN SENTENCED IN SEC FIGHT ON UNION ELECTRIC

St. Louis, Mo., April 26 (AP).—Albert C. Laun, former vice president and lobbyist of the Union Electric company of Missouri, pleaded no contest in federal court today to three counts of perjury in testimony given before the Securities and Exchange commission examiners investigating busness practices of the company.

Federal Judge Charles B. Davis immediately sentenced him to one year and a day on each count, the sentences to run concurrently, and fined him $1,500 on each count, or $4,500.

Both Laun and Frank J. Boehm, former executive vice president, resigned as a result of disclosures in connection with the SEC investigation. The jury alleged Boehm testified falsely concerning the accumulation of large sums of cash for what was declared to be a "slush fund" used for political purposes.

DRILL ANEW ON SITE OF FIRST OIL WELL IN CENTRALIA FIELD

Centralia, Ill., April 26 (AP).—The Fyke farm north of this city, on which the first oil well was completed in this area 30 years ago, was the scene of new oil exploration today.

R. Paul Jones, an independent operator, erected a wooden derrick—now a rarity but the same type that was used in the early exploration—to drill a well to the Devonian line. Steel derricks now are generally used. The 1910 production was obtained at a depth of 600 feet, but the new venture will explore at the depth of about 3,000 feet.

Price for Soft Coal by Lakes Is Cut 50 Cents

Howard A. Gray.

Prices of bituminous coal transported to Chicago by lake vessels were cut 50 cents a ton yesterday with the notification by Howard A. Gray, director of the bituminous coal division of the department of the interior, that Chicago has been placed in the same market area as other lake ports.

Gray telegraphed word of the change to James C. Hoskins, Chicago coal operator, who had filed a protest with the division, charging that the schedule of soft coal prices as recommended by examiners on April 13 discriminated against the Chicago area. The ruling will save city consumers more than a million dollars a year, Hoskins estimated.

Protests Barge Differential.

Hoskins, president of the Hoskins Coal and Dock corporation, had protested against prices proposed for the Chicago area, which extends from Indiana Harbor to Highland Park, that were 50 cents a ton higher than those suggested for the district north of Highland Park.

Chicago's annual coal bill is still expected to be increased several million dollars, however, as a result of the minimum prices established in the schedule. The prices are estimated by coal merchants to average about 30 cents a ton increase over present prices.

Hoskins has still another protest filed with the bituminous division. In that he charges that the 50 cents a ton higher cost for coal transported by river barges compared with that carried by rail is discriminatory and that it nullifies the advantages of transportation by the Illinois waterway.

Gray to Announce Rules.

As an example, he said that the mine price was $2 a ton for coal shipped from Fulton county, Illinois, to Chicago by river barge. The price at the mine for coal to be transported by rail is $1.50, he added.

The proposed minimum price schedule was issued after two years of public hearings and investigations. After study of the examiners' recommendations and consideration of protests, Director Gray will establish minimum prices and marketing rules and announce the date for them to become effective.

Gray's final orders are subject to the approval of the secretary of the interior, but will have full legal effect unless altered by the secretary.

PLAN GIANT NEW AIRPLANES FOR TRANSPORT USE

Tulsa, Okla., April 26.—Construction of 100 passenger transport planes for both domestic and transoceanic use awaits only the public's demand for expanded air liner facilities, the annual Southwest Aviation conference was told today.

Designs already are on the drafting boards, it was said. One military plane, to be flown next September off the field of the Douglas Aircraft factory at Santa Monica, Cal., can be converted into an 80 ton land plane for nonstop coast to coast service or 12 hour service to Europe.

Marshall Field Preferred Stock Price Set at $104

A registration amendment filed with the Securities and Exchange commission yesterday disclosed that the proposed offering of 30,000 shares of 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock, second series, of Marshall Field & Co. will be made at $104 a share, plus accrued dividends from March 31. The stock will be offered thru underwriters by four members of the Field family.

CAA Examiner Favors Nashville-St. Louis Route

3 CHICAGOANS SUING MORGAN BANK GROUP FOR NOTE ACCOUNTING

New York, April 26 (AP).—Suit for an accounting, for damages, and for appointment of a trustee or receiver for the benefit of former holders of 6 per cent gold notes of the Van Sweringen corporation was started in federal court today against J. P. Morgan, Henry P. Davison, Thomas W. Lamont, and George Whitney, co-partners of J. P. Morgan & Co., and the Guaranty Trust company.

The complaint alleges that the defendants "secretly agreed on an offer, allegedly made in 1931, to holders of the $30,000,000 bond issue, which was marketed by the defendants May 1, 1930, and which was to mature on May 1, 1935. The agreement, the complaint alleges, resulted in "personal benefits" to the defendants.

The plaintiffs, Elias Hackner, C. J. Bowman, and Lees Ballinger of Chicago, who together owned $7,500 of the notes, said they and about 1,000 other holders accepted the offer and exchanged some $3,766,000 of the bonds with the Van Sweringen corporation for half cash and half stock of the Van Sweringen corporation. This stock, the complaint alleges, is worthless and was known to be worthless when the offer was made.

The three Chicago plaintiffs in the accounting suit against New York brokers could not be reached last night for comment. A member of the firm of Shulman, Shulman & Abrams which filed the suit, identified Elias Hackner, one of the plaintiffs, as a retired business man. The attorney said he could not identify the others without consulting the firm's file on the case.

CHICAGO RESERVE DISTRICT STORES' SALES RISE 12.9%

Favorable weather stimulated spring buying during the week ended April 20 and department store sales increased 12.9 per cent over the corresponding period a year ago in the seventh federal reserve district the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago reported yesterday.

Increased pay rolls and employment in the automobile industry presumably accounted for the outstanding rise of 26.4 per cent in sales of Detroit department stores. Chicago department store sales gained 13.1 per cent, the second largest increase in the district.

Milwaukee, which led other cities in sales in the preceding week, showed a loss of 11.8 per cent. The decline was attributed to the lack of special promotions by the stores.

The national volume increased 7 per cent.

EXPORT BANK'S EFFORTS TURN TO AMERICAS

French Lick, Ind., April 26 (AP).—The European war and disturbed political conditions in the far east have caused the Federal Export-Import bank to study the possibilities of developing closer commercial relations with other American republics, Warren Lee Pierson of Washington, president of the bank, told the Bankers' Association for Foreign Trade today.

Since last February when congress increased the bank's lending authority from 100 million to 200 million dollars its commitments have more than doubled, Pierson said. Commitments as of April 15 aggregated $380,567,000, he said. Actual disbursements have exceeded $140,200,000. Repayments total $55,992,733. Active commitments total $215,797,690.96, he said.

Detroit, Mich., April 26 [Special].—Homer Martin, stormy petrel of the labor movement in the automotive industry, resigned today as president of the United Automobile Workers, American Federation of Labor branch. In a letter to the international executive board of the union, Martin said that he was returning to private business.

Sales are continuing at high levels, it is indicated in reports by the various General Motors divisions covering sales in the second 10-day period of April.

Chicago to Get New Paper Box Making Plant

BY AL CHASE.

A new industry, with an initial labor roll of 500 employés, was announced yesterday for the west side. John O. Gilbert and a group of New Yorkers are having plans drawn by David Saul Flafter, Inc., for a plant for the manufacture of cardboard and paper boxes. It will be built on a site 250 by 472 on the west side of Laramie avenue, half a block south of Grand avenue, extending south to the right of way of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad.

Description of Building.

The one story and part basement building, work on which is scheduled to start about the middle of May, will front 175 feet on Laramie avenue. It will have 40,000 square feet on the main floor and 15,000 square feet in the basement. It will be of reinforced concrete construction, designed to carry two additional stories.

Part of the first floor, occupied by administration offices, will be air conditioned. Additional space to be occupied by the company's printing plant, also will be air conditioned.

Total Cost $260,000.

According to the architect the building and land will cost $185,000 and the equipment $75,000, or a total of $260,000.

Construction will be completed in early fall with installation of machinery expected to be finished by the start of next year. At that time the plant will begin operation on a 24 hour daily schedule, it was said.

The name of the concern has not yet been determined. Incorporation is now being completed at Springfield. Gilbert, who will be president of the corporation, is a former Chicago real esate operator who lives in Los Angeles.

INVESTING FIRMS OFFER OWN BILL FOR REGULATION

Washington, D. C., April 26 (AP).—Representatives of 25 major investment trusts submitted to a senate banking subcommittee today joint recommendations for federal regulation of their business. They were presented by Arthur H. Bunker of New York, executive vice president of the Lehman corporation.

Bunker expressed the opinion that the group's suggestions would "take care of all the abuses" discussed during the four weeks hearings on an SEC sponsored trust regulation bill.

"Specifically," Bunker said, "these provisions cover the subjects of independent directors; overnight changes in management, dumping of securities, by interested parties, and self-dealing; changes of fundamental policies which are to be prohibited without stockholders' approval; abuses in the distribution of investment company securities, including dilution of the equity of existing stockholders; full publicity and disclosure to stockholders in periodic reports, proper advices as to source of dividends, proxy control, the establishment of accounting standards, and provisions for complete audits."

JOB INCREASE BELOW NORMAL DURING MONTH

Washington, D. C., April 26 (AP).—Secretary Perkins said today that private employment increased less than usual from February to March, but that the total of persons at work was nearly 1,000,000 larger than a year ago.

The labor secretary said that the increase from mid-February to mid-March was 165,000 compared with a usual increase of 200,000 to 250,000. She attributed this to the laying off of an additional 55,000 wage earners in manufacturing in which, however, pay rolls as a whole increased 0.2 per cent despite the job decline.

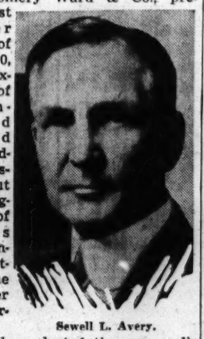
PREDICT WARD NETS 5 MILLION IN 1ST QUARTER

Avery Is President and Chairman.

Sewell L. Avery, board chairman of Montgomery Ward & Co., predicted first quarter profit of $5,000,000, outlined expansion of the company, and parried stockholders' questions about recent resignations of executives at the annual meeting of the mail order firm yesterday.



Sewell L. Avery.

Stockholders elected three new directors to the board, and the board subsequently reëlected Avery chairman and elected him president—a post he had previously held from 1931 to 1938. The presidency had been left vacant by the resignation, without explanation, of Raymond H. Fogler on Tuesday, the third withdrawal among high executives in four months.

Net Profit Larger.

Net profit of the quarter-billion dollar enterprise, second largest mail order house in the world, totaled $2,366,000 in February and March [the company's fiscal year ends Jan. 31], Avery told stockholders. Profit was $1,961,000 in the same months of 1939. April net profit will swell the total to about $5,000,000, Avery said.

Questions concerning the recent resignations of executives were raised by Boyd Everett, secretary of the Continental Casualty company, who attended the meeting as a stockholders' representative. He said:

"The 'disappearance' of three executives in a short space of time naturally raises a question in the minds of the stockholders. Can you tell us why?"

Reports No Unpleasantness.

"Each of the three had been with the company for many years," Avery replied. "Their leaving was anticipated and there was no unpleasantness or quarrels."

In response to the direct question, "Did they have a difference of opinion with the management?", Avery answered:

"There was no difference of opinion. The changes were made in the company's interest." He said the resignations of Frank M. Folsom, vice president, in December, and of George Vaught, treasurer, in February, "had been in the ordinary course of events."

The resignation of Fogler was a "regrettable thing," he said, but the "reasons will be plain when his plans reach the point where his own judgment lets him explain."

Later, in an informal talk and in response to another question about the resignations, Avery said that when he first joined the organization he had formed definite ideas regarding its operation.

Feared to Leave Old Methods.

"Some of those ideas were advanced," Avery said, "and naturally there have been those who feared to leave the old methods."

It was believed the statement explained any disagreement between the chairman and the executives who resigned, altho Avery repeated there had been no difference of opinion.

The new directors are Harold L. Pearson, vice president and treasurer; Louis C. Lustenberger, vice president in charge of personnel, and Eugene R. Wimmer, vice president in charge of retail operations. The names of Folger and Stuart S. Ball, secretary of the company, were withdrawn from the voting at their request. Avery said Ball would continue as secretary.

He said that payment of increased dividends was up to the directors and that he believed stockholders would eventually receive a larger percentage of the profits.

Will Sell More Stock.

The sale of additional stock to present holders at $40 a share will take place as soon as the plan is approved by the Securities and Exchange commission, Avery said. The money realized from the sale will be used to finance the company's expansion.

The directors declared a dividend of 50 cents a share on the common stock, payable July 15 to stockholders of record June 14, and a regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 a share on class A stock, payable July 1 to stockholders of record June 14.

Chicago Firms Show Quarter Profit Gains

Several Chicago companies yesterday reported increased earnings for the quarter or 12 months ended March 12.

Borg-Warner corporation announced consolidated net income of $1,776,240, equal to 76 cents a share, for the March quarter, against $1,154,705, or 50 cents a share, in the first three months of last year. The company is a large maker of automobile specialty parts and household equipment.

Spiegel, Inc., Chicago mail order house, reported larger profits for the March quarter than a year ago but a decline for the 12 months ended March 31. Net income for the quarter was $354,063, or 19 cents a share, compared with $325,763, or 16 cents a share, in the 1939 period.

Cup Maker Has Gain.

Twelve month net income of Spiegel dipped to $1,779,392, or $1.04 a share, from $2,270,648, or $1.42 a share in the preceding 12 months.

Dixie-Vortex company, Chicago, largest domestic producer of paper cups, reported an increase in its profit to $858,385, or $2.03 a share, in the 12 months ended March 31, from $719,548, or $1.34 a share, in the preceding 12 months.

Belden Manufacturing company, Chicago maker of electrical wires, cables and cordage, had smaller profit in the March quarter than a year earlier. It earned $100,178, equal to 41 cents a share, compared with $118,972, or 49 cents a share in 1939.

LIGHT AIRPLANE DIESEL MOTOR BUILT IN HARVEY

Given Tests Before Army Officers.

Out of an engine factory at Harvey, Ill., has come what engineers have long termed an impossibility—a lightweight diesel airplane motor, it was announced here yesterday.

A plane powered with the Diesel motor was operated in test flights Thursday before high military officials in Washington, D. C. It operates on fuel oil costing about 6 cents a gallon and has a 50 per cent greater cruising range than any gasoline motor, according to R. K. Mangan, vice president of the Buda company, Harvey, which produces the motor.

After viewing the plane's performance, Mangan said, Secretary of War Harry Woodring requested details on a similar engine that might be adapted to bombers and pursuit planes. The motor approaches gasoline engines in power output per pound, according to Mangan. The nearest achievement to this in the diesel line has been the somewhat heavier motor developed by the Germans for use in their long range bombers, he said.

Start Production Soon.

The new airplane engine has parts that are 90 per cent interchangeable with similar engines capable of operating tanks and other ground equipment, Mangan said. Production of the new unit is scheduled to start within 60 days, he added, and it will be available for commercial use.

The safety factor of the diesel, according to Buda company engineers, is "immeasurably" greater than the gasoline engine because the fuel is nonexplosive except under high compression and great heat.

Developed by the Guiberson Diesel Engine company of Dallas, Tex., the engine is 310 horsepower, 9 cylinder, of an air cooled radial type and weighs only 653 pounds. The Buda company is licensed to produce the engines under the Guiberson patents.

Officials of the company were modest in their predictions of the effect of the motor on aviation, but it was remarked that manufacture of the engine in the Chicago area may go far to make this the outstanding aviation center in the United States.

Inventor Is Millionaire.

S. A. Guiberson Jr., 66 year old millionaire of Dallas, after whom the motor is named, is the inventor and developer of the new engine. He was described as a "natural born mechanic whose hobby for 15 years has been developing diesels."

Actively associated with him is his son, Allen, 35, vice president of the Guiberson company, who flew the plane from Dallas to Washington, D. C. The motor was produced in the Buda factory and shipped to Dallas for installation in the test plane.

The army has already ordered 109 of the engines for installation in tanks before August and they are now under construction in the recently enlarged Buda plant. The Buda company is a leading manufacturer of Diesel engines for oil fields, trucks, and marine use.

Diesel engines are built on the basic principle of combustion of fuel under tremendous compression. This necessitated heavy cylinder walls of — for airplane use — prohibitive weight, according to Mangan.

Unit Cost Is High.

It remained for Guiberson, who spent $1,500,000 in the work, to develop the Diesel to its present lightweight point thru a compressorless combustion system, his associates said.

None of the men associated with the motor have made any claims that it will supersede the gasoline engine at an early date. One reason, they said, is that it costs approximately five times as much as a gasoline motor of equal power.

The new motor is the only Diesel engine in the country with an "approved type certificate" issued by the Civil Aeronautics authority, Mangan said. The certificate, granted Thursday, specifies that the motor has met CAA requirements and may be produced in quantities.

At great altitude, it was said, the Diesel will retain 75 per cent of its horsepower, as compared to only 50 per cent in gasoline motors. A test with the Diesel engine, according to Mangan, showed that it could lift a plane 21,000 feet while the same plane had a ceiling of 17,000 feet with gasoline.

Mangan said the engine accelerates more rapidly than a gas driven motor and will retain its cruising speed better at high altitudes. Cruising speeds at lesser altitudes are about the same, he said.

New York Stocks.

New York, April 26 (AP).—Uneasiness over possible European war happenings brought further selling into the stock market today and leading issues lost fractions to 2 points. Final prices were around the lows of the day. Sales were 854,240 shares.

Late reports of important pronouncements to be made tomorrow in Berlin and Rome accentuated market nervousness and halted rallying attempts. Traders are construing developments adverse to the empires as bearish, in view of present and prospective purchasing in the United States.

Prominent losers included United States Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, International Harvester, United States Rubber, Anaconda, Santa Fe, Great Northern, Air Reduction, Union Carbide, Montgomery Ward, and Safeway Stores.

A few favorites managed to make modest advances. Among these were Baldwin Locomotive, Rayonier, International Paper preferred, Johns-Manville, and American Telephone.

Motors were no worse than other groups, altho this week's automotive production slackened a little. Some rail equipments moved ahead on word some of these companies might turn their machinery to producing war materials.

Rails were unresponsive to increased March net operating incomes from early reporting roads. Aircrafts again ignored the latest heavy allied purchase contracts for new planes. Merchandising shares were soft.

New York Bonds.

New York, April 26 (AP).—Rail loans ran into profit taking today and lost fractions to a point or more. Elsewhere in the bond mark price changes were narrowly uneven.

The lower-priced group bore the brunt of selling. Declines were shown by Nickel Plate 4½s at 55⅝, Baltimore and Ohio stamped convertibles at 12¼, Southern railway 4s at 57, and Delaware and Hudson refunding 4s at 56.

Union Pacific liens were active following reports the road was considering refunding its 4s and 5s. The 1st 5s plunged 4⅝ to 109⅝, near the redemption price, but the 3½s of 1971 added 1¼ at 99¼ and the 3½s of 1970 gained ⅝ at 98⅝.

Japanese issues advanced vigorously. Most European bonds showed little change. United States government loans were 9-32d higher to 9-32d lower.

Electric Household, one of the volume leaders, established a new 1940 high, closing at 4⅜, up ⅛. Northern Paper Mills also set a record for the year at 14, but fell back to close at 11½, up ½.

Bank Stocks.

Harris Trust and Northern Trust shares both advanced a point yesterday. Continental Illinois dipped a point. Other leading issues were unchanged.

MORE COMPANIES DISCLOSE 1940 BUSINESS GAINS

Pump Engineering Service Reports Output Rise.

Reports of company officials to stockholders at annual meetings yesterday disclosed further business gains in 1940.

April output of the Pump Engineering Service corporation, subsidiary acquired by Borg-Warner last year, has about doubled that of last April, C. S. Davis, president, said in the Congress hotel meeting. The subsidiary manufactures pumps and other accessories for airplanes.

There has been "tremendous acceleration" in the aviation industry recently, Davis said. The company, however, is cautious on plant expansion because the present frantic demand for airplanes will subside, he explained.

Reelect All Officers.

Stockholders reelected all directors. During the board meeting the directors renamed all officers and declared a dividend of 25 cents, payable July 1 to stock of record June 18.

Total sales in the first quarter of 1940 were 51 per cent above those in the same 1939 period, stockholders of the Allegheny Ludlum Steel corporation were told in Pittsburgh. For the first time this year H. G. Batcheller, president, reported, the company is booking orders at a volume larger than current shipments.

Expects Larger Earnings.

H. H. Doehler, chairman of the Doehler Die Casting company, Toledo, O., said that the company seemed assured of a good second quarter business and that earnings for the first half year probably would double those of the like 1939 period. Current operations are almost at capacity.

Columbia Gas and Electric corporation, Wilmington, Del., has its biggest first quarter business in eight years, Edward Reynolds, president, said at the annual meeting.

Operations so far this year indicate that 1940 will be even with 1939, R. R. Williams, president of the S. S. Kresge company, said.

JOHNSON SAYS RAILS WILL NEED NO FEDERAL RULE IN CASE OF WAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 26.—In the event of war, there will be neither government ownership nor government operation of the railroads, Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson declared today.

Secretary Johnson.

He said that the nation's whole industrial mobilization program will be carried out "in the established American way of getting things done." Johnson asserted that the railroads "have proven their ability and their capacity." He said they are now better prepared to meet a military emergency than they were in 1917, when the government took over the carriers for wartime service.

The government is satisfied, he said, that the railroads under private management "are always in a state of national defense." Johnson spoke at the dedication in Union station here of a bronze tablet commemorating the services of the railroad war board of 1917. Government officials, army and navy officers, business and agricultural leaders, and railroad executives attended the ceremony.

More than 60 per cent of the total was for new money, but municipal issues accounted for more than half. Private corporate issues were small and mostly for refunding existing debts. Comparisons follow:

Total Is Above Billion; Imports Increase.

American exports, stimulated by the war, increased 51 per cent during the first quarter of 1940 compared with those of a year earlier, the United States department of commerce reported yesterday. Total value was listed at $1,068,773,000 against $699,408,000 in 1939.

Largest gains were recorded for airplanes, iron and steel products, other manufactured goods, nonferrous metals, lubricants, metal-working machinery, motor trucks, tractors, and chemicals.

Imports Rise 23 Per Cent.

Imports rose 23 per cent for the three months to $658,424,000 from $526,798,000 in 1939.

Norway received nearly a million and a half dollars worth of war supplies from this country in the first quarter, but when the German invasion came this month, the war purchases had dwindled to a trickle.

WHEAT FUTURES DROP 2 CENTS ON WAVE OF SELLING

Heavy liquidation by holders of wheat futures yesterday forced prices on the Chicago Board of Trade down 1½ to 2¼ cents from Thursday's close. Final trades were at the bottom. Houses with northwestern connections sold heavily, regarded as hedging against farmers' sales of loan grain. Some stop loss orders were uncovered. May wheat at the last sold at $1.07½, or 5½ cents under the high established Monday. Corn declined ⅞ to ⅝ cent in sympathy with wheat.

A decline of 4⅝ to 5⅞ cents in rye at Winnipeg had considerable effect on American wheat markets, as the break in the Canadian market was accompanied by vague rumors of unfavorable developments in Europe.

Winnipeg May rye closed about 7 cents under the same future in Minneapolis after allowing for the discount of the Canadian dollar. Rye futures in Chicago were 2 to 2¼ cents lower.

Competition of Canadian oats with domestic grain in New England is having a depressing effect on prices on the Chicago Board of Trade, brokers reported. Futures declined 1⅛ to 1 cent with May leading.

SEEK TO EDUCATE PUBLIC ON DUTIES OF ACCOUNTANTS

All Day 'Clinic' Held by Illinois Group.

Certified public accountants yesterday devoted an entire day's meeting at the Palmer House to convince the investing public that the former have no supernatural powers of X-ray vision and lie detection. The independent public accountant who certifies a corporation's annual report is human and has limitations like other mortals, the accountants said.

The heart to heart talk between the accounting profession and the public occurred at the clinic on annual reports conducted by the Illinois Society of Certified Public Accountants and the Vawter Foundation of the Northwestern university school of commerce.

Effort to Educate Public.

The "clinic" was part of the accounting profession's current program to educate the public as to the function and responsibilities of the certified public accountant. The effort to dissipate misconceptions about the profession was initiated after discovery of the frauds of the late F. Donald Coster-Musica, president of McKesson & Robbins, Inc., in December, 1938.

The Coster-Musica fraud resulted in public criticism of accountants, revealing the public's belief that the accountants should have uncovered the malfeasance of the drug company's executive.

Speaking for the accounting profession, J. M. Bowlby, resident partner of Barrow, Wade, Guthrie & Co., certified public accountants, indicated that cleverly concealed frauds may escape the most honest and careful accountant.

Declares Significance Exaggerated.

"It has come to be well recognized by self-appointed and duly constituted guardians of the investing public that the significance imputed to financial statements has been exaggerated," he said. "The management is primarily responsible for representations of its financial condition and results of operations."

Bowlby said that the function of the independent auditor is to make an objective review of the company's affairs and give an impartial opinion as to whether the management's representations fairly and adequately disclose the actual conditions.

"The overemphasis on the importance of the accountant's report," he asserted, "is unfair both to the accountant and to the public. It tends to create the impression that the accountant's report will tell the investor all that he needs to know in forming a judgment as to the worth of an investment."

The financial statement provides much information that still needs interpretation and the study of an investment analyst, he said.

General List.

NEAR NORTH SIDE

In summer, it's great to get away for week-ends, but when you come back on Monday it helps to know that you have a studio apartment with a porch or balcony overlooking a fountain in the court yard below, or a roof to climb up to where you can still be out in the fresh air. The living room in one of our apts. is 2 stories high, and another 4 room apt. has a living room 27 ft. long, windows at both ends, and a skylight. It's a marvelous room with its fireplace and dining nook, and just outside a little sunny porch and a bit of a roof. All of these are down here where there are so many interesting things you can enjoy and still have a good address, because they are all just a short walk up Michigan-av. from the loop. We have also some wonderful places for groups of 3 and 4; some are furnished. A special bargain on a 5 room with a beautiful living room and large combination bed and dressing room. Also a little 3 room, bath home, furnished or unfurnished; special bargain for the summer.

General List.

NEAR NORTH SIDE

In summer, it's great to get away for week-ends, but when you come back on Monday it helps to know that you have a studio apartment with a porch or balcony overlooking a fountain in the court yard below, or a roof to climb up to where you can still be out in the fresh air. The living room in one of our apts. is 2 stories high, and another 4 room apt. has a living room 37 ft. long, windows at both ends, and a skylight. It's a marvelous room with its fireplace and dining nook, and just outside a little sunny porch and a bit of a roof. All of these are down here where there are so many interesting things you can enjoy and still have a good night's sleep, because they are all just a short walk up Michigan-av. from the loop. We have also some wonderful places for groups of 3 and 4; some are furnished. A special bargain on a 5 room with a beautiful living room and large combination bed and dressing room. Also a little 3 room house, furnished or unfurnished; special bargain for the summer. COOK ESTATE.
